Housewives Unite In Strike Protest
Oakland, Calif., Nov. 16.—(U.P.) A "housewives council for bread and butter" was formed here today in protest of continued strikes.
Mrs. Kay Houghton, Oakland, who organized the group, said the council was "neither anti-union nor anti-employer."
"We are just long-suffering, impatient American wives and mothers whose children must be fed and whose husbands must have jobs," she said. "We want to see these differences settled in the democratic way around the conference table."

Medford Analyzed
To the Editor: Cities assume personalities and are characterized from the residents which change in proportion to the influx and type of people who settle subsequent to the original founders. It is gratifying to observe such a large percentage representing the original settlers in Medford. May the people realize the importance of keeping the rugged old American descendants in control of her progress and affairs.

The greater part of the foreigners that have come to this country within the last thirty years, at least, have not as a class proven law abiding citizens. Our court records prove it. Congratulations to Medford for her apparent freedom.
Medford is not geographically located to ever become a large city or distributing hub, except for the small empire of rich natural resource of which she is the center.
Never encourage any group of agitators to create a boom, or attempt to encourage that indolent type of parasites who hope to live off tourist sucker trade—it in itself is stagnation for any people or country.
A grandsire of the writer was a taxpayer and resident in Medford, Mass., in 1717, where also a daughter Mary was born. It is hoped to be permanent and useful in Medford. The atmosphere of the city is decidedly friendly, and so far, this writer has not heard the usual gossip and mudslinging against its officials.
Two major things observed it is hoped may be mentioned without offense:
1st. Any city that has a stream of water running through it, invariably takes it as a matter of course—just an ugly obstruction. It should not be so considered. Water frontage property is in far the greatest demand of any class in most places.
There are many unsightly things adjacent to Bear Creek through Medford, but it is not too late for either the city or property owners, or both, to make it the most valuable and beautiful of all property in the city. Fine residences, small parks. Riverside Avenue should be made into a parkway and waterway equal to anything in Southern Oregon.
2nd. There seems a serious heating problem in the city—uncomfortable to most citizens. The climatic and topographical conditions are admirably adapted to a central heating plant which could furnish hot water in every home for use and heating the same as gas or water. Outside the initial cost, the service would be 50% at least, per family less than present methods. The plant and street mains should be owned by the city the same as the water system.
Frank Cummings.

Flying Movie For Ocean Passengers
New York, Nov. 16.—(U.P.)—The first trans-Atlantic flying movie theater was inaugurated today in a Pan American World Airways plane.
Pan American installed motion picture projectors and sound equipment in the first of their planes and, from now on, passengers can go to the movies 8,000 feet above the ocean.

PIN-UP BOY
Camp Beale, Calif., Nov. 16.—(U.P.)—A Glendale, Calif., enlisted man today held the official Camp Beale pin-up boy title. An anonymous committee of women stationed at the post yesterday chose T/4 Stanley V. Stewart the most "beautiful" soldier. First prize was a date with any unmarried woman on the post with all expenses paid. The committee did not say whether Stewart's wife, Merle, would go along on the date.

BEEES MAKE BETTER HONEY THAN ANYBODY

"Honey? . . . We make nothing else but!" say the bees. "Coffee? . . . that's the only product we're interested in!" say Hills Bros. Such undivided attention to buying, blending, roasting, and packing America's favorite beverage is the reason people say this of Hills Bros. Coffee—"Now that's what I call good coffee!"
