Attendance Increases For Study Meetings

Attendance at the study meetings of the Women's society of the Methodist church continues to grow, states Mrs. Jessie Minear, who is in charge of the present study series being held each Friday afternoon in the church parsonage, 27 North Orange street. Mrs. C. R. Adams will present the topic "Women and the Text of the Bible" at the meeting Friday, March 24.

Mrs. Everett Faber was the leader for the recent meeting with the topic being "Career and Business Women." Assisting her and representing character parts were Mrs. Floyd Lewis as Miriam, sister of Moses; Mrs. George Howard, Deborah, the prophetess; Mrs. Donald Faber as Lydia; Mrs. Howard Holder as Phoebe at Cenchrea. Those presenting the several parts were Mrs. W. W. Walker led the devotions and Mrs. Robert Taylor gave the meditations.

Phoenix Theater Guild To Give Comedy Twice As Benefit For Center

Phoenix — "Adam's Evening," play which the Phoenix Little Theater guild will present Friday and Saturday nights in the old gymnasium in the grade school, is described as an amusing three-act comedy. Proceeds from the benefit play will be used for the building fund of the Phoenix Community club and Youth Center.

The plot involves the troubles of Adam Adams who is under the close scrutiny of his mother-in-law.

In the cast are Rex Nicodemus in the title role, June Nelson as his wife and Mrs. Bean, the mother-in-law, is played by Peggy Glascock. Others in the cast are Harry Thompson, Hugh Bell, Cecil and Dorothy Claffin, Mark and Louise Norton and Norman Glascock.

Harland Glascock is directing. Adah Fowler and Gladys Sloan are in charge of make-up; Ethel Nicodemus and Edna Hackney are serving as prompters; Mrs. Nicodemus is providing sound effects; Katherine Stancliffe is booking chairman and Mrs. Lewis and Mark Norton are in charge of publicity.

Mrs. C. A. Stothers has provided variety acts which will be given before curtain time and between acts. The program will open at 7:30 p.m.

To Show Travel Film For Lone Pine Group

John S. Day will show a film at the meeting of the Lone Pine Parent-Teacher association set for Friday, March 24 at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Mr. Day will show films he took while traveling in Scotland and will tell of interesting spots he visited.

The meeting is being held in the evening in order that fathers may have an opportunity to attend, and it is hoped that many will be present. A committee of men in charge of arrangements include A. E. Eitemiller, chairman, Clyde Taylor, Ivan Gay, Francis Terry, Charles Whitchee, Scott Wickersham, T. A. Dodge and E. R. Hartig.

Central Point Couple Gives Dinner Party

Central Point—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morrow of Central Point entertained guests at a dinner at the White City cafe, Camp White, March 15. The table was decorated in the St. Patrick's day theme and within a green hat were gifts sent by Miss Darlene Morrow, daughter of the hosts, who was unable to be present.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Goff and Mr. and Mrs. Oran Chastain.

Final Plans Made For Spring Event At Jackson School

Spring will come officially at the Jackson school Friday night, when the school Jackson Parent-Teacher association join in presentation of the annual spring frolic. All plans were completed yesterday for the program, to be produced by the school, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, following the ham dinner, scheduled for 5 to 7 p. m.

Participating in the colorful pageantry will be members of the school orchestra and band, a chorus of 85 voices, and folk dancers from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the school.

A play, "My Cousin from Sweden," will claim the spotlight for the middle of the program, adding a dash of comedy to the occasion. In the cast are Maxine Hammer, Donna Heidemann, Relda and Nelda Jenkins, Sue Donna Doolen, Betty Hershiser, and Joy Larson with Treva McClearen acting as book holder.

Members of the faculty, working on the presentation, which won enthusiastic applause at a preview Tuesday are Don Davis, Mrs. Della Weber, Mrs. Ruth Bolton, Robert Baccus and Mrs. Precia Medley.

During the program, which has been especially arranged for the guest crowd Friday night, movies will be presented in other rooms of the building for the entertainment of children. The school children are being given two opportunities to view the complete program before Friday night. Operating projectors for the movies will be Al Randles of the parent-teacher association, and H. W. Gustin, principal of the school.

General chairman of the event from the parent-teacher unit is Mrs. C. S. Jackson, who is being assisted by several co-chairmen and workers from the school and the association. Mrs. Shirley Mitchell, chairman of concessions, of which there will be many during the carnival hours to follow the program, is being assisted by a staff of school "dads", Rufus Younger, Dick Kaye, Kenneth Nolte, Riley Thomson, Clarence Zurucher, Jack White, Clayton Jacobsen and Mr. Baccus.

Mrs. Jack White, dinner chairman, will have as assistants many home room mothers and committees, appointed by them. Latest to report workers in this division yesterday was Mrs. C. A. Hartley, who announced the following committee of mothers with children in Miss Kathryn Crandall's room: Mesdames Leonard Shreeve, D. M. Orgain, C. L. Michael, Dick Kaye, Robert Bromley and W. E. Fontaine.

The general public is invited to the three events of the evening, committee members emphasized, explaining also that any persons wishing to attend the dinner, the program, or the carnival, could also "take one and leave the others."

Dinner will be served from 5 to 7, the program is scheduled for 7:30 and the carnival, which will include "fun for everyone" will follow the program.

Unification Of Armed Services Described In Talk

The department of defense under the unification program has effected thousands of measures which together are factors of accomplishment and which are eliminating duplication and waste and are resulting in savings, Maj. Walter Fingerhut of the organized reserve corps instructor group here reported to Kiwanians at the noon luncheon yesterday at Rogue Valley Country club.

Major Fingerhut outlined the chain of authority and the roles of civilian and military agencies under the national security act. Features of unification, he said, were an air force, army and navy each separate, operation of these services under direction of a secretary of defense without merging them, and coordination of all military and civilian agencies of government which have an interest in national defense.

Reviews Results
 The officer reviewed the results of scientific advance upon military forces. In relation to each other armies and navies formerly had boundaries of operation, he said. Development of speed and range, and of air power with more speed and range, and of air power with more speed and range by World War II, broke down old boundaries and made possible joint operations and brought need for teamwork.

Major Fingerhut spoke of the shortcomings of the joint chiefs of staff plan during the war in getting unanimity of agreement, and questioned the need of over-

Sandy River Smelt Run Next On Fishing Slate

Portland, Ore., March 23—(U.P.)

Commercial dipnet fishermen today were looking to the Sandy river in Oregon for the next run of Columbia river smelt.

Lewis river, Wash., smelt appeared to be diminishing, although it was heavy while it lasted during its short run. According to past schedules, smelt should appear in the Sandy river within two weeks. During the past 22 seasons, smelt have missed the Sandy eight times.
