Yuletide Wreaths Are Made By Club For Navy Hospital

A great many Medford Garden club members gathered Wednesday and Thursday to assist Mrs. Max Leischner, chairman, in making wreaths, garlands and other evergreen arrangements for the Camp White hospital and the Riverside USO. Ninety-two pieces and 75 feet of garlands were completed. Serving on Mrs. Leischner's committee were the Mesdames E. Birkholz, E. Ferguson, M. Mears, L. Gober and F. W. Scheffel.

The basement of the home of Mrs. W. L. Greenleaf, 103 South Holly, had been offered as a workshop and after the wreaths were completed, members adjourned to the living room for a business meeting, program and tea. Mrs. C. A. Renken gave an interesting talk on traditional Christmas plants and symbols.

Mrs. Ralph Woodford, chairman for the tea hour, was assisted by Mrs. M. Ottoman, Mrs. C. C. Furnas and Mrs. L. V. Watkins. Mrs. R. T. Nichol, a past president, poured at a tea table centered with holly and mistletoe.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Nichol and Mrs. Otto Ewaldsen. Mrs. W. C. Rookard, president of the club, will furnish the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce with flowers during December.

Reviews Feature Meeting of Club

Morton compares pre-war England with the country during the height of the war and, watching for planes from a belfry, sums his thoughts up by writing that the war with Germany has really helped England by making her realize her true position.

The Lehman work, a book of modern fiction, deals with three generations of an English family in the World War I period.
