Wall Street
New York, Oct. 30.—(U.P.)—Stocks rallied near closing time today and finished irregular after an early decline had lopped fractions to more than a point from a majority of issues.

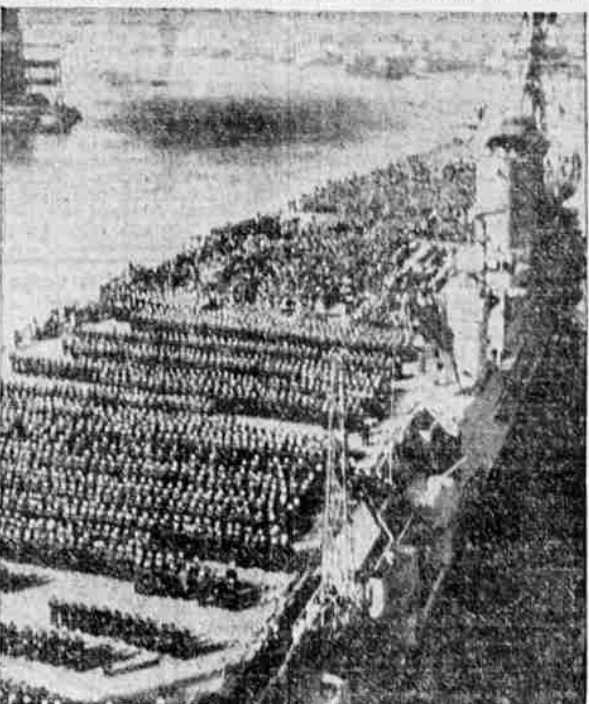

The early selloff reflected caution on the part of long traders who lightened lines in advance of tonight's Truman speech on wages and prices. The late recovery was attributed to short covering and to some speculative buying on anticipation of a wage-price policy loaded with inflationary ammunition.

Aside from the forthcoming Truman speech the market had little of special interest on which traders could base commitments. Preliminary closing Dow Jones stock averages: Industrials 184.15, off 0.09; Railroad 59.22, up 0.28; Utility 36.30, up 0.23; 65 Stocks 66.57, up 0.12. Sales totaled 1,170,000 shares compared with 1,260,000 yesterday.
