

Jack Morris Tallies 25 Points As Tornado Tops Eagles, 67-39

By Hank Green
Mail Tribune Sports Editor

The Black Tornado basketball team looked as sharp as it has at any time this season when it played Eagle Point but the "sharpest" man of all on offense for Medford was a well-built and fast youth by the name of Jack Morris.

Medford's well-known and highly-respected all-around athlete scored 25 points last Friday night with shots from most any place across the center line and from every angle as the Tornado walloped Eagle Point high 67 to 39 on the Medford floor.

The older Morris boy on the squad caged 10 goals for 20 points and another five from the free throw line to lead both teams in the scoring. Bob Shores, evidently little bothered by his bad knee and playing a tough game all the way, tallied 14.

Simmons High Scorer

High point men for the Eagles were Pat Simmons, a sparkplug all the evening, with 11 and Lloyd Hale with nine.

Eagle Point just never had a chance to play the game it did against the Cavemen earlier last week when the Eagles coached by "Shy" Callaghan held Grants Pass on even terms for the first half and then fell down in the final quarters.

Medford tallied six points in the first minute of play Friday night and the nearest the Eagles could get to even tying the score was in the early moments of the second quarter when the scorer gave Medford 13 and Eagle Point 10 points.

Many Local Reserves

Coach Frank Roelandt used reserves late in the third quarter and early in the fourth and inserted them again late in the last stanza. Callaghan also used reserves late in the last quarter. When the Eagles started to score easily early in the fourth quarter, Roelandt put back his first stringers.

The game was fairly even in the first half although Medford took an early lead and led all the way. The Tornado outscored the Eagles 13 to 8 in the first quarter but got 12 to 11 for Eagle Point in the second quarter to hold a comparatively slim 25 to 19 half lead.

The last half was a somewhat different story for both teams as the Tornado quintet scored 21 points each in the third and fourth quarters while the Eagles garnered 9 in the third and 11 in the last.

Medford Up Lead

Medford led at the third quarter pause 46 to 28 and at the automatic time out it was 56 to 38. The Eagles were able to tally but one point in the last three minutes.

The Tornado defense showed flaws several times but Don Denman, Shores, Larue Smith and Don Wilkinson, when he was in the game, did some nice rebound work. Connie Holzgang provided his usual "spark" and dribbling.

Others playing for Medford besides those mentioned were Frank Morris, Ed Oldfield, Jim Grimm and Gary Boshears.

Local Attack Smooth

Medford's attack was smooth, precise and usually unbothered by its opponent's defensive tactics. While the Tornado missed its share of shots the local accuracy was improved over most games played this season.

In the preliminary game the Tornado junior classmen of the Tiger Cubs squad rallied in the second half to topple Eagle Point's junior varsity quintet 48 to 25.

Varsity Lineups:

Medford 67: f 39 Eagle Point 39: f 11 Simmons
Shores 14: f 7 Mulhollen
Denman 7: c 8 Doherty
Morris 25: g 3 Cahali
Holzgang 3: g 9 Hale

Ducks Swamp OSC Quintet Score 45-34

Eugene, Ore., Feb. 11—(U.P.)—The Oregon Webfoots snapped a four-game losing streak Friday night and pummeled hapless Oregon State 45-34 in a northern division basketball game.

In the erratic, and at times wobbly contest, Oregon led from a 1-0 advantage until the end, marking up a halftime edge of 31-16.

Oregon Guard Mel Krause was high point man with 10, as the erring Beavers' standouts, Bob Payne and Bill Harper, tied for marks with 6 points each.

The Ducks' first half average of 48 per cent throttled State, which at best made 20 per cent. The Beavers narrowed the early gap to 6-0 but were headed the rest of the way.

In a slow first half, five minutes elapsed before a score. Bob Amacher's field goal for Oregon. Nine minutes and 10 seconds flew by before OSC got one to make the count 34-20.

'Tag Team' Match Eyed For Armory

Promoter Mack Lillard is trying to sign a tag team match for next Thursday night's wrestling card at the armory.

Following last week's hectic match Karl Gray became engaged in a bitter argument with the Great Atlas over tactics the super-egotist used in their match and Gray's side was taken by Georges Dusette. The Atlas has been ducking a match with Dusette for some time.

Lillard stepped into the debate with the suggestion of a tag bout and Gray and Dusette immediately accepted. The Atlas held out for a partner, claiming none of the grapplers currently on the circuit are good enough to be his partner.

The promoter is going ahead with preparations for the tag bout while waiting for the Atlas to select a partner.

Meanwhile, Lillard is beating the bushes for an opponent for Arne Skaaland, young Norwegian newcomer, who will be seen in the one-hour opener.

The final game between the girls' teams will climax an intramural basketball program in which the seniors have won two and lost as many while the juniors have taken three victories and been defeated but once.

Oak Grove already has taken two victories from the parochial school boys.
