Announce Attractions For Annual Carnival Jackson PTA, School

A pond of live ducks, to be ringed; a shooting gallery, a millinery booth and a canned goods store were just a few of the attractions announced yesterday by the spring carnival committee at the Jackson school for the annual event, scheduled for March 24.

The evening's entertainment will open with a ham dinner, followed by presentation of the play "My Cousin from Sweden," accompanied by colorful square dances and songs by the school chorus. Following the program the carnival will be opened to the public with more concessions than ever before, the committees report. There will be something for everybody in the way of shopping and having fun. Calls have gone out for jams, jellies, and canned goods for the store; plants for the gardeners, cut flowers for the hostess' week-end table, jewelry, ribbons, "funny" books and "good" books.

Dinner will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. and the program will start at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. J. O. Jacobsen, general chairman, announced, extending a cordial invitation to the public. Money realized from the annual event will be used to buy "much needed" books for the Jackson school library.

Installation Plans For New Auxiliary Officers Being Made

New officers of the Crater Lake Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars, recently elected, are Mrs. O. O. DeBerry, president; Mrs. Robert Walker, senior vice president; Mrs. Lester Young, junior vice president; Mrs. Russell Zundell, treasurer; Mrs. Nora Walters, chaplain; Mrs. Amy Randle, guard; Mrs. Merrill Beneka, conductress, and Mrs. E. L. Hitt and Mrs. Helen Johnston, trustees.

Plans for installation are being arranged and will be announced.

Methodist Study Group Reviewing New Book

Under leadership of Mrs. Jessie Minear, women of the First Methodist church study group began study of a new book, "Women of Scripture," March 10. All meetings for this study will be held in the parsonage.

Mrs. W. W. Walker was in charge of opening devotions and Mrs. W. T. Frost reviewed the first chapter of the book which presented the lives of Sarah, Jochebed, Miriam, Hannah and Mary, mother of Jesus.

Mrs. Everett Fisher will review the chapter, "Business and Career Women," at the next meeting Friday afternoon, March 17. All interested women are invited to attend.

Work-a-Way Members Hold All-Day Meeting

An all-day meeting was held by Work-a-Way club members March 9 in the home of Mrs. Delbert Orgain, 140 Kenwood avenue.

Following a business meeting games were played and prizes given to winners. A potluck luncheon was served and the afternoon was spent sewing and crocheting.

Mrs. Roy Heath was a visitor and members attending were Mrs. J. W. Parker, Mrs. Ben Music, Mrs. Othar Richey, Mrs. Glenn Bowles, Mrs. Frank Richey and Mrs. Orgain.

Next meeting of the group will be an afternoon meeting in the home of Mrs. Parker, 826 West Jackson boulevard, March 23.

Gold Hill Unit Will Sponsor Membership Drive During April

Gold Hill—Gold Hill Home Extension members made plans for a membership drive at a regular meeting of the group March 10, in the home of Mrs. E. J. Knapp. Each member is to take one or more new members to the April meeting.

Mrs. Arthur Straus gave a report on a program-planning meeting held recently in Medford. Mrs. Ford Jones reported on the magazine, "Associated Country Women of the World." A number of members requested names of persons in foreign countries for pen pals. Mrs. George Dorman, a member, has corresponded with an English woman over a three-year period.

Leaflets containing recipes and lesson material will be bound and distributed to members at each meeting and copies will be placed in the local library.

Mrs. Straus will be hostess to the group for the April meeting, April 15 at 10:30 a.m. Her home is located on Sixth avenue west of the school. Women in the community interested are invited to attend.

Broiled dinners will be the topic and project leaders, Mrs. Lester Thompson and Mrs. Mel Hancock, will conduct the cooking demonstration. Table service will be required and other foods will be assigned before the meeting.

Others attending Friday's meeting were Mesdames Ed Shoemaker, George Tulare, S. L. Routh, Paul Holderness, Cleo Gilchrist and Mrs. C. W. Smith, a visitor.

Return

Mr. and Mrs. Bren H. Starcher and daughter, Robene, 1570 South Stage road, returned last night from Centralia, Wash., where they spent a few days with relatives.

The trip north was made to attend the 50th wedding anniversary celebration of Mrs. Starcher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Swan, held Sunday in Centralia.

Visitors Here

Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Oxford, formerly of Los Angeles, spent the week-end in Medford with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Nichols, 622 South Holly street. From Medford they left for their new home in Seattle.

OCE President Quits To Assume New Post

Portland, Ore., Mar. 15.—(U.P.) President Henry M. Gunn of Oregon College of Education yesterday presented his resignation to the Oregon State Board of Higher Education.

Dr. Gunn asked to be relieved of his duties June 30 to accept a position as superintendent of schools at Palo Alto, Cal.

The board opened its regular meeting here by approving loan bids for construction of a library-museum building at Eastern Oregon college of Education at La Grande and a library-administration building at Oregon College of Education at Monmouth.

IT'S COLD OUTSIDE

Vicksburg, Mich. (U.P.)—A movement has been started by Vicksburg high school students to change the name of their basketball team from "Buildogs" to "Polar Bears." Students say "Polar Bears" is more appropriate because the cagers have no gym and must practice outdoors on tennis courts.

