Jeannette Nyhoff And James Fernlund Wedded In Church

Miss Jeannette Nyhoff and James Edwin Fernlund were married Saturday, February 11 at the Foursquare Gospel church in Medford. The Rev. Harry J. Hansen, pastor of the church, read the ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Fredericka Nyhoff, Coupeville, Wash., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fernlund, 11 Chestnut street.

For the wedding the bride wore a grey suit with navy blue accessories and carried a purple orchid encircled with bouvardia. She was attended by Mrs. Monroe McGonagle who wore a light brown suit with a corsage of white roses.

Monroe McGonagle was best man for Mr. Fernlund.

A small reception followed at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Miss Elma Van Horn and Mrs. Jane Fernlund served the wedding refreshments.

Baskets of snapdragons decorated the church for the wedding, and these same flowers were used for the reception.

For the present the newlyweds are at home at 11 Chestnut street. The bridegroom attended school in Central Point and later was a student at Southern Oregon college and at L.I.F.E. Bible college in Los Angeles where he studied theology.

Juvenile Officer Speaks For AAUW

John Richard, county juvenile officer, was guests speaker for the February meeting of American Association of University Women last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. B. Brandt Bartels, Valley View drive.

Mr. Richard described the former facilities of the county juvenile department and compared them with present improved facilities. He spoke of future plans for improvement and particularly stressed the need for a detention home in the county and cited several examples of hardship to children due to this need.

Mrs. A. N. Potter, vice president of the group, presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Don Lane.

Mrs. Robert Shepherd was hostess chairman and assisting were Mrs. Jerry P. Tobin, Mrs. Allen Smith, Mrs. Nite Christensen and Mrs. L. G. McLaren.

Senior Department Of Episcopal Church Holds Outing Sunday

Students of the senior department at St. Mark's Episcopal Sunday school enjoyed a hayride party last Sunday afternoon. It started from Keen stables, Barnett road, and terminated with games and refreshments at the Girl scout day camp.

This outing was the culmination of an interclass contest which started at the beginning of the year. Jess Vail served as captain of the "Red Bug" team while Warren Elliott was captain of the "Yellow Bug" team.

Frank Clark and Mrs. Stanley Phillips took charge of the games. Ralph Matthews arranged for the transportation, and Mrs. Roberta Gregory and Mrs. Allan Perry took charge of refreshments.

Leon McDougall is senior warden and Dick Taylor, junior warden of this department. Robert D. Dames is superintendent and the Rev. George R. Bolster, rector, of the Sunday school and church.

Rogue River Couple Gives Party Sunday

Rogue River—Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe St. John were hosts Sunday for a reunion of members of the first hobby club of Rogue River. The valentine theme was used for table decorations. Each feminine guest was presented with a gift representative of her hobby and the men received valentines.

Luncheon was served. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Clare Conrad, Mrs. Myrtle Whipple and the St. Johns.

Home From South

Mrs. Samuel D. Earhart has returned to her home at 11 North Peach street after spending the past five weeks in the south. She visited relatives and friends in Memphis, Tenn., Mobile and Birmingham, Ala., and en route home stopped in Dallas, Tex., for a time.

The trip both ways was by air and Mrs. Earhart reports flying conditions as "excellent."

Governor Issues Call For Parole Association

Governor Douglas McKay, honorary chairman of the Oregon state committee of the National Probation and Parole association, has issued his annual membership appeal for that association.

Letters are now in the mail. Jackson county chairman is Circuit Judge H. K. Hanna. Attorney O. H. Bengtson is treasurer.

"In the business of making probation and parole effective instruments of justice the National Probation and Parole association has become one of the foremost organizations in the control and prevention of crime," said McKay.

SENTENCE DELAYED

Grants Pass, Ore., Feb. 22.—U.P.—Circuit Judge Orval J. Millard has postponed for one year sentencing of Leonard Hager, 22, Coos Bay, charged with purse snatching.

Patience, Faith Need Of Youth, Speaker Believes

Be patient with young people, give them a chance and give them a faith in which they can believe, Dr. Raymond A. Withey, dean of students at Willamette university, advised at a dinner of Medford Methodist men at the First Methodist church last night.

Dr. Withey spoke on the subject "The Challenge of College Youth Today."

Concerning characteristics of college students he said that they have a good sense of humor, that they want to be loved or appreciated, that they have much enthusiasm, that they are learning the art of self-discipline, that they all seek a vocation and that they are looking for a faith in which to believe.

