Peace Is Topic Of "World Day" Program Friday

The challenge to Christians in meeting the price of enduring peace was emphasized at the World Community Day program of the Medford Council of Church Women held Friday at the Church of the Nazarene.

"Christian leadership is the key—that alone will make the World Charter live," said Mrs. Dolph Phipps in closing her discussion on that subject. Mrs. Elvin S. Hansen pointed out the need to understand each other if we are to achieve a world community and Mrs. Clarence Meeker enumerated specific tasks that are woman's part in the world church.

Mrs. C. H. Herman, vice-president of the council, presided in the afternoon and Mrs. John Eby conducted the worship service. "Fear Not Ye O Israel" by Dudley Buck, was sung by Mrs. Herschel Morris, accompanied by Mrs. Herb Crain. Mrs. Louis C. Kirby, president, presided at the morning session.

Hermann Morse' book, "These Moving Times," a discussion of the uprooted or displaced Americans, was reviewed by Mrs. Victor Birdseye who said, "The essence of the whole book is friendliness." Miss Deborah Trembley presented the childrens' missionary texts and literature which she described as "so fascinating and so well organized that it would be a pleasure to work with any one of them." In reviewing "The Cross Over Africa," by Bishop Newell Booth, Mrs. M. F. Sheets said, "Preaching, teaching, and healing, linked as Jesus linked them comprise the great need of Africa."

Lunch was served by the women of the Church of the Nazarene.

Association Gives Party For Pupils

An after-school party was given recently at the Y. M. C. A. club rooms by the Junior High School Parent-Teacher association for pupils of rooms having the largest percentage of membership in the recent association membership drive. Prizes were won by rooms 15 and 29.

Thirty-eight girls, accompanied by their home room teachers, attended. The teachers were Mrs. Mabelle Klemm, teacher of English and literature, and Miss Berthiel Nelson, girls' physical education teacher.

It was reported that membership in the P.T.A. this year is nearly doubled over that of last year.

After playing games the girls were served refreshments from tables decorated in the Hallowe'en motif.

Assisting with the party were Mrs. Ivan Davies Mrs. L. A. McCollough and Mrs. George Maddox

Mounted Troop Ride Scheduled

Last autumn ride for members of the Ladies' Mounted Troop is scheduled for this afternoon. Riders are asked to be at the stables and ready to ride at one o'clock. The group will ride through Fern Valley and will be entertained at the Fern Valley home of Mrs. R. B. Hammond and her daughter Miss Virginia Hammond, where refreshments will be served.

It is stated that in the event the weather prevents the group from riding, members of the troop are asked by Mrs. Hammond and her daughter to drive to the Hammond home for a social hour..

Teachers' Group Program Meeting Is Held At Club

Epsilon Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma society held its first fall meeting last Saturday afternoon, at the Girls' Community club with thirty members and one guest in attendance. Miss Dallas, rural supervisor for the schools of Josephine county, was a guest.

Miss Daphne Matthews, head of the English department of the Grants Pass high school, and new president of the group, presented a past president's pin to Miss Delie Whisenant, retiring president. Routine business was followed by a program, chairman of which was Mrs. Ivah Murray. Miss Florence Allen of the Southern Oregon College of Education gave a vocal solo and Mrs. Ruth MacCollister, of Medford schools, gave a report of the book, "The Teacher in America," by Barzun, one of the three outstanding current books on education.

Members of the chapter paid tribute to Miss Annie Webb Blanton, national president of the Delta Kappa Gamma, whose death occurred this summer.

Refreshments were served by a combined committee from Ashland, Grants Pass, and Medford, including Lillian Nicholson, Merl Hershberger and Ivah Murray, respectively, at a table striking in its autumn decorations. President Miss Matthews and retiring president, Miss Whisenant, poured.

Attendance Large At Flower Show; Mrs. Finney Wins

Jacksonville — Much interest was shown in the flower show of Jacksonville Garden club members, held Wednesday at the club rooms. Grand prize went to Mrs. R. M. Finney and was presented by Mrs. Florence Gonyon, chairman of the show.

Mrs. Finney and Mrs. Gonyon had tied for honors, each winning 13 points. The former won many points on her arrangements of dried materials, and Mrs. Gonyon for her unusual work with pine cones and other arrangements.

Receiving honorable mention for their entries were Mrs. Leonard McKee, Miss Claire Hanley, Mrs. R. T. Nichol, Mrs. W. C. Rookard and Mrs. Burnell.

Judges of the seven classified entry divisions were Mrs. J. W. Jacobs and Mrs. Olen Arnspiger of Medford. Mrs. R. T. Nichol was receptionist and many out-of-town visitors registered.

Miss Hanley was in charge of a silver tea held in connection with the show.

Mrs. Leonard McKee, president of the club, yesterday expressed her appreciation to Mrs. Gonyon for her "capable and novel way of handling the show" and also thanked all other members who helped with the successful project.
