

COOPERS TO BUILD STORE BUILDING AT CENTRAL POINT

Central Point, Jan. 2.—Erection of a tile brick store building by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cooper will begin here early this spring, Mrs. Cooper stated this morning.

The building, which will be constructed on lots between the fire hall and Stone's drug store, will accommodate two businesses and will have about 54 foot frontage on Pine street.

Foundation for a two floor building will be laid but the initial structure will be only one story high. A stucco finish is planned.

The Coopers recently purchased the Williams building that formerly housed the post office. Mrs. Cooper has a gift and newly shop in the Cowley building which the Coopers sold to John Cupp about one month ago.

Billings Agency In Ashland Sold; Oldest in State

S. C. Jones and Sons of Medford today took over the management of the Billings Insurance Agency in Ashland, said to be the oldest insurance agency in Oregon. The business, established in 1883 by the late G. F. Billings, was purchased several weeks ago by Mr. Jones and his two sons, Stanley Jones, Jr., now a junior grade lieutenant in the navy, and Kenneth H. Jones, flight officer in the army air corps, from G. H. Billings.

It is stated that Lt. Jones, who expects to be released from the navy in the spring, will be in charge of the Jones Agency in Medford while the younger son will enroll at the Southern Oregon College of Education when released from the army and will devote his spare time to the agency.

Jones was on the staff of the California-Oregon Power company here for 26 years before going into the insurance business. About the middle of the month Mr. and Mrs. Jones will take up residence in Ashland at 142 Church street, the Billings' home, while Mr. and Mrs. Billings plan to leave for a vacation trip south.
