

NEW RUPP DINERY $36,650 RECEIVED OPENS SATURDAY FOR ROGUE FOREST AT CENTRAL POINT ROAD, TRAIL WORK

The opening of Rupp's new ranch-style dining room in Central Point will be held tomorrow, when the public is invited to inspect the large main dining hall, separate modern coffee shop, and private banquet room. The establishment will be open daily from 6 a. m. to 1 a. m., according to Lloyd Rupp, owner, and will feature home cooking by Mrs. Rupp. Special music has been arranged for Saturday evening.

Construction of eight new houses immediately east of the dining room will be started Monday by Rupp and Ben and Francis Cheney. Central Point lumbermen. Strictly modern Spanish-style homes, they will be sold as residences. Mr. Rupp states. The same men also expect to begin construction later in the year of a modern two-story motel court just south of the dining room, with 22 ranch-style living units. The court will be operated in connection with the dining room with central telephone service, and every effort is being made to make it one of the finest motel arrangements in southern Oregon.

In Ranch Style
The new dining place includes a main dining room covering 2,600 square feet of space, and furnished with ranch-style furniture. Adjoining it is a smaller banquet room, suitable for seating 18 persons for private banquets, or capable of accommodating 35 to 40 persons for after-dinner meetings. Separate from the dining room is a modern coffee shop, with counter space for 17 persons.

Kitchen facilities are a main kitchen with the latest electrical equipment, and separate compact salad and pastry room. Controlled central heating and air conditioning extend throughout the building.
Mr. Rupp plans to extend the ranch-style landscaping around the yard and feature dinners served out of doors in the Spanish patio during the summer months. He and Mrs. Rupp have successfully operated a dining room in Central Point for nearly two years, first opening the business in April of 1944 in their house which adjoins the present place. Finishing of the rooms is being completed today.

37 New Dwellings Planned at Salem

Salem, Jan. 25—(U.P.)—Construction of 37 new homes on a 10-acre tract three miles from downtown Salem will be started this week, Ronald Hudkins, Salem real estate dealer, says.
The houses will cost from $4,000 to $7,000 each. Veterans will be given preference in purchasing the dwellings.

Women, Honest and Eager, Answer Ad

(Acme Telephoto)
Farmer Arthur Birnstengel, 44, and son, Arne, six, inspect some of the 2365 letters received when Birnstengel wrote to his congressman asking aid in getting wife who "can help milk 14 cows." Too busy operating 610-acre farm to go courting, Birnstengel advertised, demanding a woman who is honest, between 30 and 42 years old and not weighing more than 135 pounds. Responses came from New York to Chicago, Georgia to Alaska and even long-distance calls, all describing themselves as "honest."

PADGHAM HEADS FOUR-H LEADERS

Henry Padgham was elected president of the Jackson county Four-H Leaders association at a meeting last night. He is leader of the Roxy Ann Beef club. George Nichols, Jr., was named vice president and Mrs. Lester Carr was chosen secretary. Nichols is leader of the Bellview Sheep club and Mrs. Carr head of the Fern Valley Cookery club.

Members of the board of directors, in addition to the elected officers are: Tom Carlton, leader, Upper Rogue Beef club; Henry Owens, leader Valleyview Livestock club; Mrs. John Morris, leader Table Rock Cookery club, and Mrs. Ann Davis, head of the Antelope Clothing club.

Plans for the spring lamb show, and home economics exhibits to be held late in the summer were also discussed.

"Two Bits" Jackson County's Most Publicized Dog, Into Print Again

Jackson county's most publicized dog, "Two Bits," has broken into print again, this time in the current issue of Life magazine. Two Bits, as most local residents will remember, made himself famous by surviving two falls off Whiskey Peak in the southern part of the county while he and his master, William Ziegler, were spending the winter atop the peak for the army's aircraft warning service during the height of the war.

Two Bits' story is part of an article written for Life by James Thurber, famous humorist, author and artist, on "What the Animals Were Up To," and the first page is illustrated with a pen sketch of the dog peering over the cliff.

Thurber's version, however, strays somewhat from the facts as given out originally by Ziegler. Two Bits fell off the cliff, estimated to be about 800 feet high, twice, but both times the ground was covered with deep snow which probably accounted for the dog surviving. Both times he was injured, once so severely that he lay in a protected hole in the mountain side for a few days before being discovered by Ziegler.

Two Bits, somewhat lazier and a little overweight, is still a beloved member of the Ziegler family. Mr. and Mrs. Ziegler and their small child are presently

BLACKWELL HILL BUILDING PLANNED

Blackwell Hill, Jan. 25—Building of two stucco structures along the highway here will be started immediately by M. B. Lindley. One with 20 by 40 foot dimensions will contain a feed store on ground level and repair shop in the basement. The other, 20 by 32 feet, will house a novelty shop and service station.

Lindley has constructed one small residence near the business site and plans several more of three or four rooms each. He says that Bud Voss who is coming here from Stockton, Cal., will be mechanic in the repair shop.
On adjoining property, Mrs. Gladys Berge has opened a small grocery store. She plans to operate a restaurant in the frame structure soon.
Lindley leveled the area last fall.
