Thanks for the Suggestions!

Little hints sometimes settle perplexing problems. When we suggested Sweet Rolls in the lunch box for the mid-morning or mid-afternoon hunger appeaser we solved one woman's problem and were heartily thanked for the suggestion.

Try it—the men do get hungry and a good Sweet Roll seems to be just what they like best.

For breakfast too—ready in a jiffy, they supply a good lasting cereal breakfast—good time and work saver, too.

COFFEE or TEA

The Most Appreciated Gift To Send Overseas

Now that some Coffees are packed in cans and Tea is plentiful, it's so easy to bring cheer to your friends or relatives in Europe.

Tea and Coffee are very scarce in Europe and more so in England where both are on the restricted import list. Easy to pack—inexpensive to buy and send, yet either will mean so much to the recipient.

GOOD OR YOUR MONEY BACK

*I Didn't Expect to Find Really Good Sausage Like
This Until I Got Back to the Corn Belt*

That from an officer at Camp White when he came back for more sausage. We pointed to the money back guarantee sign on the wall—"WE COULDN'T MAKE THAT GUARANTEE AND RISK SELLING POOR MEATS!"

Our officer friend really enjoyed our good sausage and so will you.

Why not serve it for Sunday breakfast? Your family will get the same eating pleasure as our officer friend and you will then realize what "Good or Your Money Back" means to you.
