Jean Hart's Diary

Sunday March 26

Easter Sunday is just two weeks from today. And I DO have wonderful Easter news for you. Of course I hate to admit it... but even a persevering Hart CAN be wrong.

You see... I... I... that is... to get right out with it... I bought too many Spring suits. It was chilly last winter when I was buying Spring suits... and I let my temper run away with my good judgment. So... I'm going to have to REDUCE THE PRICE. And is my judgment red.

There is not a thing wrong with them... except that there are too many of them. Gabardine, striped worsteds, checks... or checked jackets and plain skirts. Box jackets or fitted jackets... in fact almost any style you have hoped to have for an Easter suit... They WERE $35 to $79.95... from now until Easter they are $25 to $59.95.

So get your reservation for the Easter Parade... you can afford to with what you will save because I was a dummy... an Easter dummy?

Easter Cards

We have appropriate kinds for everyone

Stones 206 W. Main

Dear Mrs. Medford:

Everyone likes to do something charming, thoughtful and kindly for their love at Easter . . .

We suggest jewelry . . . scatter pins, perhaps . . . a bit larger than were popular last year . . . in fact quite ornate in a smooth sort of way. Or ear-rings—generous in size and bountiful in glitter.

Or handkerchiefs . . . delicate dainty wisps of lace and linen with hand rolled hems . . . to enclose in an Easter card.

Or scarfs . . . soft as a dream and refreshing as your Easter hat

Or notepaper . . . with daff-o-down-dillies blooming in one corner . . . or tulips primly decorating the border . . . or apple blossoms or dogwood . . . Sprig in an envelope for Easter. With your name on it?
