

ELEANOR CLAIMS MORE WOMEN ARE NEEDED FOR UNO

Ex-First Lady Expresses Disappointment Over Lack of Women Delegates

By Joan Twelftree
United Press Correspondent
London, Jan. 17—(U.P.)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt suggested today that there should be more women delegates to the United Nations Organization to speak for world peace.

The former first lady said millions of women all over the world were vitally concerned with success of the UNO and she admitted considerable disappointment over the scarcity of woman delegates at the general assembly meeting.

Her own objective as an American delegate, she told a crowded press conference, was to see the causes of war eliminated and an organization established which would find a solution to problems which might otherwise lead to war.

Sidesteps Question
A reporter asked Mrs. Roosevelt what she thought about the proposal to establish the permanent headquarters of the UNO on the former estate of her late husband at Hyde Park, New York.

She sidestepped that one with the reminder that the estate is now the property of the United States government and she has nothing to do with its disposition.

Mrs. Roosevelt reiterated that her only concern along those lines was that the UNO should be established where not only the United States but the entire world could know what was going on.

As to the suggestion that Winston Churchill be appointed secretary-general of the UNO, Mrs. Roosevelt commented:

"I hardly think Mr. Churchill would like that suggestion."

Base Needs Undecided
She declined to express an opinion on the question of United Nations trusteeships, pointing out that the United States government has not determined what it will need in the way of bases, especially in the Pacific.

Her statement was interpreted as meaning that no hard and fast decisions on Pacific Island bases had been reached by the American government, a fact which often has prevented American representatives on the UNO from taking a liberal position on trusteeship questions.

It was learned in other quarters that the United States delegation in London has not yet come to grips with the trusteeship question. Some of the difficulty was understood to have resulted from the fact that the military men on the delegation here are not the same officers who attended the San Francisco conference and hence are unaware of what commitments, moral or otherwise, the United States group made there.

Foots Creek

Foots Creek, Jan. 17—Club met Jan. 10 with Mrs. Charles McLallen. Attending were Mesdames Daily, Lance, Wolgamott, Elma Barnes, Cleo Barnes, Moore, Kile and Howard.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hicks of Birdseye Creek was recently destroyed by an early morning fire. The property was formerly owned by Mr. Cash.
Friends of Mrs. M. Gandy were sorry to hear of her sudden passing last week. Services were held at Grants Pass, Jan. 8. She leaves her husband and small daughter. Mr. Gandy's parents and sister came from Portland to be with him.

Mrs. Walter Randolph of Portland came by plane Jan. 14 for a several days' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Wolgamott.

Hollis R. Bennett Y 3/c who spent a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bennett, left Jan. 12 for San Francisco for assignment. His brother Douglas, and Micky Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Mills, who recently bought the Cimfi place, have enlisted in the Navy, and left Jan. 15 for Portland for their final examinations.

Miss Betty Trunde of Kelo, Wash., has also been a guest at the Bennett home the past 10 days.

Eagle Point

Eagle Point, Jan. 17—Twenty-six members and three visitors attended the meeting of Eagle Point extension unit Jan. 10 at the home of Mrs. Wm. Perry. The demonstration, "Handle With Care," was given by Mrs. Victor Hay and Mrs. Wilfred Davies. Mrs. Carl Beebe, chairman of flower arrangement, gave an interesting talk on when and how to gather flowers and weeds to dry for winter bouquets. She also exhibited six unique arrangements depicting scenes that meet the eye, on trips into the mountains, to the seashore and the desert, made up of odd shaped rocks, petrified and drift wood, bark and moss. The outstanding piece was an Arizona desert arrangement of rock cliffs and a tall dried mullein stem and seed pod as a giant cacti for background with smaller cacti and figurines of a shepherdess and lambs on the desert floor which was of sand and small rocks. In her talk Mrs. Beebe stressed the fact that there are beauty and interesting things to be found all about even in most simple things including the old ordinary woodpile. Mrs. Buford Clarke, unit chairman for the A.C.W.W. read an interesting letter from a member in England telling of life and conditions there.

Mrs. Wm. Lang drove to Medford Tuesday to meet Mr. Lang's brother, Cox'n 1/c James of the USS Gen. W. S. Hase, who will spend a few days with them while on furlough.

Mrs. Mayme Bots and Miss Peggy Simmons of Medford were Sunday dinner guests of Peggy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simmons of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Roush are having some painting and papering done inside their house here. Gus Carlson is doing the work.