"Something Serious"

Behind the humor of college youth is usually something serious, Dr. Withey declared. They may be trying to make a protest about something, give outlet to pent up feelings or to express affection. Youth should be encouraged to see the funny side of life to prevent them from being crushed later, he said. He spoke of the need to channel youth's enthusiasm.

Saying that college young people are "reluctant pagans," Dr. Withey brought out that the religious program is not adequate. So much care has been exercised about teaching religion in connection with schools that it has been left out entirely or students have been led to feel that they can take it or leave it.

The speaker said that destruction of religion brings a sense of insecurity and destroys the sense of right and wrong. This breeds a philosophy of expediency, such as communism. "We are reaping the results of our failure in our religious education," Dr. Withey asserted.

What makes a civilization great, he declared, is a challenge. How the challenge is met and how it is solved. He said that one challenge is often overlooked—youth people.

13,959 Cows Tested For Bangs Disease

Out of 13,959 cows tested for Bang's disease in Jackson county last year, 2.1 per cent were "reactors," according to figures released today by the state department of agriculture. The percentage of reactors in Josephine county, where 9,263 cows were tested, was only 1.7 per cent.

Testing was carried on in every county of the state, with 13 counties showing only one per cent or less of reactors. Curry county, with less than two-tenths of one per cent reactors, leads the entire state.

In releasing the figures, M. E. Knickerbocker, chief of the division of animal industry of the state department of agriculture, said that about 40,000 more cattle were tested last year than in 1948, but that the 1948 reactors were one-fourth of one per cent under the 1949 figure. The percentage for the state as a whole is 2.2 and Knickerbocker says that is still an impressive rating.

Garbage Bowl Football Game Held At Seattle

Seattle—U.P.—Titles for bowl games just about reached the end of the line here when two University of Washington fraternities battled for possession of the intra-mural football trophy. The Phi Gamma Delta team defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon 6-0 in a game played on a filled-in portion of the city dump just off the campus.

The contest goes into the record books as the first annual Garbage Bowl game.

failure in our religious education," Dr. Withey asserted.

What makes a civilization great, he declared, is a challenge. How the challenge is met and how it is solved. He said that one challenge is often overlooked—youth people.

'Baby Sitting' a Must Attorney General Says

Nashville, Tenn.—U.P.—Atty. Gen. J. Carlton Loser went into the law books to settle the problem of people who leave their children at home without baby sitters.

"It is a misdemeanor," Loser said, quoting from public acts, chapter 184, "to lock a child in a house . . . and therefore to leave such child unattended so that such child may not escape from the house in case of fire or other calamity."

Conviction carries a penalty of from $5 to $50. The statute has never been invoked.

WE REFUSE TO BE UNDERSOLD

For a career or a few years, operator's jobs offer young women good pay, pleasant associations, interesting work.

How's this for a good job?

To attract and keep good people, we've made telephone jobs stack up with the best. Here are some of their features:

Good Wages: Fully-experienced employees who receive the top rates earned the following in 1949: (These are actual earnings based upon 1949 income figures reported to the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue.)

Average top rate employee earnings 1949...weekly

Switchboard Operating Employees . $57.50

Craftsmen: Installers, Linemen, Equipment Maintenance Men, Cable Splicers, etc. . 87.08

The average for all employees, including trainees and many with only short experience was: Switchboard Operating Employees, $49.90 a week... Craftsmen, $70.66. (These figures are based on weekly average earnings reported to the Bureau of Labor Statistics for the last four months of 1949.)

Wage increases: Regular progression increases take beginners from the trainee period to top rates in eight years. Last year, some 46,000 non-management telephone people received progression wage increases—that's about three out of four.

Benefit plan: It's one of the nation's oldest and finest plans for pensions and protection against sickness and accidents. Today the minimum pension is $100 a month, at age 65, including social security.

Working Conditions: Clean, pleasant surroundings in an essential service . . . a 40 hour week, or less . . . paid vacations and holidays . . . these are just a few of the items that make conditions enviable in the telephone business.

Opportunity and security: Telephone work is the kind a person can count on . . . twelve months a year. Our employees have doubled in number in ten years. There's always opportunity to get someplace in the business. Of all the people working for us in 1939, in non-management jobs and who are still with us, a full third have been promoted to management.

Perhaps the best evidence of the quality of telephone jobs is that plenty of good people have kept coming into the service—and they stay a long time. You are probably acquainted with people who work for Pacific Telephone. Next time you see them why not ask how they feel about their job.
