CONSULTANT PLAN FOR VETERANS IS SET UP IN CITY

The Veterans Consultant plan, which offers constructive service to every returned veteran, was adopted at a meeting of representatives of business and professional men, unions, government, veteran service and veteran organizations at the Jackson county Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday afternoon.

William H. Fluhrer, president, and Frank Hull, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, explained the plan which is operating successfully in many localities.

The Chamber of Commerce will keep an up-to-date file of 75 local people who have agreed to serve as consultants. Any veteran desiring aid in securing a job, advice or information about any business or profession will be given an appointment with someone who can help him. Government agencies and veteran service organizations will help the veteran secure the appointment that will do him the most good.

Hull, who has spent considerable time investigating and studying the plan, said, "this plan will show the veteran what the community wishes to do for him and it will help him understand the community better. It is obvious the plan is needed. Many veterans, who have been out of contact with the business world for several years, are at a loss on how to find themselves. The Chamber of Commerce is merely bringing together the forces that will bring the objective to a terminal point. Cities where the plan is in operation report it is helping make better citizens who are better able to decide their own problems."