Sgt. James White is spending another furlough here with his wife and baby daughter and the rest of the Putnam family.

Mrs. Harvey Robertson has been ill with a severe cold the past few days.

The young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Holmes is ill with the measles at present but is getting along nicely.

HARVARD TO GIVE SCHOLARSHIPS ON ENLARGED SCALE

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 17—The National Scholarship program at Harvard University inaugurated in 1934 and suspended because of wartime conditions in 1942, will be resumed on an enlarged basis in 1946, Dean Paul H. Buck, university provost, announced recently.

About 40 National Scholars will be selected from members of the class entering in July or September, 1946. Anyone entering Harvard in 1946 as a freshman may apply for a National Scholarship if he resides or attends school in any state west of the Mississippi or in one of the following states: Massachusetts, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kentucky, Tennessee and Louisiana.

Stipends, which vary according to an individual's needs but may be as high as $1,200 a year, may be continued throughout the college course if high honor records are maintained. Many Scholarships are continued for graduate students who have had distinguished records in the college.

From 1934 to 1942, 253 National Scholars came to Harvard. Many entered from small rural communities. This group had an extraordinary record, not only in regard to the high proportion taking academic honors but in regard to participation in all kinds of extracurricular activities in college and in all branches of the armed forces during the war. More than a few continued their studies in the graduate field with scholarship aid and made notable contributions to scholarly and professional endeavors.

Roger Henselman and Harris James of Medford were National Scholars at Harvard. The former completed post-graduate work there; the latter entered the army and saw active service overseas, completing only one year.

Anyone in Southern Oregon interested in the matter of National Scholarships at Harvard may secure detailed information by writing the Editorial department of the Mail Tribune.

507 Small Ships Will Be Berthed At Tongue Point

Washington, Jan. 17—(U.P.)—The Navy said today that 507 small craft will be berthed at Tongue Point, Ore., as part of its inactive fleet. The group will include landing, mine, patrol, tender and repair vessels. The Tongue Point berthing is part of the Navy's peacetime plan to place nearly 2,600 ships of all types on a stand-by basis. The entire fleet could be placed in battle readiness within 30 days.

The Navy expects to have eight new piers constructed there within eight months, according to the office of Sen. Wayne Morse, R., Ore.

Vice Adm. E. L. Cochrane, director of the Bureau of Ships, told Morse that $5,325,000 had been approved for the construction work. Contracts will be let within 30 to 45 days, he said. Until full facilities at Tongue Point are completed, 125 ships will be berthed at existing facilities at the naval station there.

Walker Pass, established in 1835, was the first pass across the Sierras from the east.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

How to save more with the bulk foods

Cold weather sharpens appetites and calls for hearty meals. Here are some favorite ideas for winter-time meals using the inexpensive bulk foods—rice, lentils—and macaroni products.

SPLIT PEA OR LENTIL SOUP
It's nice to float sauteed slices of frankfurter on this soup and serve it with hot garlic French bread for a supper main dish. Place 2 cups washed split peas or lentils in a large kettle and add 2 quarts of water, 3 or 4 stalks of celery, 2 carrots, 1 medium-size onion, a bay leaf, and salt and pepper. If you have it, add the bone left from a roast, a few slices of salt pork or bits of bacon sauteed until brown, or a couple of tablespoons of meat dripping. Boil rapidly for 20 minutes and then simmer slowly about 2 hours, or until peas are soft and tender. Add more water if necessary. Serves 6 to 8.

DEVILED MACARONI OR NOODLES
To make an unusual accompaniment for meat loaf or pot roast, season about 3 cups steaming hot macaroni or noodles with 1 to 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, a dash or two of Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 cup grated sharp cheese, and butter or margarine. Sometimes a couple of tablespoons of chopped onion may be added.

HOW TO USE LEFT-OVER RICE
Rice is so easy to keep and so convenient to have on hand that it's a good idea to cook plenty extra. Just store it in a covered container in the refrigerator. Here are some favorite ways with leftover rice—

RICE CAKES—To each cup of cooked rice add 1 slightly beaten egg. Mix well. Drop by spoonfuls in hot shortening in a frying pan. Brown slowly, turning once. Serve hot, plain or with syrup.

RICE WAFFLES OR MUFFINS—Substitute cold, cooked rice for 1/2 the flour in your favorite waffle or muffin recipe. Bake as usual.

ADD cooked rice to soup, stuffing, or make it into rice pudding.
