MUSCLE FUNCTION

One of the most important laws of the universe is essential for the welfare of man. This law concerns itself with muscular tissue. The normal function of this muscular tissue is contraction and relaxation or expansion. This amounts to work for the muscle. This work may be in the form of labor or exercise. Either to the muscle is work. The muscle must not only have this work but it must function normally in performing it or deterioration sets in. In work the muscles are too much of the time kept in too much of a tension. This results in the muscle becoming too dense, tense and stiff. It loses its flexibility and normal tone. Remember that in work the muscle must contract, followed by a brief period of relaxation or trouble results, as lumbago, etc. Have this abnormal condition corrected before trouble develops, that your muscles may function properly, and so prevent illness.

Wall Street

New York, Jan. 28 (U.P.)—Settlement over the week-end of three major wage disputes produced a bolting stock market today with trading at a new six-year high, and prices at their highest levels in more than 15 years. Net gains ranged to 10 points in Eastman Kodak. All groups moved up. Industrials rose nearly five points in their average to a new top since Oct. 4, 1930, rails to a new high since Sept. 1, 1931, and utilities to a new high since Nov. 12, 1931. The composite average made a record for that unit and it was estimated that if figures were available it would go back to early 1930.

Preliminary closing Dow-Jones stock averages: Industrials 204.62, up 4.77; rails 67.83, up 1.42; utilities 41.59, up 0.60; 65 stocks 77.14, up 1.66.

Sales totaled 3,480,000 shares, the most since May 21, 1940.

BILLION DOLLAR STEEL MERGER IS KAISER'S LATEST

New York, Jan. 28 (U.P.)—Henry J. Kaiser disclosed today that his next step will be a billion-dollar steel empire overshadowing the $50,000,000 auto industry he has just financed.

Kaiser confirmed that the first move in a vast steel company merger plan—combination with Colorado Fuel and Iron Corp. to operate the government's Geneva steel plant—already has been discussed.

In a formal statement, Kaiser said he could not deny a report that "joins" the Kaiser steel plant, at Fontana, Geneva plant, Colorado Fuel and Iron, Wickwire Spencer Steel Co., and Republic Steel Corp. in "a new giant steel enterprise."

However, Charles M. White, president of Republic Steel, told the United Press in Cleveland that rumor of a merger of Republic and the Kaiser interests "is completely and absolutely silly."

Doubt was cast on the proposed merger by a spokesman for Otis & Co., Cleveland, bank of for both the Kaiser-Frazer Automobile corporation and for Colorado Fuel and Iron. He said he knew nothing about the merger and the company "certainly had no plans to finance it."

Kaiser's statement indicated that a merger of the size that has been rumored would be completed in a series of steps.

HURLEY CHARGES FOREIGN POLICY FACTS WITHHELD

Baltimore, Jan. 28 (U.P.)—Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, former U. S. ambassador to China, charged today that the government is still withholding from the U. S. public facts about its foreign policy that are "made available to foreign organizations by leaks" from department career men.

Hurley resigned as ambassador last month after charging that pro-communist career men in the U. S. foreign service and undermined his work in China.

In an address to the Maryland bar association here, Hurley declared that the state department was still withholding government documents which he said supported his contentions. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes defended the career men assailed by the former ambassador.

But Byrnes and the senate committee, Hurley said, rejected his request that the documents be published.

"I am confident, however," he added, "that the American people are anxious to have at least those facts in regard to our foreign policy that are made available to foreign organizations by leaks from the career men in the state department."
