

MRS. MANSFELDT IN COLLAPSE AS TRIAL DAY ENDS

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—(U.P.)—Prosecution attorneys prepared to conclude their case today in the murder trial of Mrs. Annie Irene Mansfeldt, 46, who was carried unconscious from the courtroom late yesterday after collapsing in public for the fifth time since she fatally shot Mrs. Vada Martin eight weeks ago.

Mrs. Mansfeldt, who has lost 30 pounds since the shooting, fell from her chair as Assistant District Attorney Norman Elkington read a half-incoherent statement she made to police shortly after killing the woman she feared was a rival for her late husband's affections.

Elkington had reached a point in her statement, the last of what police said were four separate confessions to the shooting, in which Mrs. Mansfeldt told of visiting Dr. Milton Lennon, a psychiatrist, and begging that "he do something to help me" when high-strung Mrs. Mansfeldt slumped to the floor, her face discolored.

Chief Defense Attorney Vincent Hallinan announced Mrs. Mansfeldt would later "tell her own story in her own way if she has to be carried to and from the witness stand a thousand times."

Earlier Lennon testified as a

Mansfeldt, a regular patient, had told him on Sept. 28—six days before the shooting—that she "felt as if she were going to shoot somebody."

"She appeared in very great distress," he said. Lennon said Mrs. Mansfeldt had told him of worrying over the health of her husband, Dr. John H. Mansfeldt, who took his own life shortly after the shooting and of finding Mrs. Martin in his car.

Three days later, Lennon said, she returned "and seemed quite calm and collected and said she was not going to shoot anyone."

The psychiatrist said he had known Mrs. Mansfeldt as a gifted well-read "psychoneurotic" young woman prior to her marriage 25 years ago. He said she had been hospitalized for "nervousness" but "at that time she was not psychotic."

Earlier Chief Warrant Officer Wilbur L. Martin, husband of the slain woman, wept openly as he said he would be "very disappointed" if Mrs. Mansfeldt is cleared of the "murder" of his wife. Superior Judge Edward Murphy sustained a defense objection against use of the word "murder" and did not allow introduction of a photograph of Mrs. Martin's body into evidence lest it "inflame the jury."

Martin and Hallinan clashed repeatedly during Martin's cross examination.

Gordon Will Hunt

In Southern Oregon

Eugene, Ore., Nov. 29.—(U.P.)—Second Baseman Joe Gordon will report to the New York Yankees for spring training but his first business after his army release will be some duck and geese shooting in southern Oregon next week.

Gordon missed two seasons with the Yanks because of serving with the air forces but he got in some camp team playing here and there. He is visiting his family in his old home town of Eugene.

TRUMAN REVEALS EFFORT TO REVISE POTSDAM OUTLINE

Washington, Nov. 29.—(U.P.)—President Truman announced today that this government has taken steps to revise the Potsdam declaration with a view to remedying difficulties in the four-power control of Germany. At the same time Mr. Truman said in answer to news conference questions that the United Nations Organization operates like it should, there would be no need in the future for meetings of the Big Three or any other type of special, top-level, international conferences.

The president said that it was these special conferences that ruined the League of Nations. He said he opposed them for that reason, preferring instead to see UNO do its job. Overhaul Urged A basic overhaul of U. S. policies in Germany was recommended yesterday by Byron Price, former censorship director who recently concluded an investigative mission in Germany for the president.

Price in his report complained about the system under which one of the four powers on the control commission by a single dissenting vote could veto operations of the council. He blamed France for obstruction of the operation of Germany as an economic unit.

This veto situation, the president said, is one of the things being discussed by this government in its efforts to have at least some portions of the Potsdam declaration changed.

To the People of this Community

Here's an up-to-the minute tale of two cities, a strikingly different kind of tale from the one Dickens wrote. The label is simply "Hiroshima and this community."

Look around you as you go home today. Take a walk in your neighborhood. Listen to the laughter of the children. Watch little Johnny nearly carry a football almost bigger than himself in a brave effort to be like Tommy Harmon. Now recall this eyewitness report from Hiroshima: "Destroyed at one stroke by a single atomic bomb... what had been a city of 300,000 had vanished..."

Fortunately, we owned the first atomic bomb. It cost you two billion dollars. The government still has billions of dollars in other war bills to wipe out. The Victory Loan is being held to provide the government with the money. Your part is to buy as many Victory Bonds as you have extra dollars above living costs. Do not shed tears for Hiroshima, but express thanks for your safe land, by helping to foot the victory bill with the investment of your money in Victory Bonds.

Cargo Of Monkeys Causes Bad Time

Laramie, Wyo. (U.P.)—Boatswain's Mate 2-C Robert Bruce Cruzen of Laramie learned the real meaning of "monkey business" when the ship on which he served picked up 300 of the creatures in India to be brought to the States for experimental purposes.

Fourteen of the monkeys died during the long trip. Each time it was necessary to open the cage and take out the body. That was what the others had been looking for, and they all escaped.

All the animals were rounded up by a weary crew after considerable time. Meanwhile, the "monks" had been tearing things up in general on the ship.

Local government in Pennsylvania costs about $438,000, 000 a year.

LIE DETECTOR TO HAVE EXTENSIVE USE FOR FUTURE

Hamilton, N. Y. (U.P.)—Extensive use of the "lie detector" in business and industry is predicted.

Dr. F. Kenneth Berrien, Colgate university psychologist and long-time consultant on the polygraph, foresees a prominent role for the machine in the mutual protection of both employers and employees as well as in crime detection.

Dr. Berrien points out that surveys have revealed as many as 75 per cent of the employees of some hotels, stores, banks and filling stations pilfer sizable amounts of cash or merchandise. Lloyds of London already have endorsed the polygraph and are offering 10 per cent bond premium reductions to employers who have their workers tested at regular intervals, he says.

Asserting that but for public and police misunderstanding the "lie detector" would already be in wider use, Dr. Berrien says "to much has been expected of the polygraph in the hands of unskilled operators."

"I think it safe to say, however," he adds, "that it will be used extensively not only in crime detection but also for the mutual protection of employee and employer as techniques are perfected and operators trained."

TWO INJURED WHEN AUTO HITS POLE

City police investigated an accident at the intersection of 12th street and Riverside avenue last night in which a car operated by Phyllis Lillie, Provolet, was demolished after striking a telephone pole, officers reported today. Miss Lillie and Lowell Flesher, 714 Sherman street, passenger in the car, were treated at Community hospital for cuts, and were to be released today, it was reported.

John Rose, route 4, was also passenger in the auto, but was not treated for injuries.

Police were told that the car struck the telephone pole to avoid hitting a second car, traveling west on 12th street.

Cold Weather Care For Animals Told By Humane Society

Information regarding the proper feeding and care of animals during the present cold weather were issued today by the Southern Oregon Humane society.

"All animals need additional feed during especially cold weather and state laws specifically state that all animals must be properly sheltered and they must not be tethered without shelter during cold weather," the society points out. "Stock owners know that since stock is especially valuable at this time, there is absolutely no excuse for not giving all stock the best of care."

"Native birds are also apt to suffer during weather like the present and the society urges residents of the county to put out scraps, crumbs and chick feed for them."

"Oregon law also prohibits the abandonment of animals," the report concludes.

There are many veterans of World War II who lost an arm or a leg in battle. These veterans will need to learn new trades that your Victory Bond purchases will help make possible.
