

Registered Guernsey Sale Held This Week

Dimples of Twinkle Star Ranch brought the top price at the first southern Oregon registered guernsey sale at the fairgrounds this week. Owned by Shirley and Beverly Nelson, Grants Pass, Dimples was purchased by Everett Robinson, also Grants Pass. He paid $675 for her.

Second highest sale at the event was made by Mrs. H. R. Westerberg, Ashland, who sold Middle Gately to Albert and Dorothy Hawn, Leeburg, for $600. The average price per sale was $315 for the 40 head of registered guernseys sold. Altogether, $12,630 changed hands at the sale.

Sale committee consisted of Phelan Nelson, Cecil Johnson, Earle Jossy, Lewis Clark, Richard Westerberg and Keith Alsup. Nelson was manager of the sale and Earl O. Walters, Flier, Ida, was auctioneer. Elmer J. Meadows, Portland, field representative of the American Guernsey Cattle club, attended.

Chattanooga, Tenn. — (U.P.) — Don't try to tell Cecil Lyons of Fort Payne, Ala., that smoking isn't expensive. He was fined $100 for smoking in bed at a hotel here.

BIRTHDAYS COINCIDE

Memphis, Tenn. (U.P.) — Two years ago, on her birthday, Mrs. Charles F. Bowers gave birth to a daughter. This year, Mrs. Bowers gave birth to a son on her husband's birthday.

your membership in the Young Old-Timers is in danger. . . . Waiter Hampden. Brilliant Shakespearean actor, Mr. Hampden was born and reared in Brooklyn. Just more proof of my claim that no matter what activity you name it will include a brilliant participant who was born in the beautiful borough across the bridge.

When Bishop Heber wrote the immortal lines, "Where every prospect pleases and only man is vile," what country was he referring to? In the first edition of Heber's hymnbook the passage reads: "What though spicy breezes Blow soft o'er Java's isle Where every prospect pleases And only man is vile?" However, in the original manuscript the country referred to was Ceylon. There seems to be some doubt as to why Bishop Heber changed his locale from Ceylon to Java. Ask your old Sunday school teacher if she knows.

Ever read anything by Winifred Graham? Neither have I. Yet she wrote eighty-eight published books, nearly all novels. She was half way through her eighty-ninth book when she passed on recently in England at the age of 76. . . . It was Bevan who said: "The three worst things in life are false friendships, meat cooked twice and a cackling woman." Billiards. Do you play pool or billiards? How long have you been playing? Have you a favorite cue? William John Peall of Hove, England, has a billiard cue he has been using for seventy-seven years. Mr. Peall is 95 years old. I was once a pool enthusiast. My favorite game was the one called "Chicago pool."

Butte Falls

Butte Falls, Mar. 23—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dyer of Susanville, Cal. are visiting Mr. Dyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pharoah Dyer. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harris have moved into one of Medco's houses.

Kenneth Edmondson of east-Oregon has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Edmondson. He ran into a terrible snow storm on the way over and had to stop his car for over an hour.

PTA met March 13 in the high school auditorium. Boys in Miss Slaney's English class put on a short play, "The Fireman," under her direction. In the cast were Eugene Irwin, Frank Elson, Bud McComb and Francis Poole. George White acted as prompter. A delegation of women of the PTA which was appointed at an earlier meeting visited each school room. A report on the needs of each room was given by Mrs. Ross Bowles. The group went into a lengthy discussion over these problems.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Stoddard are on a business and pleasure trip to Portland and Seattle. While in Seattle they plan to visit their son and family. Charlie Patton and Lowell are visiting Mr. Patton's mother, Mrs. Maggie Patton. They brought her home as she spent part of the winter with them in Astoria and with her daughter in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Pharoah Dyer visited Sunday in Medford with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Casey. he COMPROMISE — Acting Belgian Premier Gaston Eyskens, who is attempting to patch up the Liberal-Social Christian (Catholic) coalition which broke up after the Feb. 12 plebiscite on the return of King Leopold III to the throne is said to be seeking a compromise. Authorities say he wants Leopold to come back from exile and then abdicate immediately in favor of his son, Prince Baudouin (above), 19 years old.

Easter Egg Hunt Plans Due At Meeting Today

Central Point, Mar. 23—Mayor Al Setnes has called a meeting of business men for 7:30 p. m. today at the city hall to discuss plans for an Easter egg hunt in the city park for Central Point youngsters.

It is understood that funds left over from the community Christmas party will be used for the event. Committees may be established at the session tonight. The hunt probably will take place on April 8.

Every fifth male person 14 years of age and over, enumerated in the United States population census starting April 1, will be asked if he is a war veteran.

For whither you goest I will go. And where thou lodgest I will lodge; Thy people shall be my people, And thy God my God. —Book of Ruth.

(It should be kept in mind that these immortal words of devotion were addressed by Ruth to her mother-in-law, Naomi.)

T. P. ("Tax Pay") O'Connor, editor of the London Star, gave George Bernard Shaw his first regular newspaper job. "Tax Pay" thought Shaw was much too radical as an editorial writer so he made him the music critic. Shaw used the non de plume Corno di Bassetto. He didn't take himself seriously on the job. At the end of his first article Shaw wrote, "All complimentary tickets, invitations and bribes especially meant for me should be addressed care of the Star." Augustus Manns, a great orchestra leader of the day, was much annoyed by a Shaw criticism of one of his concerts, and he complained about it. He received a letter from Shaw which said, in part: "Music critics, as you know, are of two sorts, musicians who are no writers, and writers who are no musicians. I belong to the latter class and am astonished and flattered that my irresponsible sallies have attracted your attention." After he had been a music critic for some time and had heard all the great singers of the day, Shaw said that his favorite vocalist was Lotte Gilson, especially when she sang "Tu-Ra-Ra-Boom-De-Ay."

Sidelights. Mrs. Harry Truman, the First Lady, was 33 when married. She waited for the right man for her, and got him. . . . Denise McLaglen, celebrated British show girl, is six feet tall in her nylon. Nevertheless she has a boy friend she can look up to even when she is wearing three-inch heels. The top man in her like is six feet four and a half inches tall. Lucky girl. Not one tall girl in a thousand has a boy friend she can look up to when being kissed good-night.

Asking. Queries from clients: Q. It is true corporal punishment is still practiced in British schools? A. They still use the cane at Eton. Don't know about the rest. Q. Who introduced the song "Loving Joe"? A. Sounds like something Belle Baker used to sing. Wasn't the title "Lovely Joe"? Q. Did Clark Gable ever own a race horse? A. I think Clark once owned a thoroughbred named Beverly Hills. There was also a race horse named Clarcarole, so named in honor of Clark and his wife, Carole Lombard.

Passing By. Deanna Durbin. Only 28 now but a veteran film star. Deanna made her first hit in "Three Smart Girls." Can you name the year that was produced? If not,
