Shady Cove - Trail

Shady Cove-Trail, Mar. 17—Newcomers to Shady Cove from Lebanon, Ore., are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tucker and baby son, Tommy. Tucker is employed by the state highway commission and they expect to be here about three months. They are living at the Oaks Court.

Mrs. Stella Scott of Trail plans to leave this week for Oklahoma to be gone several months. Her parents and two sisters live there as well as many friends.

Frank Kanasson of Alameda, Cal., spent three days here recently visiting with his son-in-law, Louie Oxander of Shady Cove.

Mrs. John Wilson of Shady Cove returned home Sunday from Sacred Heart hospital with her new baby girl, Susan Kay. She will be unable to receive visitors for some time yet.

Mrs. Bob (Christine) Dawson of Trail is now doing beauty work by special appointment at her home in Trail.

Mrs. Alberta Hughes, mother of Mrs. Helen Messer, spent the week-end with the Messers at Trail. Mrs. Hughes suffered a slight accident, receiving a cut on her forehead when her car ran into the ditch on her trip over to Trail from Silver Lake, where she is teaching.

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Blair of Shady Cove are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Culbertson of Astoria, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith of Ashland are parents of a girl born March 15 at the Ashland hospital. Mrs. Smith is the for-

Be kind to your father. For when you were young you loved you so fondly as he? He fell from your tongue and joined in your innocent glee. —Margaret Courtney.

(There have been about ten thousand poems paying tributes to mothers to one in praise of fathers. There is no justice in this situation. Even tiny infants appreciate the kindness and love of their fathers. It is a fact that more babies say "Papa" than those who start off their conversational career with "Mama." There must be a reason.)

"Duck swim if it had no feathers" writes a Seattle client. "I claim it could float, but could not swim. You settle it." I pass on this argument. I just don't want to take a chance on that Milwaukee checker-up stripping some poor duck of his feathers to check on it. The poor animal might die, either of drowning or from catching a cold that would develop into pneumonia.

Doctors Many people view her doctors with suspicion. Even more people view doctors who run medicine shows with suspicion. Therefore, it was extremely interesting to note in a recent dispatch from Chicago that an herb doctor, William Williams, who Asking Queries from clients. Q. We are moving from a private house in Detroit to an apartment in New York. We have a cocker spaniel who is devoted to us as we, of course, are to him. Here in Detroit he had a backyard to play in and a large house to move about in. Do you think we should give him to some people who have a house and yard so he can live his usual life, or should we take him to New York? A. By all means, take him with you. Where you are, he will be happy. Dogs have a great talent for adapting themselves to circumstances. Thousands of dogs live in New York apartments and are happy. Just take him for a lot of walks, show him that you love him and he will be all right. If you leave him behind, he might die of a broken heart.

Briefly Am asked where there is a team of left-handed women bowlers. Believe this outfit of southpaw bowling females performs around Chicago. . . . A New Yorker suggests a "Pay Your Doctor Week." A great idea. The medicos are too often forgotten and slighted even after heroic efforts to save a patient's life.

Passing By R. E. "Lanny" Leighninger, western turf official and erstwhile sportscribe. Was once turf editor of the New York Morning Telegraph. But he didn't like New York and fled back to California. Incidentally, "Lanny" had been married 23 years when he became a papa for the first time. The child, a girl, is now 4 years old and unusually healthy and intelligent.

Sideline Charles W. Scott, of Seattle, Wash., has been a subscriber of the Post-Intelligencer of that city for 63 years. Can you top that record for subscriber loyalty to a newspaper? . . . A Detroitter says it is illegal in the state of Michigan for a man to marry his son's widow. First time I ever heard that. Must check on it. Sounds unconstituted to me. . . . It was that brilliant Horace & Women expert Eckharthausen who so truly observed: "The liveliest desire of a woman's heart is not so much to please but to please more than other women."

Radio Amateurs Hear League Director Talk

Rogue valley amateur radio operators this week heard R. Rex Roberts, northwest division director of the American Radio Relay league, discuss amateur radio policy in relations with the United States government. Roberts, who operates his own station, WCPY, at Glendive, Mont., will attend the annual meeting of directors in West Hartford, Conn., May 5, and at present is touring the division consulting amateurs on their wants and needs.

