Natural Color Western

Lovers of the unusual in motion picture entertainment and especially those who like outdoor stories, have a treat in store for them at the Craterian with the opening of "Wildfire," this coming Wednesday. The story revolves around a great brown stallion, king of wild horses, and how, in gratitude to two men, who saved him from death, he risked his own life and freedom to save them from destruction at the hands of outlaws. Photographed in gorgeous color in the wilds of Utah the story brings to the screen a picture breathtaking in the beauty of its backgrounds and scenery. Starring with "Wildfire," are many old screen favorites headed by Bob Steele and Sterling Holloway who include Franc Williams Farnum; John Miljan, Frances Ford and Sarah Hadden.

his sons-in-law, Frank Setto and Julius Bartel, both of whom were recently discharged from the service. The lumber company is owned by C. B. Collins and Grace C. Collins of Medford. A supply of lumber is being stocked and trade demands are being more adequately met, Hubbell says.
