Republican Women Announce Visit Here Of Senator Morse

Senator Wayne Morse will visit Medford March 13 and 14. It was announced at the February meeting of Jackson County Republican Women held Monday afternoon at the Girls' Community club.

An evening meeting on the 14th will be arranged by Mrs. Stephen G. Nye and Mrs. C. Rease Braley of the club, and he will also speak at other gatherings, according to present plans.

Mrs. John Walker of Shady Cove was announced as the new second vice-president of the club and Mrs. W. B. McCullough of Ashland was the new third vice-president, these having been named by the president, Mrs. M. Allison Moulton of Medford, in accordance with the newly adopted constitution of the club.

Mrs. M. P. Vogel is the new secretary of the club, replacing Mrs. Raymond Larson. Mrs. Larson remains as the group's treasurer, and Mrs. Ben Stafford is first vice-president.

Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. Winifred Vail and Mrs. G. Q. D'Alembert were appointed as members of a new telephone committee.

Two republican candidates for sheriff, Ray Marks and Howard Gault, incumbent, spoke at the meeting. Mr. Marks stated he believed the office could be operated more efficiently and at a lower cost. Mr. Gault outlined the four main duties of the sheriff and his staff, saying these were tax collection, law enforcement, to act as ministerial officer for the court and as county jailer. He further said that for some time past the Jackson county sheriff's office had had a reputation for efficiency and low operating costs.

Mrs. Stephen G. Nye spoke concerning recent political trends in Australia from the angle of women's participation. She stated that women of the country had accepted old age grants, guaranteed employment and other socialized acts but had revolted when the party in power attempted to nationalize the banking industry.

Mrs. Curtis L. Hopkins spoke concerning the necessity of a complete registration of voters before the coming election and reminded the club that registration books will close April 18 for the primary.

Following the meeting a coffee hour was held, with Mrs. Moulton and Mrs. Stafford as hostesses.

"We have just celebrated the birthdays of two great Americans," the speaker said, "but have we ignored their advice for the continuance of the American nation as it was conceived and founded by our forefathers?"

Proceeding the address Mrs. C. R. Adamson sang two songs by American composers, one of them a playful treatment of the Hopi Indian brave who walks with his chosen one beneath the white wedding blanket. Mrs. H. E. Marsh accompanied the singer on the piano.

Also present as honored guests were Miss Barbara Manley, student at Medford high school, and Miss Joyce Mary Phelps of Gold Hill high school, who won the annual DAR good citizenship awards.

In the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS
Today's this-screwball world bulletin:

The hydrogen bomb could be rigged to create a dust cloud of death killing all humans in the world. . . the cloud would be radioactive dust. . . the dust would come from the harmless materials enclosing the bomb. . . these materials would be made radioactive by the explosion, scattered in the air and carried by the winds.

The dust would poison the air we breathe. . . it would settle to earth, contaminating every plant and everything that humans use in living. . . a dust cloud could be made that would be active in killing power for a few days, a few weeks, a few months or for THOUSANDS OF YEARS.

Irene Rich Weds Business Man

New York, March 1—(UP)—Irene Rich, girlishly glamorous at 58, gave up a 32-year career as a screen and stage star today to marry an aging utilities magnate who wants her to be "just a housewife."

Although Miss Rich is a veteran of three real-life marriages and scores of movie weddings, she said she was "as excited as any bride could be" about her marriage to George H. Clifford, a wealthy 68-year-old widower she met two years ago. She said he had courted her strenuously for only two months.

"My goodness," she said, "I'm so excited I've even forgotten the name of the minister."

The slender, grey-haired grandmother became Mrs. Clifford in a "quiet ceremony" in her luxurious New Sherry-Netherland hotel apartment overlooking Central park. The Cliffords will stay in New York until they go on "a long honeymoon trip" in April or May.

Miss Rich said the marriage "definitely" would end her career which she began as a velvet-voiced silent screen siren in 1918 and ended as a favorite for matron's roles 180 films later.

Dr. Paul Elliott, Biophysicist

THIS statement is made by Dr. Leo Szilard, biophysicist of the University of Chicago, one of the nation's foremost atomic scientists. Its plausibility is concurred in by Dr. Hans Bethe, physicist of Cornell university, Dr. Harrison Owen, chemist of the University of Chicago, and Dr. Frederick Seitz, physicist of the University of Illinois.

TO ALL this Dr. Paul Elliott, Texas physicist, who did work on the atom bomb, adds:

"Several hydrogen bombs, exploded simultaneously high in the air, might change the earth's orbit around the sun or speed up its rotation."

He added:

"That would change the seasons. For instance: Winter might be made longer and summer shorter. The days could be shorter, so that we would have 370 of them in a year instead of 365."

(Elliott's theory is based on the fact that the earth receives its energy from the sun at the rate of about four pounds of hydrogen exploding every second.)
