

AG DEPARTMENT LAMBASTED FOR SOCIAL STUDIES

House Appropriations Com- mittee Restores $43 Mil- lion for Soil Conservation.

Washington, Feb. 27.—(U.P.)—The house appropriations committee today recommended a $1,102,000,000 agriculture department outlay for fiscal 1947 after lambasting its major research bureau for engaging in social studies and suggesting lower cotton prices.

The committee aimed the rebuke at the bureau of agricultural economics for activities beyond the "bounds of functions" intended by congress. It cut the bureau's appropriation sharply.

At the same time the committee restored a proposed budget cut of $43,000,000 in soil conservation payments to farmers. The action was taken after Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson warned that farmers might lose faith in the department if it did not fulfill its promises.

$40 Million Less

The total amount approved for the department to carry on its work during the year ending June 30, 1947, was $74,000,000 more than the appropriation for the current fiscal year. It was $40,000,000 less, however, than the total recommended by the budget bureau.

The increases approved over last year reflected largely the committee's desire to enlarge services that were curtailed during the war. These include soil conservation, forest development and preservation, disease control and agricultural research.

In addition to $300,000,000 for the land conservation program the bill, as approved by the committee and placed before the house, included the following appropriations within the department:

Aid Extension Service

Bureau of agricultural economics, $4,031,000; extension service, $28,475,000; agricultural research administration, bureau of animal industry, $19,118,000; bureau of plant industries, $19,118,000.

PEAR TREES

We have a small surplus in Bartlett pear, prune, apple, and cherry trees—fine well-rooted stock. Berries, roses, shrubs.

TRAINING FAVORED FOR YOUTH OF U. S. MEETING REVEALS

A majority of voters attending a meeting of the Council of Oregon Republican Women last night favored some type of military training for youth of the land, but not necessarily compulsory training. A poll was taken following presentation of both affirmative and negative material on the question and the results will be added to a statewide poll being taken by the council.

Affirmative material was presented by Frank Van Dyke, Ashland attorney and legislator, from a paper written by Lt. Quincy Scott, and O. H. Bengtson, Medford attorney and member of the state legislature, read negative material prepared by Mrs. John V. Richardson of Portland.

Mrs. F. O. Northrup, president of the council, spoke briefly, urging that Republicans work to make the party more effective in these times of need, and Howard Gault, county sheriff, read a news article on the present political conditions in Russia.

Wall Street

New York, Feb. 27.—(U.P.)—Stocks advanced fractions to more than 2 points today—the second rise since February 18.

All sections of the list participated. Rails were strongest in the major groups. Industrials had several wide gainers. Utilities firmed. Subdivisions of those groups were strong and special issues had wide gains in several instances.

Transactions lightened, however, as compared with the heavy pace of the previous session when prices sagged. Low-priced utilities, many of the motors, and low-priced issues in various groups were active.

Preliminary closing Dow-Jones averages: Industrial, 189.06, up 3.04; rail, 62.04, up 1.51; utility, 38.94, up 0.97; and 85 stocks, 71.20, up 1.39.

Sales dropped to 1,400,000 shares from 2,650,000 yesterday. Today's closing prices on selected stocks:
