

DRAFT HOLIDAY FOR CHRISTMAS

Washington, Dec. 7 — (U.P.) — The draft will take a holiday this Christmas but not demobilization.

Selective service headquarters has directed that no registrants be sent to induction centers Dec. 22 through Dec. 26, or on Jan. 1.

At the same time the war department announced that army separation centers would keep going full blast on Christmas and New Year's day to avoid interruption of demobilization.

though all other military installations in the U. S. will be on holiday schedule.

Albany Boy Champ Vegetable Grower

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 7—(U.P.)—James L. Ammon, 18, of Albany, Ore., was named 1945 champion today in the National Junior Vegetable Growers association production-marketing contest.

Ammon produced and sold $5,300 worth of truck crops last summer to top contestants from 48 states in competition for $6,000-in scholarship awards.

The scholarships are provided by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company. Runners-up to Ammon included Regional Champion John Grenz, 16, of Albany, Ore.

Dear _____ Date _____

This turned out to be a busy week, with the 60th annual meeting of the Oregon Horticultural society being held here. Federal court opening with both grand and trial jury sessions, and the health association winding up the mass chest X-ray program and starting on the annual Christmas seal sale. Christian Endeavor societies of the district are holding a rally at the Presbyterian church here tonight.

News from the national capital this week said that the Veterans' Administration had approved a new hospital for Klamath Falls and that supplemental appropriations had been asked by the Department of the Interior to provide a winter program for Crater Lake park. However, further word from Washington was to the effect that there is still hope that the Camp White hospital will be taken over by the administration and park officials here declare it is too late to start a winter program for Crater Lake due to lack of equipment and a proper staff.

Members of the Tornado football team are elated over the prospect of attending the East-West Shrine football game in San Francisco New Year's Day. As a reward for winning the district two and southern Oregon championships, business men, lodges and service clubs have contributed funds for the trip. The boys will be accompanied by their coaches. Announcement of the award was made at a football banquet given by the Lions' club, and at this time Darrell Riggs, captain, was presented the October award of the Medford Athletic association.

Despite only one clear day in November, the monthly rainfall was only slightly above normal. High winds a couple of days kept the fire laddies busy putting out flue fires.

Quite a few Medford people went up to Eugene for the OSC-University game, which OSC won 13 to 12.

Interest is keen in the Victory Bond queen contest, with Margaret Ruth Bolton being in the lead at present.

Four weddings were announced Sunday. Carlin Platt to Maurice W. Davis, air corps veteran of Stockton, Calif.; Margaret Whittle of Ashland to Price M. Heman, Jr., medical corps veteran from Albuquerque; Evelyn Little of Prairie City to Douglas Mordoff and Barbara Lois Ketchum of Portland to Richard D. Proebstel, veteran of four year's service with the "Fighting Irish" regiment. The engagement of LaVelle Mason to Walter Chester Ricks, Jr., navy veteran, has been announced.

One of the recent arrivals home is Lt. Raymond Proctor, photographic officer with the 13th air force, who served 33 months in the Southwest Pacific, and First Lt. Leland E. Wilson is en route home from Manila after service with the Fifth air force. Capt. Leslie Conroy has reported for duty at Glennon hospital, Okmulgee, Okla., after a visit here. He served in the European theater, Bob Hamilton, S1c, who served in the Pacific for the past eight months on a destroyer, was home recently on a brief leave.

Lewis A. Rose, stationed with the third signal battalion near Keigo Seoul, Korea, has been promoted to technical sergeant.

On the last list of men discharged are the names of Robert L. Ettinger, former lieutenant in the navy air corps who served 27 months in the Pacific; former air force sergeant, Russell W. Roseborough, in the army nearly four years; Harry H. Heavilin, former technician who spent 11 months overseas with an engineer unit; Gordon Barker, now back with the city fire department after serving in Italy; Robert Blaess, in the air corps eight months; R. Burdette Center, who served 18 months in the European theater as a sergeant and John F. O'Hara, in the military police six years.

Others discharged are Virgil Lacy, who served with the 20th air force on Tinian; John L. Bittle, former sergeant who spent 18 months in Italy; George Fredenburg, former staff sergeant with the 13th air force, and Lloyd W. Oliver, who served both in the Pacific and European theaters.

Pictures of Cadet Dan Graham make up the cover of the Nov. 16 issue of the Pointer at West Point. Cadet Graham is pictured wearing both his cadet uniform and the regular army uniform which he will graduate into in June.

California Storm Kicks Up High Sea

Los Angeles, Dec. 6 — (U.P.) — Damage from heavy surf which pounded the water front from Malibu to Long Beach today totaled at least 10 boats beached, three fishing boats torn from their moorings and splintered on the beach, one other capsized, and water-front homes invaded and damaged by waves.

Redondo Beach was hit heavily by the swollen sea which sent swells ranging up to 30 feet in height crashing upon the beach and into sea-side homes.

