

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN DIES ON HONOLULU VISIT

Mrs. Richard C. Joy of Ashland has received word that her mother, Mrs. May Louise Wilson, passed away suddenly in Hopkinton, Iowa, in 1973. She was visiting with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Wendell R. McCool. Mrs. Wilson lived in Medford many years.

The deceased was born in Hopkinton, Iowa, in 1873. She came to Oregon with her family in 1910 and established a residence in Medford. During the immediate years following Mrs. Wilson was active in church work and as a teacher of elocution classes.

Before coming west Mrs. Wilson taught at Western college and traveled extensively with her husband on entertainment tours. She made many appearances in public entertainments in Medford and coached a number of high school plays. Mrs. Wilson left Medford in 1920 and lived in Portland for a few years.

Although away from the valley from time to time in recent years, Mrs. Wilson spent much time in Medford and Ashland and in Bend, Ore., with her oldest daughter, Mrs. Grace Morris Ferguson. She sailed to the Islands late in the summer with Mrs. McCool, who was returning from a visit to Ashland.

Cremation has taken place in Honolulu.

Wall Street

New York, Nov. 30—(U.P.)—The stock market closed November today on a burst of strength that carried the utility average to a new high for more than 14 years and the other major sections to within less than a point of their best levels since 1937.

Leading industrials had gains ranging from more than a point. The rails had advances in leaders. Liquors shot up 3 or 4 points. Eastern Air Lines soared 8 points and United Air Lines preferred was up 17.

New buying came into a sizeable group of high priced shares on talk of split ups in their shares, a factor which has been sure-fire for advances in recent sessions.

Preliminary closing Dow-Jones stock averages: Industrial 191.46, up 0.88; railroad 63.90, up 0.71; utility 38.77, up 0.26; 65 stocks 72.28, up 0.71.

Sales totaled 1,820,000 shares compared with 17,500,000 yesterday.

ILL PROSPECTOR BROUGHT OUT OF APPLIGATE HILLS

Andrew Jeldness, aged prospector, was brought from his isolated home in the Squaw Lake district last evening by his son, Otto, according to a report this morning from the Star Ranger station in the Appligate. The elder Jeldness, about 85 years of age, had been reported in need of medical attention earlier in the week but storms had prevented a group of Appligate neighbors from making the trip into the isolated cabin occupied by Jeldness and his wife.

Trouble beset the younger Jeldness and two friends, Florence Hall and Mr. Samuels, when the Hall car, in which the party was making the trip down to the valley, collided with another auto on a sharp curve, badly damaging the Hall machine, it was reported from the ranger station. Hall, driving a Model A Ford, had succeeded in reaching the end of the Squaw Lake road, in poor condition because of winter storms.

Otto Jeldness took his father to his home in McLeod and will return to Squaw Lake later for his mother, who remained to put the cabin in order before leaving for the winter. Friends state that the son had urged his parents to come to Medford to live last fall but that they had refused to do so.

More Paper For Civilian Needs
Washington, Nov. 30—(U.P.)—The civilian production administration announced today that 10 per cent more paper would be available for civilian needs after Dec. 1.

The increase will be possible through a cut from 20 to 10 per cent in government "set aside" paper reserves.

The relaxation in the set aside reserves applies to all types of paper, OPA said. Newsprint supplies will not be affected, however, because the government uses such a small amount.

Social List Omits Elliott Roosevelt
New York, Nov. 30—(U.P.)—The name of Elliott Roosevelt was dropped from the new edition of the Social Register, out today.

Speculation was that his marriage to Faye Emerson, movie actress, or publicity on the loan from John H. Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., may have caused the omission.

Jessie Pearson Beer wins recognition

JUST FOR FUN
Mrs. Beer posed beside the family car in 1920. Running a home, and baking for three sons (now in service) and her husband was a more serious matter. Today, her 30 years of baking with Sperry Drifted Snow Flour have won special recognition from Sperry's Martha Meade.

THE POPULAR COIFFURE of 1914 was this swirled roll worn by Mrs. Beer. And the popular Western flour of 1915, just as it is today, was Sperry Drifted Snow Flour. 1915 was the year Mrs. Beer first started using it for all her homemade bakings.

