

FORT M'INTOSH, HISTORIC ARMY FORT TO CLOSE

Laredo, Tex.—(U.P.)—Historic Fort McIntosh, an army post for nearly 100 years, is going to be closed.

An old frontier fort, built near this Mexican border city just after the Mexican War in 1849, it was occupied first by a company of Texas Mounted Volunteers, commanded by Capt. Mirabeau B. Lamar, second president of the Republic of Texas, which had become a state four years earlier.

The post originally was named Camp Crawford, but was renamed in honor of Lt. Col. James S. McIntosh, who, died of wounds suffered at the battle of Molino del Rey.

When the Civil War started, Federal troops left the fort and it was taken over by the state for the Southern Confederacy. Texas men wearing the gray of the south successfully defended Fort McIntosh against Union troops.

After the war, U. S. cavalry again took over the fort and it has been garrisoned continuously since 1865, although authorized strength at the post was only 10 officers and 54 enlisted men at the time of the order to end its service.

Fort McIntosh was the only army post in Texas during World War II without a prisoner-of-war stockade.

From 1930 through 1944, 3,691 jacks and 1,818 Jennets were registered with the standard jack and jennet registry, Kansas City, Co.

ORIN KERR FILES SUIT FOLLOWING CAR WRECK

Orin F. Kerr, in a suit filed in circuit court today, seeks $593 damages from C. L. Frost as the result of an auto accident on the Klamath Falls-Ashland highway last October 26.

Kerr sets forth in the action that his son, Glenn O. Kerr, was driving the auto, and in attempting to pass Frost's pickup truck, was forced off the road, damaging the car. It is alleged Frost was driving his pickup in a careless, reckless, and negligent manner, and not staying on his own side of the road. Attorney Frank Van Dyke, Ashland, appears as counsel for the plaintiff.

Cobra Venom Used As Substitute For Morphine In War

Manila—(U.P.)—Next time you need relief from pain, don't ask for morphine, because it's habit-forming. Ask for cobra venom.

That is the recommendation of T/3 George Turney, Highland Park, Mich., who held the unique job of cobra tender at the University of the Philippines.

Turney, who recently passed through the 21st Replacement Depot en route home and a discharge, said another advantage of cobra venom as anesthetic is that the effect lasts several days. The guerrilla forces used the cobra venom as substitute for morphine during the war. The venom has since been used experimentally at the state university.

During his tenure as custodian of the reptiles, Turney collected an estimated $37,000 worth of venom.

Soldier Memorial To Honor Heroes Of World War II

Semmes, Ala.—(U.P.)—This little farming community isn't talking of erecting a memorial to the heroes of World War II—they are doing something about it.

It is a recreation park and playground being erected by the First Baptist Church here to be known as the Semmes Baptist Church Memorial Park and dedicated to those who served in the second world war.

The memorial is the idea of the Rev. L. J. Chambliss, pastor of the church who believes the "church should be the center of all community social life."

The combined playground and park is already under construction and will be in operation within a few months.

SCHOOL SAFETY ZONES PAINTED

The state highway commission has marked with yellow stripes, the highway near the Oak Grove school, as a school children's crossing. Beginning next Monday, slow signs will be erected, and a junior police officer stationed by each, to call attention of motorists to the signs and the yellow markings. Caution marks are also painted.

Oak Grove school authorities report the school children will start crossing the highway between 2:45 and 4:30 p.m. daily. They will have leaders. Sheriff Howard Gault today urged motorists to heed the signs and slow down.

The Howard school and other schools of the county plan similar measures as a safety step, the sheriff further reported.

"Victory Girl" Is Continued Problem In San Diego Area

San Diego, Cal.—(U.P.)—The "Victory Girl" or patriotote is still an unsolved problem with victory, according to social welfare director Alvin G. Rowe.

"She will continue to be a casualty of the postwar era," Rowe said. "Delinquent girls under 18 have come to San Diego in ever-increasing numbers since 1940 and the influx is still on."

Admitting "there are not facilities for handling their case adequately in San Diego," Rowe said more than 60 per cent of the juvenile girls arrested had venereal diseases.

Chains Needed On Siskiyou Highway

State police officers said this morning that the Siskiyou highway into California is still slippery and chains are needed for safe travel.

Additional snowfall last night is packed on the roadway making travel exceptionally dangerous, police said. Only those having important business were advised to attempt to negotiate the slippery highway.

OPA TIMBER CEILINGS OKEH ON PUBLIC LAND

Washington, Feb. 5—(U.P.)—The Supreme court today upheld the right of the OPA to set ceiling prices on timber sold from public lands of a state.

The seven to one ruling came in an opinion read by Justice Hugo L. Black.

The court reviewed an appeal by Otto A. Case, public lands commissioner for the state of Washington, in a suit over the sale of timber from certain Washington school lands.
