Come, Come Mr. Ferguson!

We trust there is enough sense left in the Pearl Harbor Congressional committee to defeat Senator Ferguson's motion to call former Premier Winston Churchill as a witness.

The only motive behind his request is a combination of cheap publicity-seeking, and cheaper politics. Calling such a world famous man would put the Michigan Senator and his committee back on Page 1 again.

MR. CHURCHILL is no longer head of the British government and he has come to this country for a greatly needed vacation and rest. He should be accorded same, and nothing save a dire emergency in which Mr. Churchill's testimony would be absolutely essential, could justify requesting him to appear as a witness in any domestic hearing or American court.

Morse's Prestige Grows

Having just completed a swing around the circle, with considerable time spent along the Atlantic seaboard, we can say "without fear of contradiction" that the following letter, clipped from the Oregonian, is representative of widespread opinion in the East.

We quote: To the Editor: By what I am about to write it may be that I will be adjudged a political follower of Senator Morse with an axe to grind. Let me hasten to say that I am an ex-soldier recently discharged, and hailing from Massachusetts.

LEWIS POLANSKY, Westfir, Ore.

As has often been remarked—A man is not without honor save in his own bailiwick!—R.W.R.

A "Big" Man

Speaking of "big men" this department without hesitation would name Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia. He is not only big physically, but spiritually and mentally, as well as being a person of "infinite charm."

It is quite in character that he should favor UNO control of world armaments including all atomic weapons, and pledge his country to see that not one drop of the basic atomic material, uranium, found in his country ever be used for war.

IF there were only more men of his stamp and stature among the delegates at this initial session the success of the outcome would be certain.

But there are precious few, unfortunately,—and none on the American delegation. The one hope, therefore, is that these few by exercising their outstanding capacities of leadership and superior mental and moral qualities, will be able to make up in effectiveness what they lack in numbers.

If they fail in this we fear the days of usefulness of the United Nations Organization will be numbered.—R.W.R.

Fear not, dear love, that I'll reveal. These hours of pleasure we two steal; No eye shall see, nor yet the sun, Desert, what you and I have done. No ear shall hear our love, but we, Silent as the night will be; The god of love himself whose dart Did first wound mine and then your heart. Shall never know, that we can tell. What sweets in stolen embraces dwell. —Thomas Carew.

Dispatch reports a bus driver trying to avoid running into a dog crossing the street caused an accident that resulted in the injury of 13 people. A couple of years ago I read of a man who, when trying to avoid running over a dog, ran his car up on the sidewalk and killed a man. How can dogs be trained not to cross streets in jaywalker style? Just because people can't be trained not to do that let us not be discouraged about teaching it to dogs. I think it can be done. Haven't entirely succeeded in training my dog that way but am making progress. He is beginning to get the idea.

Wolves A Chicago girl says the worst "wolves" among men are those who smoke pipes. She also claims the average stenographer or secretary is rarely inclined to make advances, subtle or otherwise, to her boss. The worst "she wolves" in an office says this young woman, are female executives or those women who aspire to be executives. These career women, she says, stop at practically nothing to secure a better job or a higher salary. These interesting claims are being checked by our Horses & Women experts who will report in an early issue.

Asking Queries from Clients: Q. What is a sing-song girl? A. It is a Chinese entertainer similar to the geisha girls of Japan. Q. Say somebody gives you a puppy when it is three weeks old. Five years later you take the puppy to visit his father. Will the puppy know his sire and vice versa? A. I couldn't say. As a matter of fact we were given our dog when he was a puppy. About four years later we took him to see his sire, the old champion himself. There was no evidence of recognition. The dogs practically ignored each other.

Please Note The sports arena which had the greatest seating capacity of all time was the Circus Maximus in Rome, which accommodated 260,000 fans. Chariot racing was the chief sport there. They had bookmakers and parley even in those ancient days but no daily double or mutuels. On the curtain of the old Montauk theatre, Brooklyn, was a copy of a famous painting showing the chariots rounding the turn in Circus Maximus.

Horses & Women In "Frontier Gal" Yvonne De Carlo is spanked by Rod Cameron. The Hollywoodians have been inserting this type of scene in films for years and keep right on doing so. It is reported to be highly interesting and amusing to the feminine clientele. However, strongly advise that no husband among our subscribers assume this type of treatment is entirely approved of by wives. I know of a man in San Francisco who, acting on such assumption, tried to spank his mate. The result was he got a black eye, had some hair pulled out and his face all scratched up. Furthermore, his wife shortly after, sued for divorce, using the aforementioned incident as evidence and was awarded high alimony and all the community property.

Stogie Department A San Franciscan, claiming an experience of 58 years around race tracks, questioned my statement that George Ode n, now a trainer, once rode the great mare Imp. He said Odom wasn't riding when Imp was racing. So I checked on it. Odom has informed me he rode Imp in several races. It is also in the records. I wait the arrival of the usual stogie. Let me take this occasion to once more warn subscribers not to rashly wager stogies with this department. You can see for yourself what chance you have to win when a man with 58 years experience around racetracks loses a stogie to us or a turf question.

What the people of the country seem to need most right now, things being the way they are, is a Moses to lead them out of the mess, of their own voting.

The Les Taylor of Phoenix boy Bob, and the Dick Phair boy Dick, met informally Thurs. noon, and promptly engaged in a wrestling match. Like the Army grapplers, they were not mad at each other, but pretended to be.

ADMIRABLE CANDOR (Elderly (BC.) Commoner) "Tuesday, Christmas Day, is of course a holiday. Then, the following day is Boxing Day—another holiday; and the chances are that most people will want to take Thursday as a holiday, too; so how the heck is anyone going to get time to get a paper out? We're not!"

Hog-killing is now in full swing in the rural regions. Farmers have started to brag about how good the country sausage they are going to make tastes.

The fog was so thick last night, one could not see one's hand at arm's length, or find a lawyer to file a writ or habeas corpus to get out of it.

A trio of Finnish journalists on a tour of the land, recently in the metropolis, reported Finland views the future with "high optimism." There is no excuse for it. Finland owes Russia $300,000,000 for war reparations, and is out of everything but optimism.

THE WEAKER SEX (Klamath Falls Herald) "To his surprise, the husband opened up in a conciliatory voice.

"Don't get too excited about what happened today," he said. "We'll get out of the house as soon as we can arrange it. My wife scares me, too!"

A group of Portland Democrats were addressed on the subject: "What Does the Democratic Party Need?" It seems to need democrats, and, as in the past 16 years, Republicans voting democratic.
