HOLLY SHOWING WOMAN'S PICTURE

The late Ernie Pyle, ace war correspondent whose syndicated column was enjoyed daily by some 40,000,000 persons, had more women readers than men, a recent nationwide poll has revealed. His fan mail had mounted to film star proportions by the time he lost his life last spring while trudging along with an advanced American patrol unit on a tiny island on the Pacific battlefield.

Pyle was aware of this unusual feminine interest and discussed the matter with Producer Lester Cowan when the latter was preparing to start work on "The Story of GI Joe," the film based on Pyle's writings and which is currently thrilling capacity crowds at the Holly theatre, where it is now being shown through this coming Wednesday.

Ernie told Cowan that great numbers of his feminine readers appeared to have taken something of a motherly interest in his welfare. "Let me mention in my column that I was suffering from a bad cold and immediately I was deluged with letters from my favorite women admirers containing recipes for their favorite cold remedies," Pyle stated.

With this thought in mind, the producer has made every effort, and with great success, to make GI Joe a woman's picture. A majority of those factors which render the average "war picture" a little bit distasteful from the woman's viewpoint have been eliminated. There are, for instance, no actual battles shown in "GI Joe." One sees only the effects of the battle. The picture is replete with those honey little touches of which Pyle used to write.

"Snippy" answers to customers? The "run-around"? The "let-'em-wait" attitude? Not at Oregon Finance Company! My customers have declared me innocent! And they say I'm not guilty either of saying "No" to them when they ask for something. Proof: 4 out of 5 who ask for a loan here—get it!

Oregon Finance makes loans from $25 to $800 on furniture, autos or other collateral. Friends, relatives or employer not notified.

GENE THOMAS
Usually I say "Yes" to loan requests in a hurry. But even when circumstances are unusual, I try to find a way to work out a deal. That's why Oregon Finance is so often able to make loans that others cannot. Like most people, I don't believe in unnecessary borrowing... but when a loan is needed or to your advantage, I'll be glad to say "Yes." Any time you need extra cash—see me, won't you? I'm at
