In addition to his public performances, the pianist teaches in connection with the University of California and is a member of the Composers' Forum, a San Francisco group devoted to the study of contemporary music. Mr. Abramowitsch appeared recently with the Oakland Symphony orchestra, together with Miss Dorothy Wareskjold, the soprano who gave a concert in Medford not long ago for the Jackson County Civic Music association. In reporting the concert, Helen Schroeter of the Oakland Chronicle wrote "The high point of the evening was the 'C Minor Piano Concerto' of Beethoven played by Bernhard Abramowitsch and the orchestra. Mr. Abramowitsch is a great artist and the rare beauty of the greatest of all Beethoven compositions was never more superbly set forth than under his tender touch. It was exquisite beyond description." The program for Monday night includes the Mozart "C Minor Fantasy" and Robert Schumann's widely varied "Davidsbündler-Lanze, Op. 6" which holds many delightful little journeys into life and nature. There will also be a group of Chopin numbers, and undoubtedly some Schubert, for which Mr. Abramowitsch is famous. Proceeds from the concert will be used by the society for its annual music award.
