Birthday Party Given By Gold Hill Scouts; Change Meeting Place

Gold Hill—Girl scouts and parents held their annual Girl scout birthday anniversary party Tuesday night at the Odd Fellow hall dining room. The girls prepared the main dish, decorated the table, furnished the flowers, served the dinner and finished preparing salads that were brought. Parents brought the rest of the dinner in covered dishes and birthday cup cakes instead of a large cake were served.

Work on the dinner will be credited on badges in the home-making field. Several girls have earned photography, my community, tenderfoot, arts and crafts and child care badges. As soon as the badges come, a court of awards will be held.

The troop meeting place in the future will be the old WRC room over the council room in the city hall. The girls will clean the room, decorate it and furnish it with their handicraft as the weeks go by. The room in the IOOF building has been made so unattractive and uncomfortable by vandals that the change in meeting place has been decided as better for the troop.
