Seven Man Battle Royal Set For Armory Wrestling Ring Tonight

ELIMINATION TO DECIDE PAIRINGS FOR 3 MATCHES

Two Referees To Be Used To Keep Order As Behemoths Set for Free-for-All

Medford wrestling fans will get their first look at a seven-man battle royal in the armory tonight when Promoter Mack Lillard sends nearly a ton of grappling goliaths into the squared circle.

In an effort to make the free-for-all one of the best ever seen here, Lillard has guaranteed only traveling expenses to the first man eliminated and said purses will become higher the longer the men stay in the ring.

The lineup pits five of the game's meanest grapplers into the ring with a pair of the classiest light-heavyweights ever to perform here. Making up the list of those who stoop a little low to win matches are Rough Rufus Jones, Jack Lipscomb, Harold (Blood and Guts) Davidson, Gorilla Poggi and Bulldog Jackson. Scientific interests will be capably represented by Ernie Piluso and Angelo Martinelli.

Three Matches Follow

After the first man is eliminated, the muscle manglers will get down to business. Second and third pinned will make up the first regulation match for three rounds or best two out of three falls. Fourth and fifth to be ousted will clash in a four round go with best two-out-of-three deciding the winner. Last two left will mix in a six round clash, also with two out of three falls deciding, for highest purse of the evening.

Two Referees

Two referees will be used, Lillard said, with big Emil Westfall, Medford favorite, on the outside and an unannounced arbiter within the hemp.

Ticket sales pointed this morning toward a capacity crowd but Lillard assured fans there were a few choice seats which would be available at the armory ticket office tonight.

The battle royal gets under way at 8:30 promptly.

TORNADO TAPERS FOR CLASH WITH ASHLAND FRIDAY

Al Simpson tapered his Medford Black Tornado football team down to only light workouts today in preparation for the crucial clash with Ashland at Medford Stadium Friday night, starting at 8 o'clock.

No matter the odds the two teams always play inspired football when they get together and Simpson was expecting considerable trouble with the Grizzlies' tricky double wing formation. Darrell Riggs, stellar left end, will be out of the lineup because of a sprained ankle received two weeks ago and Simpson was concerned that the loss of the lanky flankman might leave room for the Lithia City boys to pile up some nice yardage gains around end.

Simpson said football suits would definitely be hung up and basketball practice started Monday if the Tornado loses the Ashland game. If they win, however, and if North Bend, district two's only other undefeated team, beats Coos Bay, negotiations will get underway for a site to play the quarter-finals. Every effort will be made to bring the game to Medford, local school authorities said.

If Medford should win from North Bend, negotiations will be started to play district four champions, either Grant or Jefferson of Portland on Thanksgiving Day. The state finals will be held in Multnomah Stadium, Portland, probably Dec. 1.

Al Lightner of Salem, who refereed the Eureka game here Oct. 12, has been secured as referee; Tom Ireland, Myrtle Creek, will be umpire and Eddie Jonas, Talent, head linesman. Coach John Roberts, Ashland, and Simpson readily agreed to use officials other than those from either Medford or Ashland.

Medford High Grid Team Compared To Prink Callison's 1928 Eleven

Under the heading of comparing present-day athletes with those of by-gone days, Bill Hulen, sports writer with the Portland Oregonian and former Medford Mail Tribune sports editor, recently compared Medford high school football team of 1945 with the terrific elevens turned out of Medford high by Prink Callison from 1923 through 1928.

Hulen wrote:

"Callison's teams, in those six years, compiled the almost unbelievable record of winning 40 games, losing only one and tieing one. His first defeat came in his first year there, 13 to 6, to Salem. The tie occurred the next season, 7 to 7, with Ashland.

Won 31 in Row

From then on through four seasons, Medford won 31 straight scraps, including a fantastic 102-to-0 triumph over Roseburg in 1925 and a 94-to-0 conquest of Klamath Falls in 1927. In the six years, Medford scored 1495 points to the opponents' 174, 35.5 per game against 4.1.

Twice Callison brought Medford teams to Portland for mythical state championship contests, and both times it wasn't even close. The first game, in 1926, resulted in a 24-to-6 victory over Grant. In 1928 it was Medford 39, Benson Tech 0.

The 1928 team is considered by many to have been the greatest ever to perform in the state. Its members included Bill Bowerman, Bill Morgan, John Sprague, Bernie Hughes, Jack Hughes, Al Stoehr, Red McDonald, Ben Harrell, Al Melvin, Orb Cooksey and Hal Anderson. Morgan, Bowerman, Bernie Hughes and McDonald went on to college grid action, and Morgan and Hughes to professional stardom.

