

JACKSON COUNTY FARM NOTES

Compiled by County Office O. S. C. Extension Service

Livestock Marketing Association Formed

The organization of the Jackson County Livestock Marketing Assn., was completed at a meeting at the courthouse, Tuesday evening this week. This meeting was attended by a large number of Jackson county livestock producers and was addressed by R. L. Clark of Bodine & Clark of the Union Stockyards, Portland. This organization has been incorporated and is now ready to go into action. Ben Day of Sams Valley was elected president, Henry Conger of Medford, vice-president, and R. G. Fowler, secretary-treasurer. Seven different districts of the county are represented on the executive committee as follows: Rogue River, Byron Coulter; Eagle Point, Claud Sneed; Sams Valley, Ben Day; Medford, Henry Conger; Central Point, Arnold Bohnert; Applegate, Charles Elmore; Ashland, Howard Miller.

A campaign for membership is now under way. No stock is sold in the organization and $1 is the only requirement for membership with only producers or owners of livestock eligible.

Principal purpose of the association is to provide a medium for unity in the marketing of any kind of livestock.

Hasty Turkey Sales Poor Policy

A recent tendency of some turkey growers to rush birds to market for fear of a price decline is not considered sound business by Noel L. Bennion, extension poultry specialist at Oregon State college. The movement followed the removal of the army set-aside order on turkeys September 24. The way to avoid an early market glut and further decline in price is for growers to market their birds in an orderly manner. It is never a good plan to sell turkeys before they are in prime condition. Hens will mature and be ready for market on an average of at least two weeks before toms and are best sold accordingly. If an adequate supply of mash or pellets is not available, turkeys can be finished on grains and green feed.

Bennion also calls attention to a possible surplus of hatching eggs and poults next spring as a result of an indicated 25 to 30 per cent increase in the number of breeder hens carried over this season compared to a year ago. The cost of producing poults and eggs will continue high while a surplus will inevitably cut prices.

Turkey Prices May Be Lower

Farmers may receive lower prices for turkeys during this marketing season (October through January) than last season due to the record turkey crop and a material reduction in procurement by the armed forces. Supplies of turkey meat available for civilians this year will be over 4 pounds per capita compared with 3 1/4 to 3 1/2 pounds during the past two years when civilian demand was not fully met and the prewar average of 2.6 pounds. Production is 22 per cent above the record 1944 crop due to strong demand, ample feed supplies and favorable returns for the past three years. The greatest production expansion since 1938 has been in the northeast, Utah and the Pacific coast states, where large-scale commercial production has been predominant.

Pear Blight Needs Attention

There is a lot of blight in most orchards that needs attention as soon as the crop is harvested. The removal of the crop seems to put new life into blight cankers and a delay in their removal may result in the loss of large limbs that could be saved at this time. Complete elimination of blight is difficult even under ideal conditions. As winter sets in, conditions become less and less favorable. Wet trees and overcast skies make canker detection more difficult. Full advantage should be taken of what little good weather is left and every effort made to thoroughly clean blight out of the orchard.

Removal of blight while pruning is all right but it should not be relied on for the main cleanup. To successfully cut out blight, the workman's attention should be concentrated on that particular job and not divided between two or more tasks at the same time.

Liberal use of disinfectant on all cuts and on tools after each treatment, is of course essential. This disinfectant is prepared by dissolving two tablets of mercuric cyanide and two tablets of mercuric chloride in a pint of water. This must be kept in glass or enamel and remember it is deadly poison.

The war chest drive was organized so the entire district will be covered. Members present who are to assist in the drive included Herbert Elmore, Bernice Pernoll and Glenn Hunter. Volunteers will aid them.

Vella Hill, legislation committee member, reported on proposed legislation that would eliminate any tax reduction. In absence of the lecturer there was no program.

ARMY RECRUITING OVER 1000 DAILY

Washington, Oct. 18—(U.P.)—An army spokesman today reported a "marked jump" in soldier recruiting with voluntary enlistments hitting better than 1,000 daily since passage of a bill authorizing one-year enlistments.

Brig. Gen. George W. Berry, assistant personnel chief at the war department, told the senate military affairs committee that 18,000 enlistment records had been received in Washington in the last two weeks. He said many others doubtless were en route.

Twenty-two per cent of the enlistments were from master sergeants wanting to stay in service. But 26 per cent from privates, Berry said, "we will have lots of little Indians as well as chiefs."

Berry said army discharge centers were doing a "magnificent job" with 1,100,000 men expected to be separated this month. He said this war twice the number ever inducted into the army in a single month.

BOLL WEEVIL THREATENS
Baton Rouge, La. (U.P.)—The cotton industry faces a serious situation because of rapid increase of the boll weevil brought about by daily rains, J. B. Garrett, state winter entomologist said. A large number of the all-destructive weevils passed through the winter successfully and are making their appearance in the cotton fields.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plate. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.
