Radio Patter by Pat

ABC's distinguished Washington correspondent, H. R. Baukage, is heard every Monday through Friday at 11:30 a.m. over Station KYJC.

Baukage

For years Baukage Talking has been rated among the top daytime net shows on the air. Baukage's clear concise way of interpreting events of national and international importance has won him the confidence of millions of Americans. This brilliant commentator's long experience as a Washington reporter has also given him invaluable, colorful insights on the lives of prominent news personalities. Not only a newsmen but a gifted storyteller, Baukage's programs are flavored with intriguing anecdotes that humanize the news.

Two prominent author-lecturers, John Mason Brown and Maisie Ward Sheed, will enlighten radio listeners on the perennial question, "How Can We Be Successful Parents," on ABC's "America's Town Meeting," broadcast tonight at 9 o'clock over Station KYJC.

The discussion of Brown, who is associate editor of the Saturday Review of Literature, and Mrs. Sheed, author of "Gilbert and the Newman" and former chairman of training for the London Catholic Evidence Guild, will center around the questions most often answered in a discussion of this kind.

Station KYJC will present a series of four five-minute broadcasts at 12:10 p. m. Fridays, starting February 10, in behalf of citizenship building and crime prevention in Medford. Each will include transcribed portions by Woody Woodson, voice of "This Is Your FBI." The Friday night ABC program, a Jerry Devine production, has cooperated in production of the entire series. J. Edgar Hoover, director of the F.B.I. will be heard on the initial program.
