

Toastmasters Hear Winning Talk Records

Medford Toastmasters, at their Monday evening meeting, heard wire recordings of prizewinning speeches given at the area speech contest held at Klamath Falls last week-end. Winner of the contest was Harry Skerry Jr., Ashland city attorney, who will represent this area in the state contests in Corvallis in May.

Speakers at last night's meeting here included Bill Mantee, new member, making his "ice breaker" speech; Mr. Merle Wiggins, speaking on "Socialism"; John Pletsch, who pointed out the habits of children in relation to strange environments, and George Distell, whose topic was "Gremlins," and who dealt with popular superstitions which, he said, are but contorted manifestations of man's conscience.

DINNER FOR NEWSY
New Bedford, Mass. (U.P.)—A crippled newsboy who supports his elderly parents was given a testimonial dinner here by some 350 admirers. The honor guest, John Furtado, has been selling papers at the same street corner for nearly 30 years.

AFL Teamsters Boss Turns Eye To Hawaii

Honolulu, Mar. 14—(U.P.)—Dave Beck, burly western boss of the AFL Teamsters, is looking over the island stronghold of an old enemy, the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union.

And, despite assurances from both sides that they "aren't looking for a fight," Hawaii wonders whether its rolling cane fields and pineapple plantations are marked for jurisdictional battlegrounds.

Beck is in Hawaii primarily to check a rift in local AFL leadership. His second mission is a survey of opportunities to add to teamster membership.

He's hunting in a reserve that has belonged by default to his bitter enemy, Harry Bridges, president of the ILWU, since the left-wing union signed up some 30,000 key laborers in a post-war organizing surge.

During a press conference, Beck said he was here to build up his own union and not to tear down anyone else's. He denied interest in sugar and pineapple and said he was shooting only for some 10,000 non-union islanders.

CYCLOTRON BURNS—Firemen peer into damaged cyclotron in Palmer Laboratory at Princeton University, Princeton, N. J., after a fire wrecked the wiring of the 18-million-volt atom smasher. The cyclotron is valued at $400,000.
