

Medford Faces Cavemen In Loop Opener Tonight

Southern Oregon conference basketball makes it bow here tonight when Medford high and Grants Pass match baskets on the local high school court, beginning at 8 o'clock. A preliminary between the junior varsity fives of the two schools is set to get under way about 7 p. m.

Coach Al Simpson said yesterday Don Waldron and Bill Werner have returned to school following a few days "under the weather" and will be ready to go tonight. Earl Stelle, who suffered a sprained ankle in practice last week, will suit up tonight but is expected to see only a little, if any, action. Jim Cave, who has been bothered with shin splints all season, has obtained another pair of shoes which is expected to overcome the condition.

Gruelling Drill

The Black Tornado went through a gruelling two and a half hour drill Wednesday night and had only light tapering off exercises last night. The club was pronounced ready to go by Simpson after last night's workout.

Simpson said he will probably start Bob Watson and Jerry Ross at forwards, Darrell Riggs at center, and Carl Reich and Glenn Bestwick at guards. Cliff McLean, of the University of Oregon, and Leonard Warren, Ashland, will referee the game.

Grants Pass is expected to be paced by Jack Lutz, one of the best all-around athletes in Grants Pass history, and Bill Everton, who was one of the Cavemen's mainstays last season.

TALENT TO MEET MYRTLE PT. TEAM

Talent, Jan. 11—Talent high school's Bulldogs, undefeated in high school circles this season, will tangle with the strong Myrtle Point high school basketball team in an inter-sectional game here Saturday night. A preliminary game will get under way at 7:30 p. m. Myrtle Point is one of the strongest teams in Douglas county and Talent Coach Roy Parr is expecting a gruelling evening for his quintet.

Roland Parks and Les Grant, both of Ashland, will referee. Parr said his squad will have a practice game with the Ashland Elks on the Talent floor Monday night. It will give Talent residents a chance to see the cream of southern Oregon basketball in action.

2 WAR VETERANS TELL EXPERIENCES AT LEGION MEET

Henry Fluhrer and Floyd Hart, veterans of two wars and long time American Legion members, attended their first meeting since returning from overseas, at the Army Wednesday night. Fluhrer, in a short talk, told the Legionnaires that after travelling over a large part of the earth he is more than ever convinced that the Rogue River valley is a great country. In commenting on the need for more interest in youth training in this country Fluhrer told of the many children he has seen in Europe whose lives have been ruined by the training ordered by vicious leaders. He stated that in many countries this training is starting again, which is all the more reason why we should see that our youth become good citizens.

The revised plan for the American Legion home was approved by the members of the post. Building committee chairman, Merle Jarmin, reported that all building arrangements will be ready soon for final approval.

All Legionnaires are invited to attend the district 4 conference at Grants Pass February 2 and 3, by Commander Richard Baize. Horace Bromley, Walter Reinking, Adjutant Walter Dunlap, Earl York, J. H. McKenzie and Tom Ginn were nominated delegates to the two-day meeting at which plans for the state convention in Medford this summer will be discussed.

Harry Riggs, a new Medford resident, who recently transferred from the Sheridan, Oregon, post, volunteered to assist Scoutmaster Rudolph Bills with American Legion Troop 7. Scoutmaster Bills had had charge of the Legion troop for the past 2½ years.

Fred Strang was appointed a committee chairman to investigate the talent available for a Legion band or orchestra.

Commander Richard Baize announced that any veteran who has not been contacted and desires to join the American Legion, may secure application blanks at the city police department where Baize, Walter Reinking or Clyde Fichtner will be glad to assist or from Adjutant Dunlap at the county treasurer's office in the court house.

fers independent, cushion-coil springs on all four wheels, a new system of fresh, filtered, draftless, conditioned-air with all windows closed on the same principle stratosphere liners use. And unique with Nash is its optional full-size, built-in, convertible double bed.

This feature of a convertible bed, Clauss emphasized, will have tremendous appeal to this community's many sportsmen and tourists who plan extended trips this winter and next spring.

More than 100 improvements will be found on the new Nash "600". Typical are its "Flying Scot" engine with greatly increased horsepower, its unique "sub-assembly" front end suspension, its new spaciousness with room for six big people, and its sound-killing "Sand-Mortex" insulation in all body panels.

CLAUSS DISPLAYS NEW NASH MODELS

The new Nash "600" and "Ambassador" will be on display here Saturday. It was announced today by A. F. Clauss of Clauss Motors Co., newly appointed Nash dealer for Jackson County. The initial showing will be held in the temporary location of the firm at 128 South Riverside avenue. The new building which will house Clauss Motors is now under construction at a corner of Fifth and Bartlett streets in this city, and will be ready for occupancy about April 1, according to Mr. Clauss.

Discarding the old system of body and frame, the new Nash "600" is built as a single unit of welded steel. This eliminates a quarter of a ton of useless weight, greatly increases safety, and does away with body squeaks and rattles.

Giving 25 to 30 miles on a gallon at moderate highway speeds, the new Nash "600" of
