PROBERS PRODUCE LETTER TO DEWEY FROM MARSHALL

Washington, Dec. 7 — (U.P.) — Two letters which Gen. George C. Marshall wrote to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey during the 1944 presidential campaign, asking him not to disclose that the United States had broken Japanese codes, were placed before the Pearl Harbor investigating committee today.

Chairman Alben W. Barkley, D. Ky., announced that the committee took responsibility for disclosing the entire contents of the letters.

Marshall recommended that certain parts dealing with technical information about code cracking be deleted. Marshall felt that even now the disclosure of this information might impair U. S. relations with one of our allies.

First Letter Unread
Marshall wrote the first letter to Dewey Sept. 25, 1944. He sent it to Dewey by special courier — Col. Carter Clarke, who had charge of the most secret documents of the war and navy departments.

It asked Dewey to stop reading at the end of the second paragraph unless he was willing to keep its contents strictly secret.

The second letter was written Sept. 27, 1944. It showed that Clarke had returned from seeing Dewey and reported that the republican presidential candidate was unwilling to be bound by certain circumstances. In view of that fact Marshall wrote the second letter.

Politics Dilemma
Marshall said he was writing because of a "military dilemma" resulting from congressional political battles of the presidential campaign.

Then he went on to say that the most vital evidence in the Pearl Harbor matter was the interception of Japanese diplomatic communications.

Earlier Marshall had told the committee that he drafted a war warning to Pacific commanders on Dec. 7, 1941, as soon as he learned of Japan's decision to break off negotiations later that day.

FALLING GOOSE INJURES HUNTER

Klamath Falls, Dec. 7 — Edward M. Brown, 33-year-old Beverly Hills, Calif., hunter was seriously injured Monday when a honker goose shot by one of his companions, plunged from the sky and struck him in the chest. Brown is recovering at Hillside hospital.

Crown, with Scotty Williamson and Orbin Cooksey of Medford and Glenn A. Diem of Beverly Hills, went to the Upper Klamath lake marsh early Monday. They were on the firing line when a flight came over. Brown said he raised up to shoot and had a bead on a fine goose and the next thing he knew he was prone on the ground, lying on his back.

The hunter's companions realized the man's injury was serious and started immediately for Klamath Falls. Brown collapsed several times en route to the car. Today his physician said that Brown's condition was improved but that the force of the blow would keep the man in bed for from 30 to 45 days. There was considerable damage to the heart, it was explained.

Brown is a veteran of service in both the Pacific and European theaters and as a member of the United States coast guard saw considerable action without injury of any kind. He was recently discharged.

GERMAN TRIALS REVEAL PLAN TO TAKE GIBRALTER

Nuernberg, Dec. 7 — (U.P.) — Adolf Hitler ordered his high command in November, 1940, to rush plans for the seizure of Gibraltar in anticipation of Spain's entry into the war, evidence brought to light by the war crimes trial disclosed today.

The evidence was in the form of a directive from Hitler to his high command. It was presented to the court by Col. H. Phillimore, British prosecutor.

There were sections dealing with France, the Balkans and one headed "Spain and Portugal."

A report made by Alfred Rosenberg, another of the defendants, said that Hitler told Vidkun Quisling, the Norwegian traitor, in December, 1939, that he would prefer to see a completely neutral attitude in Norway. Hitler added that he did not intend to enlarge the theater of war and draw more nations into it.

DON'T LET SOAP SHORTAGES GET WORSE You can help!

Keep saving used fats to help prevent further cuts in your soap supply

As long as our country's supply of industrial fats is so low, the government must determine how much fat can be released to make soap and other peacetime goods.

Any let-down in your saving of used kitchen fats will make our fat supply even less...and the amount allowed for soap manufacture may have to be cut accordingly. The end of rationing of food fats doesn't change the picture. Industrial fats are still very short. So keep turning in your used fats, won't you?...and speed the return of more soaps to your dealer's shelves.

IT'S SUCH A GOOD HABIT... I'LL KEEP SAVING FATS AS LONG AS THE GOVERNMENT WANTS!

GOOD FOR YOU MRS. BROWN YOU'LL HELP PUT MORE SOAPS BACK ON THE COUNTER SOONER!