MRS. HUGHES DIES

Washington, Dec. 7—(U.P.)—Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes, wife of the former chief justice of the United States, died at her home here last night, one day after her 57th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Hughes, 81, had been ill for several weeks. Funeral services will be held in New York where interment will be in Woodlawn cemetery.

PARTIES TO PICK CANDIDATES FOR MOTT SUCCESSOR

Salem, Ore., Dec. 6—(U.P.)—The growing list of candidates for the position of congressional representative from the first Oregon district may be pruned to two-one for the democrats and one for the republicans—after the two parties hold their respective congressional committee meetings here the next two consecutive Saturdays.

Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell, Jr., flipped a hot potato to the democrats and into the political merry-go-round when he announced yesterday that he would allow candidates, nominated by party committees, to run under party labels on the special election ballot set for January 11. Election officials previously had stated that candidates would have to run as independents.

Four G. O. P. Aspirants

The republican committee which is to meet here Dec. 8 has a field of four announced candidates from which to choose. Two—Walter Norblad, of Astoria, and Dan Harmon of Newberg—have stated they would abide by the party selection if other republican candidates would do likewise. They both spoke in favor of party solidarity. R. L. Conn, an army captain now on terminal leave at his home in Lake Grove, said he would run regardless of party endorsement, but in view of recent developments, Conn too may retire from the race if not endorsed by the republicans.

Eugene E. Marsh, McMinnville attorney and speaker of the Oregon house of representatives, has not committed himself regarding endorsement, but it is believed by some that Marsh already has received the nod from Republican big wigs and will be carrying the GOP colors to the polls.

Two Democrats

On the democratic side of the fence, two candidates have announced their entry into the race. They are Bruce Spaulding, Salem attorney, one of the demos' favorite sons, and Jack Bain, of Oregon City, state representative from the Clackamas Multnomah joint district.

Two other persons still undecided in the "I-wanta-be-a-congressman" contest are Morton Tompkins, state grammar master, a republican, and Lyman Ross, Washington county democrat.

Does this sauce do more for plain foods?

LET'S ASK THE WOMEN WHO COOK WITH DEL MONTE!

2 out of 3 of them have used it more than 10 years

Yes, Del Monte Tomato Sauce has been the grand old cooking sauce of western housewives, for years! Was their favorite—is their favorite!

And even during the war, when it was hard to get, they didn't forget it. Certainly not!

How do we know? Well, one of America's largest independent research organizations went out and asked them.

And what did Del Monte users say about Del Monte Tomato Sauce? Plenty! Enthusiasm such as even we never expected! Just listen to Mrs. Anderson, for instance:

"No other sauce does the job I want!"

— Says MRS. JOHN H. ANDERSON, 1007 MOHAWK ST., LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

Just why is Del Monte your favorite, Mrs. Anderson?

I can tell you in one word—flavor! It has plenty of good, rich tomato flavor. You can taste its flavor in any dish, and you can taste the flavor of the foods cooked with this sauce. I say that's the test of a good tomato sauce. Another thing—Del Monte is always dependable. Not only the Tomato Sauce—other Del Monte foods, too. I use lots of them.

Have you used this sauce for a long time?

It was new to me when I came from Vermont 18 years ago. Except for one single time, I've used it ever since. Awhile back I tried another brand and I didn't like it as well. From then on, when my grocer didn't have Del Monte, I did without. That's how much I like it.

Do you use it in many different dishes?

Yes, I certainly do. In vegetable soup, meat loaf, stuffed peppers, meat pies and many others. I think my favorite, though, is Tamale Pie. I served this dish to 20 guests at a luncheon for Red Cross workers. All the ladies enjoyed it, and several have asked for the recipe, so it must be good!

— so, for real tomato flavor BE SURE IT'S

Del Monte TOMATO SAUCE

Mrs. Anderson always makes a hit with this zesty TAMALE PIE

3 cups boiling water 1 1/2 tbsps. chili powder
1/2 tsp. salt 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup yellow corn meal 1/2 tsp. pepper
2 tbsps. bacon fat or other shortening 2 cans Del Monte Tomato Sauce
1 large onion, minced 1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup green pepper, minced 1 heaped-up cup of ripe olives, drained
1 lb. hamburger

In the top of a double boiler but over direct heat, bring the water to a rolling boil and add the salt. Very slowly add the corn meal, stirring constantly. Boil hard for 2 minutes, then place over boiling water and cook for at least 30 minutes. Meanwhile, heat the fat in a skillet and fry the onion, peppers, and the meat until the onion is transparent and the fat and pepper, Tomato Sauce, water and the drained olives. Simmer slowly for 15 minutes, then turn into a casserole that is about 8x10 x 2 1/2 inches. Top carefully with the hot cornmeal mush to make a crust. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for about one hour. Serves 5-6.
