

CHEST X-RAYS TO BE GIVEN FREE IN JACKSON COUNTY

Mobile Unit Scheduled Here This Month; Exact Dates To Be Announced Soon.

The mobile X-ray unit will come to Jackson county this month. That's the news released this week to the Jackson County Public Health association as scientists and health workers throughout the nation join in the steps for celebration of "X-ray Week", honoring the discoverer, Rontgen.

Mrs. Dwight Findley, chairman of the Jackson county campaign to obtain a chest X-ray for every individual, stated that Mrs. Saldie Orr Dunbar, executive secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis association will be in Medford November 7 to make preliminary plans. A dinner meeting for this purpose has been arranged by Mrs. Elwood Hedberg, Public Health association president, at the Hotel Medford.

Dates Later

Exact dates upon which X-rays will be offered all Jackson county people will be announced in the very near future. The coming of the mobile unit has been eagerly awaited by the Public Health association for many months, while it was being operated in other sections of the state. These operations revealed the outstanding benefits of the campaign by bringing to light hundreds of previously undreamed of as well as untreated cases of tuberculosis.

Mrs. Findley expressed the hopes of the association in stating that it is believed all classes of people in this community will avail themselves of the opportunity to obtain a free chest X-ray. Jackson county, she pointed out, has been known for many years as one of Oregon's most "public health minded" counties. Therefore little insistence should be needed to get the people to be X-rayed.

"I have had a chest X-ray" will be the December slogan in this county, it is hoped. For when November ends every person should be in a position to make that boast. The X-ray service will not be limited to persons who have had indications or fears of tuberculosis. It will be offered to everyone. All findings will be reported to the individual only. Where any trouble is indicated a more thorough examination will be recommended.

Need Is Seen

Such X-ray pictures are being taken in many parts of the nation today and have been since the war brought to light the urgent need for a more sure method of finding the hidden cases of tuberculosis.

The mobile X-ray unit, which carries this program to all sections is viewed by Public Health workers as the "most forward step in the history of the eradication of tuberculosis."

COMPACT NEEDED TO SAVE FISHING

Salem, Ore., Nov. 1—(U.P.)—National or international compacts to settle offshore fishing rights along the Pacific coast are needed to save depletion of the industry, an Oregon legislative committee proposed today.

State Senator Walter Pearson, of Portland, chairman of the Interstate Cooperation committee's sub-group on fishing, said efforts would be made first to reach an agreement with California, Oregon and Washington. Arne Soumeia, state fish commissioner, said he will call a meeting, probably in Salem late in November, to confer with the other two states on

State Offers Jobs In Unemployment Claims Department

Portland, Nov. 1—Returning servicemen and women and a cancellation of war contracts have caused a sharp increase in the claims filed with the state unemployment compensation commission. In order to staff adequately the various offices of the unemployment compensation commission, the merit system council in the Mead Building in Portland has announced examinations for qualified applicants for both the claims and auditing series of positions. The commission maintains offices in strategic locations throughout the state and would welcome applications from those who would work in local offices. Veterans in particular are being sought for the positions. Entrance salaries in the claims series range from $140 to $245 per month.

Detailed information concerning these employment opportunities is available at the Merit System Council, 816 Mead Bldg., Portland 4, Ore. Applications must be postmarked by November 17 to be included in the present examination program.
