FREE FILM WILL AID DELINQUENCY PROBLEM-STUDY

Representative O. H. Bengtson, chairman of the state legislative committee studying child delinquency in Oregon, has arranged through the juvenile court to present a free motion picture entitled "Children of the City" in the Jackson County court house auditorium, Wednesday, November 14, at 8 p.m.

The film, secured through the British information services, has proved very enlightening in the study of child delinquency and its causes, according to Bengtson. It is designed to indicate in human terms the British approach and the working of the juvenile courts under a recent British act.

The film tells the story of three boys who break into a pawnshop for a lark and are found taking money from the till when the police come. An escapade has become a crime. The film depicts the escapade, the arrest, the juvenile court action, the treatment, and presents in vivid scenes the problem for society.

The showing will be free, and all parents and citizens interested in the welfare of young people are invited to be present.

County Health Doctor Merkel, with the assistance of Robert Elder, county juvenile officer, will handle the showing of the film.

SMEAR TRUMAN DRIVE CHARGED

Washington, Nov. 10—(U.P.)—Sen. Scott W. Lucas, D., Ill., charged today that republican senators have begun a "definite campaign to smear President Truman."

The republicans, Lucas said in an interview, are "caucusing all the time about it" with an eye on the congressional elections of 1946 and the presidential election of 1948.

He said the opening guns in the "Smear-Truman" drive were fired in two speeches by GOP senators in recent days.

The first speech, Lucas said, was the one by Sen. Alexander Wiley, R., Wis., who charged that Mr. Truman was "inconsistent" in his labor policy and was "headed down the CIO highway to ruin."

The second, he added, came yesterday when Sen. E. H. Moore, R., Okla., said Mr. Truman was "a captive of the CIO labor government."
