resent Herb Project or Central Point Unit; ember Drive Planned

Central Point—"Herb Seasonings" was the project for the January meeting of the Central Point Extension unit held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Boyd rock.

Mrs. Arlet Anderson led the discussion on herbs, their uses and their culture. Mrs. Anderson said that herbs are classified in three groups, those strong enough for accent, pungent, and mild herbs for blending. Mrs. Anne Saimons assisted Mrs. Anderson in preparing a variety of odds seasoned with herbs and which were served as a demonstration of the many uses of herbs.

Mrs. A. T. Lathrop, international relations chairman, reported that literature explaining the organization of ACWW is being prepared for distribution among the units in the state. Mrs. Lathrop spoke of the triennial conference which is to be held later this year and the unit voted to donate 10 cents per member to help finance a delegate from Oregon.

Mrs. Frank Meadows, research chairman, read a letter from Miss Eula Wintermote concerning research being done on better work dresses for the housewife.

Mrs. Lester Wertz, standard unit chairman, gave a detailed report on the aims and objectives of the newly organized county program planning committee. Mrs. Wertz conducted an interrogation on every day problems which are familiar to all homemakers and which may be used in next year's program.

Central Point was one of six units in the county to receive the coveted gold seal for achieving the standard unit requirements.

Members interested in extension-sponsored folk dancing enrolled for the class.

The textile painting class reported that the next meeting would be at the home of Mrs. Charles Jantzer.

Members voted to conduct a membership drive contest. The group acquiring the most new members will be given a party by the losing group.

Samples of glove material were shown. Those members planning to make gloves are advised to order their material as soon as possible. Mrs. Lester Wertz and Mrs. Dorothy Stuart will be in charge of the demonstration which is scheduled for March. Members wishing further information may call the county agent's office in Medford.

February meeting on lampshades will be held at the home of Mrs. K. C. Wermark.

Sams Valley Extension Meets At Schulz Home

Sams Valley—Mrs. Paul Schulz and Mrs. George Loftin were project leaders for members of the Sams Valley Extension unit when they met at the home of Mrs. Schulz recently. The leaders also prepared and served luncheon using herbs of different types, and Mrs. Schulz gave a report of the uses, history and legends surrounding herbs.

Mrs. John Peffley was in charge of the program and Mrs. Roy Carley read a letter she had received from a pen pal in Nottinghamshire, England. She also read articles from an English magazine.

Next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Peffley and lampshades will be the project.

Pythian Club Members To Entertain Knights

Members of the Pythian club will meet at the recreation center of the housing unit at Priddy and McAndrews road Monday, January 23, at 8 p. m. Knights of Pythias members who will meet the same evening at the Knights of Pythias hall, are asked to join the ladies at the recreation hall following their meeting.

India to Be Topic

Mrs. Richard Payne will give a program on "Music of India" at the meeting of the afternoon arts group of American Association of University Women, Monday, January 23. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Orrin L. Brown, 1016 Queen Anne avenue, at 1 p. m., and Mrs. Robert W. Shepherd will be co-hostess.

Women to Meet

Mrs. Lewis Kilbourn and Mrs. W. H. Jones will be in charge of entertainment for the Scottish Rite Women's club members when they meet for a social evening Monday, January 23, at 8 p. m. in the Masonic hall, Medford.

Mrs. M. A. Krows, Mrs. A. E. Stut and Mrs. L. L. Canton will be hostesses for the meeting.

Postponed Meeting

A postponed meeting of chapter BE, PEO sisterhood, will be held Tuesday, January 24 at the home of Mrs. George B. Canode, 1716 Crown avenue. The meeting was originally planned for last week but postponed because of the weather.

The program will be on "The Seven Belles of PEO." It is set for 8 p. m.

On the Side—By E. V. Durling

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

It isn't the same with a man, Gray though he be. If he wishes to marry he can. But brief is the spring. And the flower of our womanhood. Once let it slip, it comes not again! Sit as we may with our spells and our auguries. Never a husband will marry us then.—Aristophanes (Lysistrata)

A Brooklyn bachelorette who frankly confesses she is eagerly, even desperately, trying to acquire a husband, says she would prefer to marry a dentist. "Do you know any young and handsome bachelors?" she asks. "I know a lot of dentists, some not such bad looking fellows, but they are all married. It seems dentists are preferred matrimonial material. Why that is I cannot definitely state at this writing. I feel however, that we should have some information on this matter in our Mules & Men files. I will investigate it. For a starter I will ask Irene Dunne about it. She is married to a dentist."

Queries from clients. Q. I claim the greatest of all American writers of short stories is O. Henry. Was once a newspaper columnist. Right? A. You are right about O. Henry having been a newspaper columnist. He conducted a column for the Houston, Tex., Daily Post. However, I do not agree with your view that he was "the greatest of American short story writers." I believe Edgar Allan Poe and Bret Harte were both much greater than O. Henry in that field.

Stogie Department. The first intercollegiate basketball game was played at New Haven, Conn., December 10, 1896, between Wesleyan and Yale. Score Yale 34, Wesleyan 4. At that time there were seven men on a basketball team instead of five, as now. You may seek to win a stogie from me on this statement. You may also be certain of winning when you find a sports record book that differs. But I'm warning you. Don't wager any stogies that I am wrong on this. You'll lose.

That Campaign. "Take that bitter campaign of yours against women using first names intended for men," writes a young woman of Manhattan. "No doubt it also includes campaigning against men who use first names intended for women. Therefore, I suggest you launch a complaint at that talkative New York restaurateur known as "Toots" Shor. "Toots" is definitely a feminine nickname. In proof I offer the comic strip of Toots and Casper. I suggest Mr. Shor change his name to Casper."

Get It Right. "Mary Pickford and her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, shared with Chaplin the primary affections of theater goers of 40 years ago." That's what I noted stated by a contemporary reviewing the past 50 years of life in the U.S.A. The old boy is a bit off the beam. Mary Pickford did start in the film 40 years ago, but Charlie Chaplin did not appear on the screen until 1913 and did not become well known until 1914. Douglas Fairbanks' first film, "The Lamb," was not shown until late in 1915.

Auto Navigators. Do you fancy yourself as a transcontinental auto trip navigator? Or as a student of United States geography? If so, here's a problem for you. There is some talk of all states charging tolls for autoists crossing their border lines. If that legislation went through, what auto route would you take from New York to Los Angeles so as to cross the least number of state borders? Also can you state the location of a highway where two states' borders would be crossed in 25 miles?

Over There. In England, it is the law that all dogs must have tags on their collars on which is printed their owner's name and address. The owner failing to observe this law is subject to a heavy fine. In some cases as high as the equivalent of $150. A very good law. Evidently the use of a tag or a collar inscription to identify the owner of a dog is an old British custom. Alexander Pope, once presented to "Frederick, Prince of Wales, with a collar for his dog. Inscribed on the collar was an original poem by Pope, as follows:

I am His Highness' dog at Kew.
Pray tell me, sir, whose dog are you?
Almost Confidential.
Note it stated the feminine article of attire referred to as "falsies" and "gay deceivers" was "invented" in 1907. That can't be right. Dean Swift mentioned this artificial aid to figure beauty in a poem written over 100 years ago. . . . What is your answer for this query: When did the 20th century start, on January 1, 1900 or on January 1, 1901? . . . One of the cleverest and most amusing pictures I have seen in some time is the British film titled, "The Facts of Life." When it comes to producing so-called "sophisticated comedy," the British are tops.
