....AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By VIRGINIA MacPHERSON
United Press Correspondent

Hollywood, Feb. 21 — (U.P.) — The highest paid child actors in radio—both have $150,000 contracts — said today they'll toss it all away if rehearsals ever interfere with football practice.

Virginia MacPherson

A fast play is more fun than a fast line, is the way David and Ricky Nelson look at it.

David, 13, and Ricky, 9, are the sparkplugs of the Ozzie and Harriet radio show. They're also the only kids in the business under a 10-year contract to their parents.

This calls for 'em to be funny on the Ozzie and Harriet show once a week at salaries that'll total $150,000 each by 1959. The boys like this career stuff okay—as long as they can still play football.

Comes the time rehearsals and script-sessions interfere with gridiron duties and the kids have their bosses right where they want 'em.

Special Clause

There's a special clause in those contracts—in fine print—that says the deal's off.

David, who weighs in at 110, is first string quarterback at Bancroft junior high school and the Hollywood YMCA eleven. Ricky, a slightly scrawny 75, is scat back for the sub team at Marian Colbert school.

"We never want the show to interfere with their normal lives," Harriet said. "And we don't want to force them down a path they might be sorry about later."

Another Reason

There's another reason the boys bosses are so understanding. Pa was once a star quarterback at Rutgers university before he went into the band-leading business. He was even head coach for two years at Lincoln high school in Jersey City.

His parental pride is cinched either way. If the boys take up football, he can always brag they're chips off the old block and tackle. And if they stick to radio he can still tell the oldtimers he taught 'em all his gags.

Aren't Slow

If he does, he'll be stretching it a little. Because David and Ricky aren't slow when it comes to dreaming up ideas on their own.

Take the time they bolted a fence in a hurry. David made it, but the seat of Ricky's pants got caught on a nail. Instead of blowing up, he yelled to his brother:

"Hey, Dave, this ought to be in next week's script."

For contributions like this, plus their acting chores, they get more dough than most kids ever dream about. But their take-home pay is a buck for David and four-bits for Ricky.

And that, as they'll be the first to tell you, ain't a heckuva lot for two such talented quarterbacks.

Farm Price Support Plans Talked Here

Three different plans for the control of agricultural surpluses and for the support of farm prices were explained to Jackson county farmers Saturday when officials of the State Grange and of the federal production and marketing administration held an informational meeting in the courthouse auditorium. About 40 local farmers attended.

State Grange Master Morten Tompkins was here with Ben Buisman, editor of the State Grange bulletin; Verne Livesay, former chairman of the agricultural committee of the State Grange, and Jay Wescott, representative of the regional office of the PMA.

Buisman explained the proposals for marketing quotas and farm subsidies put forward by the national Grange; Livesay described the administration's Brannan plan, and Wescott told of the present program administered by his department.
