CO-OP DAIRYMEN NAME DIRECTORS AT ANNUAL MEET

C. A. Smith In Presidency; Assets of Association $80,110 Shown in Report

Members of the Southern Oregon Dairy Cooperative Association voted to retain C. A. Smith, Medford, Jewell Lowe, Ashland, Roscoe Roberts, Eagle Point, and Leonard Freeman, Central Point, as directors and named Harry Dunn, Central Point, to succeed Glenn Chase, Gold Hill, on the board when they convened Monday at the courthouse auditorium for their annual meeting. Directors chose Smith as president, Lowe as vice president, and Roberts as secretary. Smith and Roberts will serve on the board for two years while tenure for the others will be one year. Total assets of $80,110.43 were indicated by the financial report and a membership of 180 persons owning an aggregate of 1,983 head of cattle was listed. The 65 members present voted a five per cent interest rate established on their preferred stock. E. L. Wetmore from the Challenge Cooperative association of Los Angeles was a guest. Organized in 1944, the cooperative took over the interests and operation of the Lost River dairy on N. Riverside avenue September 1, 1945. Purpose of the association according to President Smith is to furnish a market for products of all dairymen in the county, to alleviate problems of surplus when they arise and to insure an equal distribution of milk products throughout the county.

To achieve the first two objectives the cooperative will supplement its bottle milk trade with the manufacture of cheese, butter and ice cream as soon as previously ordered equipment arrives. The machinery will be set-up in the recently purchased Walden building just south of the present facilities.

In line with policy of the organization to cooperate with other distributors to equalize milk supply throughout the county, 150 gallons per day are now being delivered to Ashland. S. O. White, plant manager for the association, said that the dairy employs 13 other persons, has two milk deliveries in Medford, has four pick-up routes in the county and handles 11,000 pounds of milk per day.

PRESENT-DAY STUDENTS SMARTER THAN ELDERS

Lincoln, Neb. (U.P.)—Students at the University of Nebraska today are smarter than their predecessors 10 and 20 years ago. The second semester all-student grade average for the 1944-45 term was 2.512, compared to 2.349 for 1935-36, and only 2.276 for 1927-28.

The women rank higher than the men, too, with an average of 2.604. The males stood at 2.251.

OLIVE PRICE UP

Washington, Feb. 7.—(U.P.)—The OPA today increased the retail ceiling price of ripe olives by four cents for the popular nine-ounce container. The increase results from a 16 per cent hike in processors prices and also a price increase to growers.

Los Angeles, Feb. 7.—(U.P.)—Red-haired Norma Jean Moore held a divorce today from her radio announcer husband because he shared his twin beds with a man friend and forced her to sleep on the bathroom floor of their Salt Lake City apartment.

CONSTANT RECRUIT

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 7.—(U.P.)—Peter Goodin, 62, held by federal agents today, evidently couldn't make up his mind about the army. His military record, the FBI said, shows 10 enlistments, six under different names, and eight desertions.

San Francisco has been called the Washington of the West because of the concentration of federal government agencies there.

MEDFORDITE GETS PRISON SENTENCE FOR MONEY THEFT

Los Angeles, Feb. 7.—(U.P.)—Floyd E. Porter, 31, Medford, Ore., denied probation on conviction of stealing $300 from his host's home, was under a 1 to 10 year sentence to San Quentin today.

Porter was convicted January 15 on the complaint of Mrs. Josephine Lopez of La Verne, Calif., that her brother brought him home to spend the night last October 1 and the next morning $300 she had hidden under a sofa cushion was gone.

The guest, who surrendered to Seattle police, said he found the money when he prepared to hide his own valuables.

Floyd E. Porter was sentenced to two years in Oregon state prison in October, 1936, for the theft of $75 from a service station on the Jacksonville highway, sheriff's records show. He was picked up here twice for vagrancy and was wanted in Grants Pass for auto theft in February, 1945, the records revealed.

State police said Porter reported that two men held him up and took $60 from him Oct. 19, 1944, while he was driving a taxicab for a local company.

SCIENCE SOLVES MOON BLINDNESS

Chicago (U.P.)—Science finally is believed to have solved the strange "moon blindness" that has afflicted horses for centuries. Brig. Gen. R. A. Kelsler, chief of the Army Veterinary Service, told the recent annual meeting of the Horse and Mule Assn. of America that the mystifying, periodic blindness was believed due to a food deficiency.

"Moon blindness," known to veterinarians as periodic ophthalmia, has been known for 2,000 years and has cost horsemen millions of dollars by blighting horses with temporary and sometimes permanent loss of sight. Research specialists at the University of Pennsylvania, Johns Hopkins University and the Universities of Ohio and Kentucky long have sought the answer to the disease.

At the Front Royal, Va., army remount station, new cases of periodic ophthalmia had affected more than 10 per cent of the horses received. For three years, the Veterinary Research laboratory conducted research into possible cures and preventatives. Veterinarians found a clue that led to the administration of crystalline riboflavin in the feed, which prevented recurrences of "moon blindness" in previously afflicted horses, Kelsler said. He pointed out that crystalline