THERE'S CATCH TO IT

Tallahassee, Fla., (U.P.)—Some city lots in Florida, where most real estate is high, sell for as little as $250 each. However, brokers need not apply. These state-owned lots sell for that price to city governments only for municipal purposes.

On the Side—By E. V. Durling

With my love for you this knowledge, too, was given, which each calm day that they who love are but one step from heaven. —Lowell.

Where did the rumba originate? That is an argument now going on among Latin-American dance enthusiasts. Some say it originated in Brazil, others say Portugal and still others say Cuba. I go along with those who claim Cuba as the birthplace of the rumba. By the way, do you recall that snappy rumba tune titled, "The Peanut Vendor"?

Hypnotism

The use of hypnotism in medical practice is by no means a modern idea. Over one hundred years ago, in 1845, Dr. James Esdall used hypnotism as an anaesthetic in major operations. Speaking of hypnotism in general, it is claimed that when hypnotized a person cannot be persuaded to do anything contrary to his or her moral principles. Paul Goldin, a British hypnotist, says this is not so. He says that a hypnotized person can be persuaded to do anything the hypnotist suggests, even murder.

Passing By

Henry Fonda, still on Broadway starring in "Mr. Roberts," says he never is going back to Hollywood. Henry first attracted my interest by his acting in a film titled, "The Farmer Takes a Wife." Remember it? If not, please turn in your Young Old Timers membership card at once. . . . Harry Richman, Veteran entertainer. Of the thousands of ditties he has sung the one he likes best is "Laugh, Clown, Laugh." Julia Sanderson, musical comedy star of the yesteryear. Originally from Springfield, Mass. Began her career as a chorus girl in the Casino Theater, New York. After only one year as a lady of the ensemble she became a star in a musical titled, "Winsome Woman." Her greatest hit was "The Girl from Utah," which also featured Donald Brian and Joe Cawthorn.

Sidelights

Sign reported seen on one of those cross country trucks: "This truck stops for all crossings, railroad crossings, blondes, brunettes, and will back up twenty feet for a red head." . . . Herman Sherman, of Los Angeles, is reported being groomed to run for president of the My Name Is a Poem club to succeed Hugh Blue.

Asking

Queries from clients: Q. I claim Henry B. Walthall was distinctly a film actor; that he never appeared in a stage play. A. You are wrong, sir. Mr. Walthall played the part of Edgar Allan Poe in a Broadway play. He was highly praised by the New York critics for his unusually brilliant acting. Q. Wasn't Edgar Bergen once married to Eve Arden? A. No, Ma'am. Edgar had been a bachelor for many years when he married a charming young woman named Frances Westerman.

Mules & Men

What current male film star most strongly appeals to the female sex? In any event, there doesn't seem to be any standout heart-throb nowadays such as Rudolf Valentino was in his heyday. Of course, there are many men not in the films, nor even before the public eye, who have a terrific appeal to the female of the species. Men like Ambrose Bierce, of whom Harley Gratton wrote: "He was close on to six feet tall, of military bearing and of such extraordinary vitality that young ladies asserted they could feel him ten feet away."

Asides

Note it stated President Truman neither drinks nor smokes. The President does not smoke but he goes for a little Bourbon and water before dinner. Some doctors say this mixture in small portions is relaxing and aids digestion. . . . Gustave H. Jensen has been in the employ of Lord & Taylor's department store in Manhattan for over seventy years. Mr. Jensen is reported not only active in a business way but he bowls twice a week.

Golf

Are you a golf enthusiast? How many clubs do you pack around the course? Are you a right-hander? If so, have you any left-hand clubs in your bag? If you play in tournaments, or even if you play with pals for so much a hole, you should have some left-handed clubs. In the 1929 British Open Walter Hagen found his ball up against a stone wall. No room to play it out. Or so it seemed. Much to the amazement of the British spectators and players, Walter pulled a left-handed club out of his bag. Then, playing left-handed, he dropped the ball right on the green with a beautiful 150-yard shot!

Plans Accepted For New Building At SOC

Portland, Ore., Mar. 15.—(U.P.) The Oregon state board of higher education has accepted final plans for new construction at Oregon State college and Southern Oregon college totaling approximately $2,250,000.

The committee approved construction of a $350,000 combination library-classroom at SOC and authorized an animal industries building and a food industries building at Oregon State. The animal industries building will cost $1,100,000 and the food industries structure will cost $50,000.

The committee also authorized a complete study of physical plant facilities at Oregon State.

The Grange

Gold Hill Grange has completed plans for a gala double event St. Patrick's week-end. An old fashioned sausage supper, served from 4 to 9 p.m. starts the dual celebration, on Saturday, March 18. Thrift priced, to attract the family trade, dinner will be served by a staff of green-aproned girls. Music and songs by the Cowboy Troubadour, in person, will be an added attraction. Dancing will be enjoyed from 8 to 11 in the ballroom, also decorated in honor of St. Patrick. Arnold's Rhythm band, augmented by the Cowboy Troubadour, will carry the ball for the remainder of the Hibernian holiday. The snack-bar will serve hot and cold drinks and sandwiches.
