Your Health and It's Care

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY M.D.

THE USE OF POWERFUL ANTISEPTICS

I began experimenting when I was a medical student, continued the habit when I was an intern, but by that time I experimented on patients as well as on myself. Well, the patients were getting free hospital care and my services too — it was only fair that I should get something out of it.

Dr. Brady

One day I wanted to demonstrate to some fellow interns and some nurses the most effective antiseptic for carbolic acid. I filled a basin with pure liquefied phenol (carbolic) and immersed my hands in it—maybe only one hand, I can't remember just how reckless I may have been for a minute by the watch. Then I removed the hand or hands from the carbolic acid. The skin was white and the hand or hands quite numb. Then I immersed the hand or hands in a basin of pure grain alcohol.
After a minute or two I took the hand or hands out of the alcohol. Now the skin was normal, the numbness was gone and there was no further effect.

Some physicians (including Doc Brady) believe that pure liquefied phenol ("carbolic acid") is the best agent for cauterizing a wound, say a bite inflicted by a dog or any wound by any animal or fowl that may possibly contaminate or infect such wound with the germs of lock jaw. When the pure phenol has done its work (say in 10 seconds) it may be neutralized by applying pure grain alcohol to the whitened tissue cauterized by the phenol, for an equal length of time. In a report on Landry's (ascending) Paralysis following administration of Pasteur treatment Dr. C. R. Thomas, Tenn.
State Med. Ass't Jour., July, '45) states that "pure phenol destroys the virus rapidly." He refers to the virus of rabies—a hypothetical virus, since no one has established the cause of rabies in animals and, in my judgment, therefore, it is absurd for a physician or other presumably informed person to assert that this or any other substance applied to a wound "destroys the virus" of rabies. But then, I'm just a plodding country doctor and maybe if I knew better I'd defer politely to the eminent medical authorities who are never so good as when they are pulling some such trick as that on the gullible public.

It is probably futile to try to explain in a paragraph the difference between antiseptic and aseptic surgery or treatment of wounds. Your dictionary will tell you that asepsis means "state of being aseptic; the methods or processes of making or keeping aseptic." And then aseptic means "free or freed from pathogenic microorganisms" (disease germs), "preventing sepsis, or not involving sepsis; as aseptic surgery, characterized by the sterilization of instru-

German Planned
Starvation Death
For Red Millions

Nuernberg, Dec. 18.—(U.P.)— German leaders deliberately planned to starve "tens of millions" of Russians to death or force them to march into Siberia so Germans at home could have a larger meat ration, the war crimes tribunal was told today.

Documents introduced by the American prosecution revealed that Adolf Hitler had ordered seizure of all Russian livestock after the 1941 invasion to restore the cut in the German meat ration.

vasion admitted frankly that
