

Athlete Of Month To Be Selected By Medford Athletic Association

Athlete of the month will be selected on a year-round basis by the Medford Athletic Association, it was decided by a unanimous vote of the board of directors at a meeting last night. The winner, to be revealed on the tenth of the month for the preceding month, will receive an award from the association.

The athlete will be chosen from the ranks of amateurs or professionals and may be from any locality, so long as he performs the athletic feat for which he is chosen in Medford. Character and sportsmanship will also play an important part in making the final decision, the directors decided.

Public Vote

Selection of the winner will be open to public vote. All letters naming a candidate must be signed by the sender and must be received by Harry Chipman, sports editor, Mail Tribune, on or before the fifth of the month for the preceding month's selection. Chipman has been chosen as chairman of a committee to make the selection and will pick two members of the board of directors to assist him each month.

First On Nov. 10

First selection will be announced on Nov. 10 and will cover the outstanding athletic feat for October. Letters containing choice of the athlete of the month may be sent at any time during the month but none received after the fifth of each month will be considered on the previous month's selection.

The selection takes in all branches of sports, including hunting and fishing. If fishing or hunting achievements are presented for consideration, the catch must be available to the selection committee for inspection, along with proof of all claims made in connection with the catch.

DEMPSEY HINTS CONN WIN OVER AGED JOE LOUIS

New York, Oct. 23—(U.P.)—Cmdr. Jack Dempsey and Jack (Doc) Kearns, greatest fighter-manager team in history, believe that Joe Louis faces a tough assignment in trying to recapture his former prowess for a title defense next June.

Dempsey, still in Coast Guard uniform, says, "Louis will have been out of the ring more than four years when he meets Billy Conn in June, and he'll be 32 years old then. That's a bad combination—age and long absence from the ring. Particularly when you're a pouncer, matched against a fast, smart boxer who is younger."

Experience Tells
"I found that out in 1926, when I fought Tunney the first time and lost my title. I hadn't had a fight in three years, and his was way off form. I was better when I fought Gene the second time, with the Sharkey bout under my belt, but I was still a long ways from the fighter I had been at my peak. I was 31 when I fought Tunney the first time. You just can't get back your stuff, after a long lay-off, when you've passed 29."

Dempsey declined to pick a winner at this early date; but his conversation indicated that he leaned toward Conn. He emphasized, however, that Conn, too, had been out of the ring almost as long as Louis, although more than two years younger.

Kearns, who guided Dempsey to the championship and to his first two million-dollar gates, with Georges Carpentier and Luis Angel Firpo, agreed that Louis never could regain his former prowess. However, the dapper Chicago promoter picked Louis to score another knockout over Conn.

Los Angeles, Oct. 23—(U.P.)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis said today he will "flatten" Billy Conn when they meet in a title bout next June.

"I think I'll kavo him. I think he'll lose his head just like the last time," Louis grinned, "and I'll flatten him."

Just released from the army, Louis plans to relax with golf rounds and radio appearances for two months or so, and a few refereeing assignments during his "vacation."

"Billy was the best fighter I met," the Brown Bomber said. "He could do everything but clout. He was giving me a tough whipping, too, but he didn't keep his head. He tried to knock me out and I flattened him in the 13th." Louis referred to their match on June 18, 1941.

NAVY RATED AS TOP GRID TEAM; PURDUE SECOND

Los Angeles, Oct. 23—(U.P.)—Undeclared Navy, with a tough struggle against Penn coming up Saturday, was listed today on top of the nation's football teams in the Deke Houlgate rating system.

The Houlgate system rates teams on the basis of the strength of the opposition and classifies them as A, undefeated and untied; B, beaten or tied once; C, beaten twice; D, beaten three times; E, beaten four times, etc. Navy held first place with 26 points.

Purdue, although a surprise 35 to 12 victor over Ohio State, dropped from a three-way tie for first place to second place two points behind. The third of last week's first place trio, Georgia, dropped down to 11th place and B ranking by virtue of Saturday's trouncing by LSU.

Not far behind Purdue was Holy Cross, also undefeated, with 23, followed by Indiana, holding down last week's fourth spot with 22.5 points, despite a tie with Northwestern.

Tied for fifth with 21 points were Alabama, Columbia and Notre Dame. Temple was eighth with 19, and Penn and Texas ninth with 17 points each, ranking ahead of Tennessee and Georgia, each also with 17 points, but rated as B instead of A teams.

Big 10, Coast To Play Annually In Rose Bowl, Claim

Cleveland, Oct. 23—(U.P.)—The Cleveland Press said today that it had learned that the Rose Bowl game will be played annually between the champions of the Western and Pacific Coast conferences after this season.

A Press sports writer, Jack Clowser, said that formal action of the big ten to permit its champion to go to the Rose Bowl will be taken either this winter or at the spring meeting of the conference.

Clowser said the big ten, he learned, was dissatisfied with watching "some southern school get a $100,000 slice of the big game and then use it to subsidize a flock of prep school stars."

"SAFETY MAN"

"Safety" is every railroader's watchword; maintaining it is his number one duty.

But to many, one trainman particularly symbolizes safety: the passenger train brakeman... the "flagman."

Like a football safety man, this S.P. safety man plays far in the backfield. Even during an ordinary station stop, he drops back thirty feet behind the last car. On unscheduled stops, he must immediately go back far enough to insure protection for his train.

He places "torpedoes" on the track and waits on guard—with flag or lamp—until the train is set to go. When a whistle signal recalls him, he leaves behind a burning "fusee"—a bright red flare that burns for ten minutes (even when wet) to caution following trains.

But all this is just one of our safeguards. There are also amazing mechanical watchdogs (such as automatic block signals, Centralized Traffic Control and Automatic Train Control) and such safety measures as regular track and equipment inspection, physical examination of trainmen, double-checking of train orders, and regular inspection of all trainmen's watches.

With all this backing him up, the brakeman has helped make trains the safest way to travel. You're actually safer on a train than in your own home!

The brakeman is a key man on our Southern Pacific team—one important key man among the thousands of experienced railroaders who guide and guard every train on every mile of its run.
