GRIFFIN STUDENTS REMEMBER FRIEND IN POLIO GIVING

The Griffin Creek school, southwest of Medford, is prominent in this week's contributors to the March of Dimes, the local committee announced yesterday. For the school made a generous donation of $40 to the polio fund and turned in an interesting story as reason.

Last year an eighth grade girl in the Griffin Creek school was stricken with infantile paralysis, or polio, as the disease is most commonly called. Her case demanded special care, which was not available in Jackson county. Through the polio fund this special care was administered in Portland. The girl, whose condition was then very serious, was taken on a stretcher to Portland.

She is now completely recovered. At least she has no known difficulties from the disease. She is, of course, still under observation.

Her fellow students are so happy to know that she is healthy and happy again that they and their teachers wished to make a special contribution to the drive. They know the value of their own group to normal living.

The assessor's office is anxious to have the reports filed as soon as convenient so as to facilitate listing on the tax rolls.