All Foes Crushed

Medford's record that season looked like this: 39 to 7 over Chemawa, 44 to 6 over Marshfield, 42 to 6 over Salem, 31 to 0 over Klamath Falls, 50 to 7 over Corvallis, 25 to 7 over Ashland, 42 to 0 over The Dalles, and 39 to 0 over Benson. The Callisonites simply overwhelmed everybody in sight.

As stupendous as that outfit unquestionably was, there are some people who believe this year's Black Tornado is even better. Of course, there is no way of knowing, for the simple reason that 1928's Medford team can't take the field against the current Al Simpson-coached machine. If, by magic, it could, what a game would result!

One thing you can say for the 1945 Tornado: It certainly runs up the tallies. Just look at these scores: 68 to 0 over Albany, 40 to 0 over Marshfield, 52 to 7 over Eugene, 38 to 0 over Eureka, Cal.; 51 to 0 over Klamath Falls, 73 to 0 over Grants Pass.

Athletes Improving

Perhaps because we are of this generation, the writer leans slightly toward the present Medford team as the best ever developed in the Pear city. We believe that in almost every sport, the years have brought improvement in everything from conditioning methods to better gear and equipment. Athletes nowadays run faster, jump higher, shoot better golf and receive, on the whole, better coaching in all sports than did their yesteryear colleagues. Why, then, doesn't it stand to reason that teams of the present are superior to those of the past?

Now hold it, fellows! It's the end of the column, so you guys who disagree will have to postpone telling Hulen what a dope he is."

Army, Navy Study Post-Season Bids For Bowl Clashes

New York, Nov. 8 — (U.P.) — Army and navy, whose football teams have dominated college gridirons for two seasons, debated today whether to accept bids for post-season bowl games.

It was understood that army can have the Rose Bowl invitation if West Point authorities will allow the trip. A representative of the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla., was in Annapolis today to discuss a bid with Capt. C. O. Humphreys, athletic director at the naval academy.

Humphreys said he had no comment because "Navy has not yet received an invitation." However, it was announced at Miami that Navy was first choice and would get the invitation if it will accept.

Acceptance, both at Annapolis and West Point, is up to the academy commander and the team members. The War and Navy departments said they had no voice in the matter.

LIEUT. M'ELHOSE HOME AFTER 25 JAPAN BOMBINGS

Mather Field, Calif., Nov. 8—First Lieutenant Richard A. McElhose of Medford, a B-29 bombardier with 25 missions against the Japanese homeland, has returned to the United States after a tour of nine months with the 20th Air Force's 314th Bombardment Wing on Guam.

Lt. McElhose landed here at Mather field in a Superfortress with 19 other high point veterans who are being returned to the states for rotation, reassignment and discharge. The B-29 was one of the 105 aircraft of Colonel Carl R. Storrie's 314th Wing which will bring home some 20,000 officers and enlisted men by Nov. 5. Low-point men of the wing will remain on Guam to police the Pacific.

The 314th is the third Superfortress unit to return to the states, following the arrival of the 58th and 73rd Bombardment Wings last month. Colonel Storrie's Superforts dropped more than 60,000,000 pounds of bombs on 61 missions during the air war against the Japanese homeland, and leveled industrial targets ranging from the southernmost island of Kyushu to the city of Koriyama, 125 miles north of Tokyo. The 314th and four other wings of Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining's 20th Air Force wrought destruction on Japan's 66 largest cities.

Lt. McElhose, a veteran of 600 combat flying hours, has won the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters. He has 70 points under the army's readjustment point system.

The lieutenant is the son of Richard E. McElhose, 9 Rose avenue, Medford.

SWEDISH RUNNERS DRAW SUSPENSION FOR TAKING PAY

Stockholm, Nov. 8—(U.P.)—The Swedish Athletic association today suspended distance runners Gunder Hagg and Arne Andersson indefinitely for violation of amateur rules, after hearing testimony from representatives of 15 athletic clubs that they had paid the athletes.

The lean Swedes, who together became the greatest mile runners in history, had taken turns lowering the mark for the distance and Hagg currently held the world record of 4:01.4, established this year during the summer running season.

The association prompted the investigation after receiving reports that the athletic clubs had paid Hagg and Andersson. The clubs, after meeting briefly, announced the suspension which still must be officially confirmed by the association. That action was considered a foregone conclusion, however, since the association was the driving power behind the investigation.

What's so extra special about this sauce?

LET'S ASK THE WOMEN WHO COOK WITH DEL MONTE!