The director pointed out that relations between the 85,000 amateurs in the United States and the government have been commendable. "Hams" from as far away as Prospect and Grants Pass filled the Rogue Valley Radio club building at the fairgrounds to hear Roberts.

Following the business meeting the club's amateur station W7OEX was operated by club members.

How Old Gen. Moulton Outwitted 'The Devil'

Hampton, N. H. — UPI — The ghost once said to haunt the Gen. Jonathan Moulton home would be the first to admit he was a tough, hard-fisted old Revolutionary War hero.

The "ghost" was his first wife, who came back to give the square mansion the name "Haunted House" because he removed her rings after burial and gave them to a second wife.

the claim of Attorney Thomas W. Lynch of Los Angeles, to the title of "Dean of Durling Readers." Says he: "I have been struggling through your column for 19 years, my lad. I don't think Attorney Lynch can top that." Mr. Coakley also sends along an old Irish toast as follows: "May ye never lack food or raiment. Nor a peaceful pillow for your head. And may ye be forty years in heaven before the devil knows you're dead."

That List Annually the film theater owners of the United States of America issue a list of the 10 best money-making film stars. This year's list is very interesting if you examine it carefully. The first three stars on the list of money makers are all comedians. The fourth is a western star. There are only two female stars in the list. Both are celebrated for their shapes rather than their acting ability. Ingrid Bergman is not listed among the first 10 money makers. Neither is Gregory Peck.

Mrs. Lillie MacKay returned to her home March 11, after attending the wedding of her son, Richard, and Miss Antoinette Siril, in Reno, Nev. While in Reno she visited her brother, Ben Hays, a former resident of Gold Hill. It was the first time they had seen each other in 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Clement are parents of a baby boy born at the Osteopathic hospital in Medford on March 11. The baby weighed 8 1/2 pounds and has been named Terrence Neil. Mrs. Clement returned home March 16. The baby is the first grand child of Mr. and Mrs. James Clement bearing the Clement name.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Martin were hosts at Sunday dinner, March 12, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Croft, Mr. and Mrs. John Novak, all of Medford, and Mrs. Carrie Puhl and the Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Dierdorff of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Hougham of Orick, Cal., were recent week-end visitors of Mr. Hougham's aunt, Mrs. Milton Steinmetz.

Milton Steinmetz, who is employed at Stanford, Wash., spent last week-end with his family here.

Gene Holderness went to work for the Acme Broom factory in Portland last Monday. He had to change his classes at the West Coast Trades school to the evening classes.

Mrs. Pauline Tygart of Brookings spent last week-end visiting her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tygart, at Butte Falls, and with Mrs. Roy Centers of this city. She also visited her sister, Mrs. Grant Powell, and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Greer in Medford during her stay. She returned to her home Sunday.

Derald Alan Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Andrews, left March 14 for his assignment at Lackland air base in Texas. He hopes to be able to receive cadet work after spending the required time at Lackland base. He was a former navy seaman first class and aviation electrical mechanic. He attended Ashland high school before enlisting in the navy.

Robert Lee Banks of Ashland entered the service as a private and went at the same time Andrews left. Lackland air force base is near San Antonio, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis of Oakland, Ore., are parents of a baby girl born March 12, en route to the hospital. Both mother and baby are reported in splendid condition. The baby has been named Cleovonna. She is the first granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cook. Mrs. Cook went to Oakland Monday and returned Tuesday with little Wayne Dean Davis to care for him until his mother is able to have him at home. He is the older son of Mr. and Mrs. Davis. Mrs. Cook plans to return to Oakland later this month.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Walker went to Eugene March 15 to visit their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Walker. While there they celebrated Lavern's birthday. They plan to be gone several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Pieper and family have rented the Leonard Andrews home on Fifth avenue. They formerly resided on a farm near Watsonville, Cal.

Mrs. Blanche Peterson and two children have moved from the apartment in the IOOF building to Medford. The children have entered school there.

Mrs. Minnie Byerly spent from March 9 to 12 visiting friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wolters in Medford.