IT'S A CHRISTMAS TRADITION for Mrs. Jessie Pearson Beer of Los Angeles, to send fruit cakes overseas. (Last year she sent twenty!) And for over 30 years, it's been a baking tradition for her to use Sperry Drifted Snow Flour.

In recognition of these two traditions, Sperry's Martha Meade has dedicated her new Fruited Pound Cake to Mrs. Beer. It's an exciting new Christmas delicacy made with the new one-bowl method. (See recipe.)

SPERRY DRIFTED SNOW
Home-Perfected ENRICHED FLOUR

FASHIONS HAVE CHANGED and the bustles and plumes of the '70s and '80s have gone the way of this "perilous bicycle." But Western baking customs haven't changed. Today, Western women still continue to make man-pleasing bakings with Sperry Drifted Snow Flour, just as their grandmothers did so long ago.

Mrs. Beer, 30-year user of SPERRY DRIFTED SNOW FLOUR was thrilled with this new Christmas cake!

FRUITED POUND CAKE
by Martha Meade

It's fun to make this Christmas cake with the time-saving Martha Meade one-bowl method! "It has such a nice, moist, tender texture!" exclaimed Mrs. Jessie Pearson Beer when she first saw it. Then too, it has a deliciously different new flavor that's sure to make a hit!

Be sure all ingredients are at room temperature (approximately 70°). Take milk and eggs from refrigerator or cooler far enough in advance or bring to room temperature by placing in a bowl of warm water for a short time.

Preheat oven to baking temperature, 325°, before starting to mix cake.

Line an ungreased loaf pan, 7 1/2 x 3 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches, with a double thickness of heavy paper. (Paper need not be greased.)

Sift flour once before measuring. Measure all ingredients (level) before starting to mix. Use double-action baking powder in this recipe.

Sift together into a mixing bowl—

- 1 1/2 cups sifted Sperry Drifted Snow "Home-Perfected" Enriched Flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons double-action baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sugar

Add—

- 1/2 cup high grade vegetable shortening
- 1/2 cup undiluted evaporated milk
- 1 egg, unbeaten
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

Beat 3 minutes by electric mixer on medium speed, or beat vigorously with a spoon, approximately 150 strokes per minute. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl frequently. Then stir in, by hand, with a spoon—

- 1 cup finely chopped, mixed dried fruit and peels.

Four batter into prepared pan and bake in a moderately slow oven, 325°, for 1 hour 10 minutes. When baked, turn out of pan onto wire cake rack to cool and carefully remove heavy paper. Let stand until thoroughly cool before slicing. 1 loaf.

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!
You'll have perfect success with this recipe using Sperry Drifted Snow "Home-Perfected" Enriched Flour. Otherwise, write to Sperry Flour, San Francisco 6 and they'll refund double the cost of your sack of Drifted Snow.

CHRISTMAS IN THE KITCHEN
means you'll need a new, big sack of Sperry Drifted Snow Flour! For steamed puddings, Santa Claus cookies, flaky-crustured pies, muffins, nut-breads and fruit cakes... women who know use Drifted Snow.

What we do to give you coffee with an extra flavor "lift"

Sight Edwards
—an authority on fine coffees

My coffee, you'll find, has a richness of flavor that really satisfies. That's because we blend and roast in small batches... under the personal formula of my father... perfected over 40 years ago. It's a painstaking custom way of doing things (we even select the choice coffee beans for size, shape and color), but it does give you coffee with a delicious extra flavor "lift." Try a pound and see for yourself. If you don't thoroughly enjoy it, your money will be refunded.

EDWARDS COFFEE
REGULAR GRIND

TO GIVE YOU the full, natural coffee taste, we blend by favor, not by weight... roast by the Thermal "heated air" process which develops all the richness in the bean.

TO GIVE YOU absolute freshness, we grind immediately after roasting... then vacuum-pack to seal in all the flavor and aroma. Edwards Coffee is really fresh!
