

63rd Wedding Anniversary Observed By County Couple

Rogue River—Mr. and Mrs. John W. Garrett celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary on March 19 and were dinner guests at the home of their son, Ward Garrett, on Pine street. They were married at Paul's Valley, Oklahoma, in 1887, which was the town nearest the railroad construction camp, in which they lived.

Mrs. Garrett remembers that her father, Jonathan Marney, was grading the roadbed for the railroad which was being constructed from Arkansas City, Kan., to Gainsville, Tex., at that time. The grading was done with horses and John Garrett was one of the drivers employed by her father.

The couple lived in Kansas until 1919, when they moved to Oregon, bringing with them their youngest son, Ward. Eight of their children remained in Kansas, when they left but some have since moved to the west coast.

The Garretts proudly exhibited two prized pictures, one a tintype taken when they were first married, the other a picture of the three Garrett brothers, John W. Garrett of Rogue River, age 89, W. E. Garrett of Redwood Highway, age 91 and Edward Garrett of Virginia, age 68. The picture was taken three years ago when Edward came west to visit, and the brothers met after a separation of more than 40 years.

Among the friends who called at the Garrett home during the day were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young whose wedding anniversary falls on the same date. The Youngs were married 29 years ago and since coming to Rogue River in 1933 the two couples have been celebrating their wedding anniversaries together.

Joint Installation Set By Woodcraft Neighbors Of Three Valley Cities

Phoenix—At a recent meeting of the Neighbor of Woodcraft lodge of Phoenix plans were made for an installation service to be held at their hall in April. Both the Medford and Ashland circles will join by bringing their officers to Phoenix for installation, with Mrs. George Drake of the local order acting as installing officer.

Committees appointed to have charge of the arrangements of the affair: Reception, Mrs. Enid Caster, chairman, Mrs. Lillian Coleman, co-chairman; decoration, Mrs. Helen Norris, Mrs. Jewell Parr, Mrs. Mark Hackney; supper committee, Miss Elva Caster, Mrs. Guy Cobleigh, Mrs. Jewell Parr and Mrs. Etta Parker.

A covered dish supper will precede the business meeting. The local circle will furnish hot dishes, and visiting circles will bring salads and desserts. Meat dishes have been planned.

When cooking canned corn as well as other canned vegetables, use all the liquid that comes in the can, because it contains food value.
