

SOUTHERN OREGON COMMUNITY UNITY HELD CHIEF NEED FOR HOSPITALIZED WOMEN WILL SEW ALL DAY TUESDAY

Urging that Southern Oregon communities cooperate more closely in solving their mutual problems, T. O. Toon, president of the Coast Fuel company, Coos Bay, at a meeting of the Jackson county Chamber of Commerce board Friday noon, Toon declared that this part of the state is due for a great increase in population and much development, adding that since servicemen and their families stationed in various parts of southern Oregon found "we have the most delightful part of the country in which to live" many are returning to make their homes here.

Discussing the housing shortage, which he said prevails in all communities of southern Oregon, Toon said a program to provide low-cost housing units should be developed since that constitutes one of the main problems of industrial development in this district.

Toon described the operations of his company which is now mining coal in the Coos Bay district with all electrically operated machinery. The firm is now shipping sub-bituminous coal which is "beneficiated" through the electrical process. Toon said, shipments running about three carloads, plus 50 to 75 truckloads, per day.

If a low freight rate can be obtained, Toon said, all of Oregon would be benefited by lower fuel costs. He said the coal compares favorably with that shipped in from other western and some eastern states and is now being used at Camp White and for other government contracts in Oregon.

COUNTY 4H'ERS WIN AT PI SHOW

Don Nichols, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Nichols, of Ashland, was rated grand champion in sheep showmanship over 86 other contestants at the Pacific International Livestock show in Portland last week, according to telegraphic reports received by Earle Jossy, Jackson county 4-H club agent.

Nichols was champion in showmanship at the recent Jackson county 4-H Livestock show. His fat lamb also won the grand championship at the Pacific International. His purebred Hereford steer won 18th in a class of 40.

Lois Fields, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Fields of Central Point, placed fifth in a class of 70 in Hereford showmanship and her steer placed 17th in a class of 39, according to the message to Jossy. Lois was also a high scorer in the 4-H fair here.

Baptist Group To Conduct Services

Combined Young Peoples groups of the First Baptist church have charge of the evening service today. Theme of the service is "Launch Out Into the Deep," taken from Luke 5.

There will be several choir numbers, a ladies' trio, a men's quartet, and other special numbers as well as several sermons based on the theme. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

A Detroit restaurant man, plagued by the rapid turnover of dishwashers solved his problem by giving each dishwasher a package of cigarettes a day. He hasn't lost an employee since.

Closing time for Classified Ads 8:30 a. m.—Too Late to Classify 12:13 p. m.

Red Cross will open a downtown sewing room in the court house auditorium Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 9 a. m. Machines in good repair have been collected for use of volunteer production workers who are urged to drop in at any hour Tuesday to cut and sew the hundreds of hospital garments needed by wounded servicemen.

Mrs. Bill Young will be supervisor of sewing and Mrs. Virginia Ranskill will supervise cutting garments.

Mrs. Belle Schenck, production chairman, states that women need not belong to a Red Cross group to participate; all are invited. If they desire they may bring sandwiches and stay all day—coffee will be provided.

For several months the Daughters of the Nile have been sewing and cutting on Wednesday. This week they will work up to 2 p. m., Wednesday when the Gray Lady candidates will take their examination in the auditorium.

Each week after this, the rooms will be open Tuesday and Wednesday to the public for sewing and cutting. Any group wishing to sew evenings may notify Mrs. Schenck, Red Cross office, 4403.

On October 24 the Legion Auxiliary plans to start a regular 4th Wednesday cutting and sewing group.

Any woman who can bring her own machine is asked to do so.

FIVE HURT WHEN TRUCK, CAR HIT

Taken to Sacred Heart hospital Friday morning following an accident on highway 62 at the intersection of avenue G, Camp White, were Mr. and Mrs. George A. Lawson, Anderson, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lawson, and their grandson, Aubrey, 613 East Eighth street, Astoria, who investigated the accident, reported yesterday.

A sedan, operated by George Lawson, in which the injured were passengers, collided with a truck driven by James J. McRae, route 1, Central Point, causing slight damage to the truck and badly damaging the Lawson auto, the police said.

W. L. Lawson and his grandson were released from the hospital yesterday morning.

P.-T. A. Activities

Phoenix P.T.A.
First P.T.A. meeting of the year will be held in the Phoenix high school Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. It is urged that both mothers and fathers attend the meeting.

Eagle Point P.T.A.
All parents have been urged to attend the first meeting of the Eagle Point Parent-Teacher association which is to be held in the high school Wednesday at 3 p. m. Plans for the yearly program will be made and refreshments will be served.

Junior Hi P.T.A.
First meeting of the Junior High school Parent-Teacher association was a reception for teachers held at the Y.M.C.A. Thursday evening. Presentation of the colors by girls of Scout troop No. 5, followed by prayer in union led by Ben Schmidt, opened the meeting. A business meeting was held with Mrs. Ivan Davies, president, presiding.

Cpl. Henri Scanton, Camp White, gave a brief talk on his impressions of the Fiji islands. Having spent nine months on the islands he gave many interesting facts about the natives and concluded his remarks by singing their national anthem.

Mrs. Maybelle Klemm, English instructor, introduced the teachers. Mrs. C. A. Meeker, hospitality chairman, greeted parents and teachers, urging that they work together for better understanding and for a better organization. Glenn Linn, principal of the school, spoke briefly on teachers cooperation with the parents and Supt. E. H. Hedrick emphasized closer acquaintance of parents and teachers.

Suzanne Singelton, president of girls' league, announced the annual school carnival will be held Oct. 26. She urged all parents to help and to attend.

During the social hour refreshments were served by a committee with Mrs. Dee Newton as chairman.

CHORUS TO PRACTICE FOR COMING MESSIAH

In preparation of the Christmas presentation of "The Messiah," the Rogue Valley mixed chorus will begin practice Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. In the high school music room.

The choral club will welcome as new members any singers in the community who enjoy such type of music and can be blended into the choral ensemble. Musicians stationed at Camp White or the naval hospital are especially welcome.

PATIENTS WILL REPAIR RADIOS LENT OR GIVEN

In an effort to help provide radios for patients at the Camp White naval hospital, one of the patients, Henry A. Burti, R.T. 2nd class, just returned from combat duty in the Pacific, will establish a shop at the hospital to repair or rebuild any old radios which may be loaned or donated for the patients' use, the Red Cross has announced. Only two radios are now available for all of the wards.

The Red Cross said any old radios, parts or tools can be used immediately. Burti has recruited other patients to assist in the repair shop.

Mrs. Leonard Carpenter, chairman of the camp and hospital committee said receiving centers have been established at the USO and the Junior Red Cross shop in the Holly theater building.

"The Red Cross Motor corps will pick up all donations at 1 p. m. daily," Mrs. Carpenter said, "and this is a chance for civilians to help a veteran help himself."

'Wuthering Heights' Returns to Medford Rialto Double Bill
