

Visitors Leave—Dr. and Mrs. Chester A. Bump, Newberg, and Cecil Conrad, McMinnville, have left for home after visiting several days with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bartholomew, 44 North Peach street. The visitors were en route home after vacationing in Cuba.

Local and Personal

Recovering—Bab Walch, Eagle Point, underwent surgery at Osteopathic hospital Monday. His condition is reported as very good.

Family Night—The regular family night program is scheduled for Friday from 7 to 10 p. m. in the YMCA. All "Y" families and their guests are invited.

From College—Miss Joan Brummond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brummond, 754 South Holly street, is spending spring vacation with her parents. Miss Brummond is a freshman at University of Oregon.

To Hold Sale—Merritt circle of the First Presbyterian church will hold a rummage sale Friday, March 24 in the afternoon and all day Saturday, March 25. The sale will be in the Eagles' building, 217 West Main street.

To Build—The Jackson County Federal Savings and Loan Association today applied at the city building inspector's office for a permit to repair their office building at 126 East Main street. Work is to cost $1,500. Carl Christensen applied for a permit to build a $1,700 garage at 802 North Riverside.

Tavern Owners—One hundred and two members and guests of the Jackson County Tavern Owners association met Tuesday evening in the Rogue River lodge at Trail for dinner and entertainment. Orin Campbell, Portland, secretary-treasurer of the state association, was main speaker of the evening, and other speakers were L. G. "Shy" Morthland, county commissioner, and Al Leighton, secretary of the Jackson county group. Major O'Connell of Gold Hill, president, acted as master of ceremonies.

In Hospital—Mrs. Nunya Lizberg, 17 South Graveland avenue, has been confined to the Sacred Heart hospital this week because of illness.

Hold Meeting—A general meeting, attended by personnel of the Grants Pass and Medford Lantis and Johnston Shoe stores, was held at the local store last evening.

Skating Party—Children of the Jacksonville and Central Point Presbyterian churches in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades will hold a skating party in the Medford armory, Saturday, March 25, from 2 to 4 p. m. Parents are asked to take their children to and from the armory.

Wall Street

New York, Mar. 23—(U.P.)—Stocks turned irregular today after investment buying had lifted the industrial average to a new high since mid-1946. Industrials held fairly well, but rails and utilities slipped off. Special issues had a good market, notably the television shares where several made new highs. Some of the oils were bid up. Chemicals moved ahead. Leading steels made new highs and led the market in turnover.

Medford Students Named To College Publicity Group

Corvallis, Mar. 23—Three Oregon State college students from Medford have been appointed as members of the new Greater Oregon State committee to acquaint high school students in Medford and Jackson county who are interested in attending OSC with the college.

Bob Gray is chairman of the Medford group. With him on the committee are Glenda Fields and Jim Moore.

The immediate activities of the local Greater Oregon State committee will be working with alumni, OSC students and friends in informing Medford high school students about Senior weekend at Oregon State college April 14, 15 and 16.

Several Planned—This is one of several Senior weekends held on all state system of higher education campuses on the same day. It has been planned by the Oregon high school-college relations committee. High school seniors throughout the state have been invited to visit any one of the colleges they wish to on that weekend.

Students and faculty members at Oregon State have planned a weekend of entertainment exhibits in the different schools and departments that will enable visitors to get a better idea of job opportunities in these different fields.

Last Of Landscaping Meetings Set Friday

The last two of the series of home landscaping meetings sponsored by the county extension service will be held tomorrow in the Valley View district and in Ashland.

At 10:30 a. m. tomorrow Prof. L. B. Solberg, landscape architect from Oregon State college, will be at the James Rasmussen home in Valley View to plan the rearrangement of plants already in place and to add some new shrubbery.

Million Dollars Taken From Chinese Consul

San Francisco, Mar. 23—(U.P.)—Two boys broke into the home of Chinese Vice-Consul Wang Shao-Kai yesterday and stole $1,115,000.

It might have been the biggest haul in the history of juvenile crime—but it turned out the money was retired nationalist China currency and valueless. The boys, aged 12 and 13, were arrested by police inspectors a few blocks from Wang's home. Each was carrying a savings bank stuffed with a total of 46 Chinese bills of $25,000 denomination.

Status For Chambers
To the Editor: In last Friday's Mail Tribune there appeared a communication by Mr. Pruitt. This writer took R.W.R. to task—for his comments on the Hiss trial and Chambers—and took Chambers to his bosom. He even suggested the latter deserved a vote of thanks—a notion not even the most optimistic in hell would entertain.

This man Chambers became a communist and betrayed his country; he later reversed his field and betrayed the communists. Such brazen depravity is rarely compared in the annals of mankind! After solemnly declaring he had become a "God fearing man," Chambers admitted in the next breath, to seven bare-faced lies while testifying before the grand jury that indicted his "friend!"

What Chambers deserves is to have his statue cast in brass and placed in public squares throughout the land as the most accurate example of consummate hypocrisy and colossal perfidy ever to infect God's footstool.

I too, kept track of the Hiss trials; also read all comments by RWR on Hiss and Chambers. In my opinion RWR did a brilliant and thoroughly unbiased job of reporting. He was right there in the court room where he could see and hear everything that went on; he could also discuss

Tickets on Sale—Tickets for the Williams Marionette's show, to be given at the high school auditorium Tuesday, March 28, will go on sale tomorrow according to an announcement by the Roosevelt Parent-Teacher association, sponsoring group. The tickets will be on sale at all elementary schools, except Jackson, during the noon hour tomorrow and again on Monday. At Jackson school, tickets may be purchased from the librarian all day Monday and Tuesday morning.

Safeway Manager—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Frohreich and daughter, Yvonne, route 3, box 257, have returned from Oswego, Ore., where they attended the opening of the new Safeway store there, of which the Frohreich's son, Dale, is manager. Their son, well-known here, first began with the company as a clerk at the Ashland store upon discharge from armed service. He was soon transferred to the Barrett street store in Medford and from here was transferred as manager of the Safeway store in Enterprise. He has been manager of the older store in Oswego since last July and took over his duties at the new store during the opening last week.

Methodists To Hold Parent-Teacher Night
A Parent-Teacher night program with entertainment by children of the various departments of the First Methodist church's Sunday school will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday. The program is for the purpose of better acquainting parents with the Sunday school's teachers and officers and with the work being done in Christian education. Parents are invited to attend with their families. After the program the homemakers' class will serve refreshments.
