Hospitals Receive Funds From Service League Show

All proceeds from the recent style show given by the Junior Service league are being presented to Community and Sacred Heart hospitals for the purchase of equipment it was announced today by the league. The sum for each hospital will be $150, it was said, and is in addition to the $50 which the league gives each hospital each month to be used for the care of children whose parents are unable to pay.

The two-day show was given March 10 and 11 at the Rogue Valley Country club.

At Sacred Heart hospital it was said the money will be used to purchase a photrometer used in chemistry work in the hospital laboratory. Since the photrometer costs about $200, the hospital will add the additional $50.

Community hospital plans to purchase two additional beds for the children's ward. This was thought particularly appropriate, since the league aided the hospital materially in building and furnishing the children's ward, opened by the institution about a year ago. The ward now has four cribs, and two youth size beds will be purchased at an approximate cost of $75 each.

Several other organizations and a number of individuals have aided the hospital with the new children's ward.

The league's plan to provide each hospital with the $50 monthly, started in January of 1949, has continued each month without interruption, the two hospitals state.
