Fichtner's Auto Rolls Down Side Of Soda Mountain

Not only did Carl Fichtner, 613 South Holly street, return from his hunting trip last Sunday without a deer, he also returned minus the family auto, which was left behind 600 feet down a mountain-side. While breaking camp with his hunting party on Soda mountain, in the Green Springs area, Fichtner's car began rolling. It went down the mountain and out of sight, missing tall trees and rocks all the way. After the noise had subsided, Fichtner gathered courage to follow the car tracks down the mountain-side, expecting to find a heap of mangled car parts, and was filled with surprise and relief to find the vehicle still upright and in running condition. The party returned to Medford in a second car and Fichtner went back to Soda mountain the next day with a wrecker and a 400-foot tow chain, driving back home full of thankfulness and only a bit perturbed over the few scratches and dents on the car.

LOCAL ALDERMAN CLAIMS BACKING FOR ALUM. PLANTS

Don Campbell On Inspection Tour Gives No Names Or Details

Portland, Ore., Oct. 6—(U.P.)—Donald Campbell, Medford city councilman, told reporters here today that he is inspecting western aluminum plants declared as surplus property by the government, representing eastern bankers interested in acquiring the plants and continuing production on an expanded basis.

Campbell said he was not at liberty to divulge the names of his backers but that they were interested in projects valued in excess of $200,000,000. The group, yet to be incorporated, is also interested in acquiring a western shipyard, he said. The name of the proposed corporation whose temporary headquarters is in Medford will be Campbell Steel and Aluminum corporation and will have a proposed capital of $300,000,000. Campbell will become president. The corporation will be formed under the laws of the state of Delaware, he said.

The corporation president-to-be was reluctant to give the press specific details about the future of the corporation or its backers other than the aluminum plants, once purchased, would begin work at once and all workers would go back to their present jobs. He also said the group was contemplating a combination of steel and aluminum construction. He hinted further at a marine device which he said he had tried to persuade the maritime commission to accept and which would be developed by his company.

City council members and others who might be in a position to know of Mr. Campbell's plans, said Saturday they had no knowledge of his connection with the large industrial program he is said to have divulged in Portland.
