

CENTRAL PT. MILL OF CHENEY CO. TO RESUME CUTTING

Central Point, Dec. 10.—Nearly rebuilt following its destruction by fire August 14, the Cheney Oregon Lumber company stud mill at Central Point will resume operation in about three weeks according to Francis I. Cheney, secretary-treasurer of the firm.

The mill will start cutting as soon as the newly installed machinery is in order. Eight men will be employed.

As previous to the fire, the mill will cut eight foot studding. Two by four inch pieces will be the main output. However, the mill will produce two by three and one by four inch pieces to some extent. Daily cut will be 40,000 board feet.

Although some of the studding will be sold locally, chief market will be in California and the east.

Mr. Cheney considers the mill a venture in conservation as well as business. The studs are saved from side-cuttings left over in the manufacture of ties. And, because of the demand for edgings or slabs and for sawdust, the whole log is rendered marketable, Mr. Cheney points out.

Side-cuttings, formerly looked upon as waste, were burned by the mills. The Cheney concern purchases side-cuttings from 15 small mills in this region and markets their ties as well.

Pioneers in this sort of operation, the Cheney company has stud mills in Tacoma and Raymond, Wash., and in Greenville, Calif. The original Central Point mill was constructed in 1942.

Central Point Unit To Meet Dec. 19 At The Bohnert Home

Central Point, Dec. 10.—Central Point Home Extension unit will meet December 19, at 9:30 a. m. at the home of Eudora Bohnert. Miss Farrell will begin her talk on the topic "Making Kitchens More Livable" at this earlier hour in order that the meeting may close in time to enable those who so desire to attend the school Christmas program.

Each one attending is asked to bring a homemade gift not to exceed 50 cents in value for the Christmas grab bag.

Young mothers and homemakers are cordially invited. Mrs. Al Williams will care for any pre-school child, at her home on 6th and Laurel streets, for a nominal sum from the parent. The remainder of the expense will be paid by the unit. The mother is requested to furnish milk for her child, but the remainder of the lunch will be served by Mrs. Williams.

A rummage sale is being planned, donations for which may be taken to the meeting at Mrs. Bohnert's. Time and place of the sale will be announced later.
