REALTY VIEWS

"Here are the keys to my house. I have been transferred to another state, and the moving van is loading our things right now." The man seemed in a big hurry.

"And here's a deed already signed. You fill in the new owner's name after you sell the house. All we want is the cash. Can't be bothered with sending legal papers back and forth."

"Hold on," said, somewhat surprised, "are you sure you want to leave everything in our hands?"

"Yes," he said, "I have confidence in your firm."

"Well," I remarked, "we appreciate that and will be glad to handle all the details for you. But how much do you want for your house?"

"Whatever it's worth on the market," he said, "I don't know how much that is. Come with me and we'll set a price."

We agreed on a figure and he signed an exclusive listing. In a few weeks the house was sold. His confidence was not misplaced.

Let us help you sell your house. We'll do the right kind of job for you, too. Just call 2-5124.

Ding Dong Daddy Fails In Thirteenth Marriage Pension Plan Quiz

San Francisco, Feb. 22.—(U.P.)—The "Ding Dong Daddy" of the D car line just can't seem to make a go of marriage.

Mary Van Wie, most recent bride of 64-year-old Francis Van Wie, complained to Superior Judge Herbert C. Kaufman today that her marriage was "all over, it's ended."

"I've moved out of our love nest," she told Kaufman. Kaufman married the couple last September 16 after Van Wie got out of San Quentin where he served a term for bigamy.

She is, by Van Wie's own admission, at least the thirteenth wife he's had.

Kaufman suggested she contact the legal aid society for information on a divorce.

Body Of Beaverton Man Found In Auto

Portland, Ore., Feb. 22.—(U.P.)—State police reported today they found the body of Franklin W. Nagel of Beaverton, Ore., in his automobile yesterday after an apparent suicide.

Police said he had been shot through the head with a .22-caliber rifle bullet. The Washington county coroner at Hillsboro took charge of the body. Nagel was a retired coal miner from the east.

February 10 as ordered. Nevitt, released on his own recognizance following his plea of guilt, told the court he thought date for sentencing was February 20.

Nevitt admitted writing a check for $25 to pay for $22.38 worth of groceries. He received $2.62 in change.

One Trip Too Many Bad For Refund 'Chiseler'

Minneapolis (U.P.)—One trip too many.

A young man walked into a surplus store with a coat on his arm. He looked just like any other young man until he asked for a refund on the garment.

Store officials became suspicious and questioned him. The youth admitted he had stolen the coat earlier.

He said he pulled the same trick on another occasion and the store gave him a $30 refund.