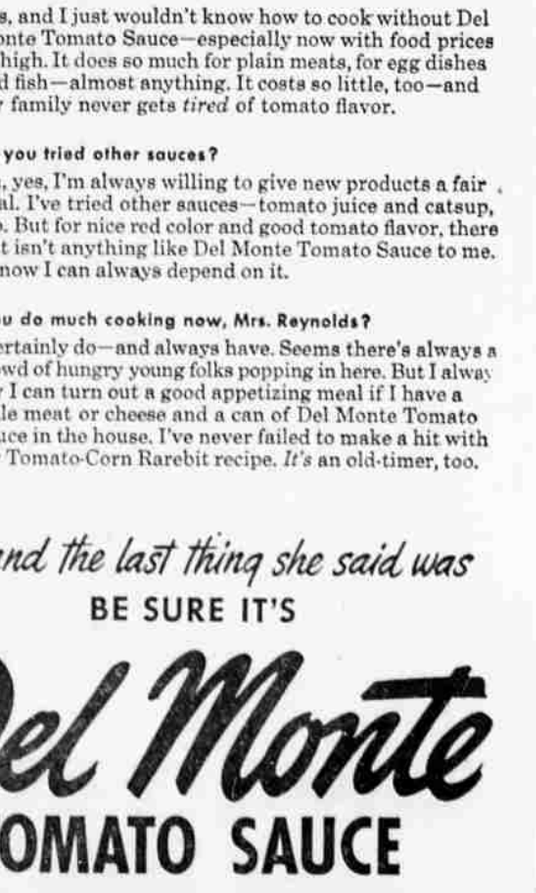
2 out of 3 of them have used it more than 10 years

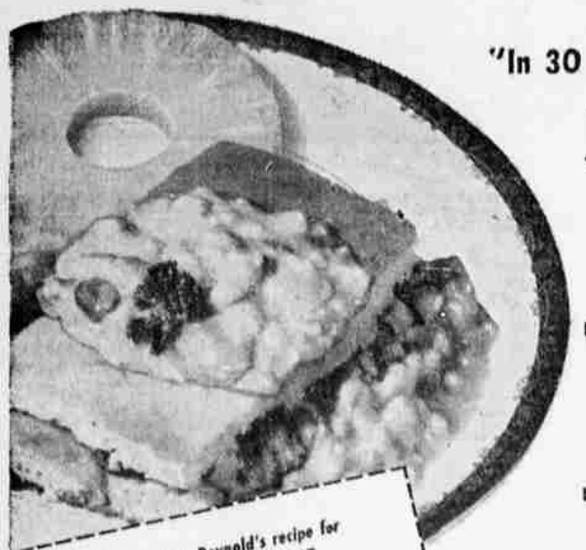
Yes, Del Monte Tomato Sauce has been the grand old cooking sauce of western housewives, for years! Was their favorite—is their favorite!

And even during the war, when it was hard to get, they didn't forget it. Certainly not!

How do we know? Well, one of America's* largest independent research organizations went out and asked them.*

And what did Del Monte users say about Del Monte Tomato Sauce? Plenty! Enthusiasm such as even we never expected! Just listen to Mrs. Reynolds, for instance:





"In 30 years I've found no finer tomato flavor"

—Says MRS. IDA REYNOLDS, 2311 BROADWAY, SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

You're really an old-time California cook?

Yes, and I just wouldn't know how to cook without Del Monte Tomato Sauce—especially now with food prices so high. It does so much for plain meats, for egg dishes and fish—almost anything. It costs so little, too—and my family never gets tired of tomato flavor.

Have you tried other sauces?

Oh, yes, I'm always willing to give new products a fair trial. I've tried other sauces—tomato juice and catsup, too. But for nice red color and good tomato flavor, there just isn't anything like Del Monte Tomato Sauce to me. I know I can always depend on it.

Do you do much cooking now, Mrs. Reynolds?

I certainly do—and always have. Seems there's always a crowd of hungry young folks popping in here. But I always say I can turn out a good appetizing meal if I have a little meat or cheese and a can of Del Monte Tomato Sauce in the house. I've never failed to make a hit with my Tomato-Corn Rarebit recipe. It's an old-timer, too.

And here is Mrs. Reynold's recipe for
TOMATO-CORN RAREBIT

1 recipe corn bread or buttered toast
3 tbsps. butter
3 tbsps. chopped green pepper
1 cup American Cheese, grated or thinly sliced
1 can Whole Kernel Corn
1 tsp. chile powder
Salt and pepper to taste
Dash of celery salt or cayenne
1 egg, lightly beaten
1 can Del Monte Tomato Sauce
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 cup hot water

First make a recipe of corn bread and put it to bake, or prepare hot, buttered toast. If corn bread is used, 15 minutes before it is done, make Tomato-Corn Rarebit as follows: Melt the butter in a heavy skillet, add chopped green pepper and saute over very low heat until tender. Add the grated or thinly sliced cheese. Continue to cook over very low heat until cheese is melted. Stir constantly. Combine the beaten egg and the Tomato Sauce. Add with the remaining ingredients. (You'll like Del Monte Golden Whole Kernel Corn for this recipe—it's so nice and tender.) Heat thoroughly. Serve at once on golden-brown corn bread, hot from the oven, or on hot buttered toast. Serves 4-5.
