NOW IF YOU HAVE QUITE FINISHED

More than once I have been put in an embarrassing position as an ordinary witness, by trick questions like the familiar one about beating one's wife, because the rules of court procedure are made by lawyers for the benefit of lawyers.

Here in this column you can't do that to me.

One reader writes: I was amazed and saddened when you advised people over 50 to drink a glass of beer or wine once or twice a day. Amazed because I had understood that you were opposed to liquor in any form as a matter of conviction, and saddened because the son of a W.T.C.U. mother had departed from her principles and teachings of total abstinence.

While I am squirming in anxiety for the correspondent to get through and let me reply, an even longer-winded one comes at me with an 800-word harangue.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

of which this appears to be the theme: You say "I am bitter prejudiced against alcohol as liquor or beverage and, if I had my way, it would be available only on bona fide prescription by a reputable physician." And yet . . . you recommend that a person who has passed his or her acme of physical development should begin to dim his wits with alcohol in order, as you say, to make life easier for him and for those with whom he lives. . . . Why should anyone, just when he has arrived at the age when he should know better, take up the habit of tipping which he has eschewed during his youth? . . . not pleasant to contemplate Grandpa and Grandma learning to be stotish instead of saintly in their declining years.

If any reader can show me a clipping from this column to substantiate the statement that I advised people over 50 to drink a glass of beer or wine once or twice a day I'll present him or her with a complete set of the works of the devil—the conductor of this column. The evidence must show I said "people over 50."

What I said was, in part: "I believe life would be easier for a good many elderly persons to live, and those same elderly persons would be easier to live with, if they took some beer, ale or wine regularly every day."

Nothing about young whipper-snappers of 50 there. In fact I ducked the onus of specifying precisely how old elderly is. I'm still reluctant to brand people as elderly on the basis of chronological age alone; I must know the individual's physiological age.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Kindly give some information and advice about the regular use of amemas or colon washes. (Mrs. J.R.C.)
Answer—Only advice I can give is "Don't." If you have been inoculated by the morbid teachings of the quack healers of nostrum and food "specialists," you may learn something to your advantage from the booklet "The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene," 50c. Write for cents and stamped self-addressed envelope.

My four year old son was never circumcised. I believe he is almost a perfect physical specimen. Now my wife wants to have him give is only boy baby that was not circumcised during recent ten-days in the hospital. They regarded me as queer for not having him circumcised. (Mrs. M. E.)

Answer—Circumcision is advisable only when cough or cleanliness is interfered with. (Copyright 1945 by John F. Dille Co.)

Residential Tract Opened At Ashland

Ashland, Nov. 21 — Carter Heights, which has long been recognized as a leading potential residential tract, will soon become the site of many residences, according to Robert Dodge and C. E. Corry, who have subdivided the Heights and are offering the lots to prospective home builders. This land, which is above Lithia Park, with a fine view of the Park and the Valley, has been divided into 41 building lots.

Captain J. B. Montgomery of the "Portsmouth" landed in San Francisco at a spot near what is now the southeast corner of Clay and Montgomery Streets.
